Midwives Coping with Loss and Grief Doreen Kenworthy, Mavis Kirkham, 2019-01-22 The experience of stillbirth and other losses in pregnancy at what is usually a time of great joy is tragic for everyone involved including midwifery professionals Although research increasingly shows how profound the effects of loss can be few studies have explored the effects of pregnancy loss which often leads to other personal and professional traumas such as loss of autonomy or a workplace on midwives This in depth investigation uses a phenomenological approach to capture midwives experiences of loss and grief in their own words and encompasses both pregnancy loss and wider professional and personal issues It then makes recommendations to enhance midwives resilience and ability to cope appropriately whilst giving maximum support to their clients Reflections on the emerging implications for midwifery education and practice further broaden the scope of the analysis The insights in this book will be of great use to midwifery managers and supervisors They will also help midwives to nurture themselves their colleagues and their clients at a time when pressures on the service can leave support lacking The devastating experience of losing a baby for women and their families is something that as midwives we strive to understand in order to provide appropriate practical and emotional support Doreen and Mavis encourage us to consider how we are affected by the grief of others at a deeply personal level Ultimately the message in this book is one of hope through reflection and the sharing of experiences midwives who have been with women whose babies have died can regain their personal strength and learn to re shape memories in ways that contribute to personal growth and understanding A From the Foreword by Nicky Leap

Bereavement, Loss and Learning Disabilities Robin Grey,2010 Losing a loved one and coping with the subsequent adjustments that follow are a difficult fact of life but people with learning disabilities face specific difficulties in processing and managing these changes Adopting an integrative approach this book acknowledges the importance of helping relationships in supporting this vulnerable group through periods of loss and bereavement The author explains how to engage the person with a learning disability in talking therapy by creating an open dialogue Common signs of stress factors to consider in assessing risk and advice on how best to approach difficult subjects are presented The role of supervision in counselling and issues surrounding terminal illness are also discussed and practical solutions offered Professionals working in the field of learning disabilities such as counsellors therapists carers and health and social care students will find this informed guide beneficial in communicating and supporting people with learning disabilities Loss, Bereavement and Grief

Bob Spall,Stephen Callis,1997 Helps the reader to confront and address the personal issues of experienced and feared loss thus enabling them as a professional carer to work more effectively with others Presents a clear insight into the links between theoretical personal and professional issues Provides highly practical guidance on coping with the most difficult situations Structured questions are designed to trigger consideration of key issues Handling Death and Bereavement at Work David Charles-Edwards,2005 This is a uniquely invaluable book which tackles how death and bereavement can affect the workplace It is a sensitive and constructive text for dealing with issues that touch all working lives Loss and Bereavement in Childbearing Rosemary Mander,2007-04-11 This new edition of a groundbreaking work reflects important developments in the general understanding of and research into loss and death Providing a wealth of information for both experienced and inexperienced midwives the book covers topics including perinatal and neonatal loss miscarriage and termination for foetal abnormality death of a mother in third world and first world settings difficulties encountered during future childbearing Combining an authoritative research based orientation with a critical yet human approach to this sensitive topic the book aids midwives in providing effective care and support to those who experience loss The author draws on relevant and largely research based literature from a wide range of related disciplines to inform this area which is only now receiving the attention it has long deserved Illuminating the Diversity of Cancer and Palliative Care Education Lorna Foyle, Janis Hostad, 2018-04-19 Illuminating the Diversity of Cancer and Palliative Care Education examines a myriad of original approaches techniques methods educational strategies and imaginative innovations within this vital field of medicine Its contributors share a range of educational techniques and tactics from Neuro Linguistic Programming to creative teaching strategies for bereavement support allowing readers to reflect on best practice and inventive ways of working which can be used or adapted to suit This book is an ideal companion to its sister volumes Innovations in Cancer and Palliative Care Education and Delivering Cancer and Palliative Care Education "Understanding Loss and Managing Change", 1995

