Curing the Philosopher's Disease Richard H. Jones, 2009-09-28 Curing the Philosopher's Disease is a philosophical examination of the mysteries surrounding the foundations of science philosophy and religion Much of Western philosophy and science is discussed in order to see our epistemological and metaphysical situation The love hate relation philosophers have with mystery is explored as are the contributions of reductionists and antireductionists postmodern relativists and critical realists naturalists and the religious and theologians and mystics The thrust of the arguments affirms that there are limits to what philosophy science religion and mystical experiences can tell us about reality By acknowledging that some questions may be unanswerable and understanding the importance of that fact even as the answers remain ambiguous our true situation in the world is revealed Mystery should be reinstated as a basic feature when we reflect upon the nature of what we know and who we are Mystery frames all of our claims to fundamental knowledge and we must accept that it will remain a permanent fixture Thus the importance of mystery needs to be reaffirmed today during an era when the fullness of reality is often ignored

Felser, 2011-04-01 From Christian believers in the Apocalypse and the Rapture to New Age enthusiasts of prophecies concerning the year 2012 Doomsday lore has been a part of culture a myth that colors how we perceive the world Why do we remain obsessed with Doomsday myths even when they fail to materialize What if we haven't recognized the true message of these myths Blending history psychology metaphysics and story philosopher and author Joseph Felser explores the spiritual questions raised by these enduring myths Along the way he consults the work of Joseph Campbell Carl Jung Marie Louise von Franz Black Elk Wovoka Itzhak Bentov Jane Roberts Seth Hermann Hesse Ingo Swann David Bohm Fred Alan Wolf J Allen Boone William James and Robert Monroe through ever widening circles of understanding Felser suggests that our obsession with The End of the World hides a repressed healthy longing for reconciliation with our inner and outer worlds with nature and our own natural spirituality He urges us to recognize and act upon that longing When we begin to listen to nature's voice and pay heed to our own dreams including visions intuitions and instinctive promptings the greatest revolution in all history will unfold We can create a future of our own choosing a beginning rather than an ending

The Problem of Existence Arthur Witherall, 2017-03-02 This book explores the question of why there is something instead of nothing Several responses to this question are possible but only some of them address the question seriously respecting its emotional aspects as well as its cognitive dimension The author carefully distinguishes those answers that are truly satisfactory in both respects from those that are inadequate It can be argued that the existence of the world has no explanation at all or that there is a necessary being whose existence is self explanatory or that the world exists because it has value Each kind of response is defensible to some degree and it is argued that where they are defensible they have a common content Incorporating aspects of both the analytical and continental traditions this book also responds to several historical philosophers concerned with these questions including Plato Leibniz Kant and Nietzsche

Scarborough, 2022-06-14 As a man thinks so is he Personally and socially so is he Yet if this is true then as a man thinks has led us into the thick of global crisis What exactly is it about our thinking that fails us What has gone so wrong There are firm reasons why we may hope for new direction Firstly we have a new view of the connectedness of all things Never before has this encompassed so much It makes a crucial difference to philosophy Secondly when we recast philosophy s high level concepts in more concrete terms it becomes possible to discuss them without confusion This is the method of this book There is much of interest for the theologian too Legendary film director Ingmar Bergman once wrote What will happen to us who want to believe but can not His can not had to do with what Professor Karen Barad calls the hegemony of physics Everything Briefly details why it is impossible in fact to believe in a closed universe of cause and effect
