event of our time the rise and triumph of human empire the apotheosis of the modern ambition to increase knowledge and power in order to achieve world domination Confronting an intensely humanized world was a singular event of consciousness which Williams explores through the lives and works of three writers of the late nineteenth century Jules Verne William Morris and Robert Louis Stevenson As the century drew to a close these writers were unhappy with the direction in which their world seemed to be headed and worried that organized humanity would use knowledge and power for unworthy ends In response Williams shows each engaged in a lifelong quest to make a home in the midst of human empire to transcend it and most of all to understand it They accomplished this first by taking to the water in life and in art the transition from land to water offered them release from the condition of human domination At the same time each writer transformed his world by exploring the literary boundary between realism and romance Williams shows how Verne Morris and Stevenson experimented with romance and fantasy and how these traditions allowed them to express their growing awareness of the need for a new relationship between humans and Earth The Triumph of Human Empire shows that for these writers and their readers romance was an exceptionally powerful way of grappling with the political technical and environmental situations of modernity As environmental consciousness rises in our time along with evidence that our seeming control over nature is pathological and unpredictable Williams s history is one that speaks very much to the present

Subject Catalog Library of Congress,1979 Jules Verne Timothy A. Unwin,2005-01-01 Jules Verne s reputation undergoes a much needed rehabilitation in the hands of Timothy Unwin who reexamines the author s work from his earliest writings to his later and only recently discovered manuscripts Verne was Unwin argues a master of the self conscious novel his work a pastiche of science discourse fictional and non fictional writings and flamboyant theatrical narrative Unwin makes a compelling case for Verne as a master of the nineteenth century experimental novel in the company of Gustave Flaubert and other canonical French writers The text will be a wonderful addition to the shelves of those interested in science fiction experimental writing and critical theory
