Daniels, 2000-04 This book brings together the voices of a highly diverse group of scholars to reflect on the culturally and politically charged concept of fatherlessness in contemporary American politics THE MISSING FATHERS Stacy M. Amewoyi, 2021-05-26 In the third part of this novel series Stacy M Amewoyi brought up stories of prominent figures now who have achieved a lot even though their fathers were not available and example is the former President of the United States Barack Obama his story was captured he was raised by a single mother and also grandparents but wished he had his father involved so well in his upbringing However she called for more of the kids who had no father growing up but managed to succeed in life to forgive and reconnect further with their biological parents Among the Tartar Tents, Or, The Lost Fathers. A Tale Anne Bowman, 1861 Absent Fathers, Lost Sons Guy Corneau, 2018-03-27 A Jungian analyst examines masculine identity and the psychological repercussions of fatherlessness whether literal spiritual or emotional in the baby boom generation An experience of the fragility of conventional images of masculinity is something many modern men share Psychoanalyst Guy Corneau traces this experience to an even deeper feeling men have of their fathers silence or absence sometimes literal but especially emotional and spiritual Why is this feeling so profound in the lives of the postwar baby boom generation men who are now approaching middle age Because he says this generation marks a critical phase in the loss of the masculine initiation rituals that in the past ensured a boy's passage into manhood In his engaging examination of the many different ways this missing link manifests in men's lives Corneau shows that for men today regaining the essential second birth into manhood lies in gaining the ability to be a father to themselves not only as a means of healing psychological pain but as a necessary step in the process of becoming whole The Myth of the Missing Black Father Roberta L. Coles, Charles St. Clair Green, 2010 Common stereotypes portray black fathers as being largely absent from their families Yet while black fathers are less likely than white and Hispanic fathers to marry their child's mother many continue to parent through cohabitation and visitation providing caretaking financial and other in kind support This volume captures the meaning and practice of black fatherhood in its many manifestations exploring two parent families cohabitation single custodial fathering stepfathering noncustodial visitation and parenting by extended family members and friends Contributors examine ways that black men perceive and decipher their parenting responsibilities paying careful attention to psychosocial economic and political factors that affect the ability to parent Chapters compare the diversity of African American fatherhood with negative portrayals in politics academia and literature and through qualitative analysis and original profiles illustrate the struggle and intent of many black fathers to be responsible caregivers This collection also includes interviews with daughters of absent fathers and concludes with the effects of certain policy decisions on responsible parenting biographies of Barack Obama this first interdisciplinary study of Obama's Indonesian and Hawaiian years examines their effect on his adult character, political identity and global world view. The first 18 years of President Obama's life from his birth in 1961 to his departure for college in 1979 were spent in Hawaii and Indonesia. These years fundamentally shaped the traits for which the adult Obama is noted: his protean identity, his nuanced appreciation of multiple views of the same object, his cosmopolitan breadth of view and his self-rooted outpost patriotism. Barack Obama in Hawaii and Indonesia: The Making of a Global President is the first study to examine in fascinating detail how his early years impacted this unique leader. Existing biographies of President Obama are primarily political treatments. Here, cross-cultural psychologist and marketing consultant Dinesh Sharma explores the connections between Obama's early upbringing and his adult views of civil society, secular Islam and globalization. The book draws on the author's on-the-ground research and extensive first-hand interviews in Jakarta, Honolulu, New York, Washington DC and Chicago to evaluate the multicultural inputs to Obama's character and the ways in which they prepared him to meet the challenges of world leadership in the 21st century.
