The Public General Acts and General Synod Measures
Great Britain,1995 Architect's Legal Handbook Anthony Speaight,2012-07-26 The Architect s Legal Handbook is the established leading textbook on law for architectural students and most widely used reference on the law for architects in practice This eighth edition includes all the latest developments in the law that effect an architect s work A key addition is a greatly expanded section on adjudication a topic that has become hugely important in the last few years The book also builds on the comprehensive coverage of all UK law with editors for Scotland and Northern Ireland expanding their sections

Planning Act 2008 U K Stationery Office,2008-12 Parts 1 to 8 of the Planning Act 2008 create a new system of development consent for nationally significant infrastructure projects The new system covers certain types of energy transport water waste water and waste projects The number of applications and permits required for such projects is being reduced compared with the position under current legislation A major role in the new system is to be played by a new independent body to be called the Infrastructure Planning Commission the Commission The Commission will be responsible for examining applications for development consent for nationally significant infrastructure projects National policy statements will set the framework for decisions by the Commission The Secretary of State will have a wide discretion as to how prescriptive the policy should be The Act sets out the procedures for examination of an application It is intended that in examining applications greater use is made of written representations with less reliance on oral representations and restrictions are being placed on the use of cross examination by interested parties at a hearing The Act sets a timetable for examination of applications and decisions A deadline of six months is stipulated for carrying out the examination procedure and a further three months is allowed for a Council consisting of between five and nine Commissioners a Panel or the Secretary of State to take a decision Part 9 of the Act makes various alterations to the existing town and country planning regime Part 10 adds certain matters within the field of town and country planning to the legislative competence of the National Assembly for Wales Part 11 empowers the Secretary of State to establish a Community Infrastructure Levy The Urban Tree Duncan Goodwin,2017-04-07 There is a growing evidence base that documents the social environmental and economic benefits that urban trees can deliver Trees are however under threat today as never before due to competition for space imposed by development other hard infrastructures increased pressure on the availability of financial provision from local authorities and a highly cautious approach to risk management in a modern litigious society It is therefore incumbent upon all of us in construction and urban design disciplines to pursue a set of goals that not only preserve existing trees where we can but also ensure that new plantings are appropriately specified and detailed to enable their successful establishment and growth to productive maturity Aimed at developers urban planners urban designers landscape architects and arboriculturists this book takes a candid look at the benefits that trees provide alongside the threats that are eliminating them from our towns and cities It takes a simple applied approach that explores a combination of science and practical experience to help ensure a pragmatic and reasoned approach to decision making in terms of tree selection specification placement and establishment In this way trees can successfully be incorporated within our urban landscapes so that we can continue to reap the benefits they provide Access to the Historic Environment: Meeting the Needs of Disabled People

Lisa Foster, Patrick Nuttgens, 2016-01-08 Access for disabled people in historic settings is more than just a temporary ramp over the front steps for a wheelchair user It is a commitment to create integrated use and enjoyment of historic monuments for everyone including people with mobility or sensory impairments older people parents with small children or those temporarily disabled as a result of illness or injury This book examines flexible and pragmatic solutions to improve circulation in buildings by overcoming level changes addition of handrails and other facilities which achieve the basic goal of dignified access and which protect a building's special architectural character It features practical guidelines and illustrated case study material with examples of how to improve access in different types of historic buildings including Georgian and neo classical buildings historic monuments country houses gardens and landscapes Halsbury's Statutes of England and Wales

Great Britain, 1985 Welsh Planning Law and Practice Graham Walters, 2017-09-15 Welsh Planning Law and Practice provides a comprehensive guide to the sources and structure of Welsh planning law and a route through its complexity This is not a comparative study but rather deals with legislation and policy affecting land in Wales placing them in the context of shared principles and concepts and the case law common to England and Wales More than an academic exercise planning is a practical matter affecting important aspects of daily life and the desirability of public engagement in the planning process is well settled This book contributes to the promotion of recognition of the body of Welsh planning law to aid accessibility for all who practise in or who are or want to be involved in shaping development in Wales The Legal

Architecture of English Cathedrals Norman Doe, 2017-08-15 This original book is a comprehensive richly documented and critical examination of laws applicable to Anglican cathedrals in England some of the most iconic monuments in the national heritage and centres of spiritual and cultural capital Law is the missing link in the emerging field of cathedral studies The book fills this gap It explores historical antecedents of modern cathedral law traces aspects of them that still endure and explains the law with particular reference to the recommendations of the Archbishops Commission on Cathedrals 1994 which led to the most radical changes in the legal history of these churches since the Reformation culminating in the Cathedrals Measure 1999 and associated later legislation The book compares the domestic constitutions and statutes of all the cathedrals of the Church of England today old foundations new foundations and parish church cathedrals as well as policies and guidelines applicable to or adopted by them Whilst national law acts as a fundamental unifying force there is considerable diversity as between these in terms of the breadth and depth of their coverage of topics In the socio legal tradition the book also explores through interviews with clergy and others at half of the cathedrals how laws are experienced in practice These reveal that whilst much of the law is perceived as working well there are equally key areas of concern To this end the book proposes areas for further research and debate with a view to possible reform Taking an architectural feature of cathedrals as the starting point for each chapter from cathedral governance through mission ministry music and education to cathedral property what emerges is that law and architecture have a symbiotic relationship so that a cathedral is itself a form of juristecture

Housing Regeneration V. Charles Ward, 2018-02-06 Written from an in house perspective in response to the UK Government Housing White Paper released in February 2017 Housing Regeneration A Plan for Implementation presents sustainable solutions to Britain's housing crisis and will be a useful practical guide for anyone involved in the process of regeneration Taking as its starting point an idea for a housing regeneration scheme it provides an overview of each of the issues to be considered and the options for addressing them In clear and concise language it explains the issues and work involved in a regeneration scheme answering questions such as who is involved how is it paid for what options are available and importantly what are the risks It will appeal to lawyers councillors town planners surveyors chief officers finance officers procurement officers project managers and students amongst others

Critical Built Heritage Practice and Conservation Johnathan Djabarouti, 2024-01-23 Critical Built Heritage Practice and Conservation Evolving Perspectives supports an alternative point of departure for engaging with the historic built environment by critically questioning the legitimacy of dominant conservation concepts and methods that are often taken for granted within building conservation architecture and adaptive reuse The meaning of heritage is changing From pastness to presentness from preservation to participation and from tangible to intangible heritage is increasingly understood as a dynamic social and intangible process across many disciplines Consequently the role and remit of the built heritage practitioner and in particular the architectural conservationist is becoming progressively complex and in need of a critical gaze Is restoration really a falsehood from beginning to end Should the condition of existing materials determine the conservation method Is authenticity really an inherent quality within old buildings By engaging with a critical interpretation of heritage this book makes space for practitioners to consider the evolution of their own role within a rapidly changing context of built heritage practice Reinforced by a shift in emphasis from materials to meanings a socio material outlook is proposed which champions an enhanced focus on intangible heritage within the built heritage sector whilst still acknowledging the physical condition of old buildings is a priority for many stakeholders. This book has been written with practitioners, students and educators of architectural conservation in mind, although it will also be of relevance to the broader built heritage industry as well as academics, researchers and heritage students with a passion for contemporary dialogues in heritage studies.