Loss, Change and Grief Erica Brown, 2012-11-12 First Published in 1999 Helping children come to terms with and be aware of loss change and grief is an undeveloped area within education although they are universal features of human experience Here the author fosters a positive attitude to teaching and learning about such issues She explores many experiences of loss and grief and different beliefs and practices are discussed so that the reader can gain a better understanding of how children grieve She also provides suggestions for ways in which this topic can be taught within the school curriculum and offers practical suggestions for effective professional collaboration Handbook of Death and Dying Clifton D. Bryant, 2003-10 Dying is a social as well as physiological phenomenon Each society characterizes and consequently treats death and dying in its own individual ways ways that differ markedly These particular patterns of death and dying engender modal cultural responses and such institutionalized behavior has familiar economical educational religious and political implications The Handbook of Death and Dying takes stock of the vast literature in the field of thanatology arranging and synthesizing what has been an unwieldy body of knowledge into a concise yet comprehensive reference work This two volume handbook will provide direction and momentum to the study of death related behavior for many years to come Key Features More than 100 contributors representing authoritative expertise in a diverse array of disciplines Anthropology Family Studies History Law Medicine Mortuary Science Philosophy Psychology Social work Sociology Theology A distinguished editorial board of leading scholars and researchers in the field More than 100 definitive essays covering almost every dimension of death related behavior Comprehensive and inclusive exploring concepts and social patterns within the larger topical concern Journal article length essays that address topics with appropriate detail Multidisciplinary and cross cultural coverage Ward-based Critical Care: a guide for health professionals Ann M Price, Dr Sally A Smith, Dr Alistair Challiner, 2016-01-01 Like the original Ward based Critical Care this second edition aims to guide practitioners in the initial management of critically ill adult patients within the ward setting It should be of value to a wide range of healthcare professionals including junior doctors nurses physiotherapists and students It will also be relevant to practitioners who are moving into any setting that cares for acutely ill patients This volume has been slightly reorganised since the first edition to ensure that practical aspects are incorporated within the relevant sections The book is still structured around the ABCDE approach to assessing and managing patients as this is promoted in critical care and resuscitation care training The focus on practical examples and hot tips to aid memory of key points continues All the chapters have been updated with the most recent guidance as available at the time of writing This has meant that some chapters have required major revisions while others have remained relatively unchanged Some new chapters have been included such as the ones on anaphylactic shock patient safety dealing with pregnant women in the ward setting and massive blood transfusion In addition each section now starts with a chapter giving an overview of the A E approach in order to provide more detail about assessing and managing those aspects of patient care This informative book contains many useful features such as clinical scenarios hot tips and practical skills and the text is richly illustrated and cross referenced throughout

Good Practices in Palliative Care David Oliviere, Rosalind Hargreaves, 2017-03-02 A team of two practitioners in psychosocial palliative care and an academic have drawn together the work of twenty eight highly experienced practitioners Good Practices in Palliative Care a psychosocial perspective provides detailed descriptions of innovatory practices and how they were developed together with clear practice principles This unique contribution to palliative care literature is suitable for a wide range of health and social care professionals at student and experienced levels and is written in a user friendly style

Managing Death: International Perspectives Gerry R. Cox, Neil Thompson, 2022-09-23 There is a huge collection of literature relating to death grief and bereavement but one aspect that has received relatively little attention is that of death management practices by which we mean the various ways of managing the circumstances of the death ritually acknowledging it and sensitively handling the disposal of the body and so on While ways of disposing of the dead and grief practices have been thought of as based upon individual responses grief and bereavement practices can be understood not only by looking at psychological and medical frameworks but also by examining people as part of a complex structure of social arrangements institutions structures and patterns By examining the social and institutional structures of various groups around the world we provide an international framework for a better understanding of the study of dying death and bereavement This book highlights the significance of these matters in an international context reflecting common themes and important differences It will highlight common themes across diverse cultures and national settings while also drawing attention to significant differences If professionals working in the field of death grief and bereavement are not aware of such differences their practice can be insensitive discriminatory and therefore ineffective if not actually counterproductive As such the book provides an invaluable resource for a wide variety of professionals and students including medicine and health care social work counselling and psychotherapy chaplaincy and pastoral work and of course those involved in the funeral industry In addition students of sociology psychology and anthropology will find much of interest here in terms of appreciating the diversity of ways in which funerals and other death management practices are managed and integrated into social life

Supporting Young People Coping with Grief, Loss and Death Deborah Weymont, Tina Rae, 2006-06-15 Includes CD Rom This book provides an excellent resource for secondary schools to be used in supporting young people coping with grief loss and death Educational Psychology in Practice As the importance of emotional literacy is better established in schools as a pre requisite for improving achievement the PSCE curriculum is increasingly used to offer young people opportunities to express and manage their strong feelings This book by two experienced and talented authors has been derived from their research and practical work with teenagers It provides students aged 11 to 18 with an opportunity to consider the effects of grief loss and death develop the ability to talk about acknowledge and manage the feelings associated with the grieving process maintain mental health and resilience Most important is the emphasis on the development of emotional literacy skills and specifically the development of an emotional vocabulary empathy tolerance and resilience The focus on death and loss and the process of grieving is central to the course The way in which supporting materials are sensitively illustrated and designed for easy differentiation is also a key feature Teacher facilitator notes copiable activities and all resources are provided for the 10 sessions which can be delivered to either the whole class or to smaller groups of students Tina Rae is a Senior Educational Psychologist based in Hillingdon Deborah Weymont is a teacher based in Bristol
