Ocean of Destiny Arthur Lower, 2011-11-01 The modern history of the North Pacific began five hundred years ago when Europeans sailed into the ocean for the first time This discovery shaped the destinies of seven countries that now rim its Asiatic and North American shores Russia China Japan North Korea South Korea the United States and Canada Their history is an exciting epic of discovery the great expeditions of Marco Polo Drake and Magellan the quest for the spices of Cathay the early days of the fur trade the gold rush and the long treks westward across North America to first establish Canadian and American possessions on the Pacific shore Rivalry and confrontation were part of this epic From the sixteenth to the nineteenth century European powers contested for the riches of the East and the West the wealth of the ocean and territory to sate colonial ambitions Since that time full blooded conflicts developed between Asian states and between Asia and the Western powers As a major trading power in the Pacific with no tradition of territorial expansion and as a respected peacekeeper Canada is in a unique position to view the history of the Pacific impartially This survey is doubly valuable not only as the first history of the North Pacific dealing with the concurrent events in the East and West but also as a history reflecting Canada's international outlook

Turner, 2005 The European explorers who first visited the Northwest Coast of North America assumed that the entire region was virtually untouched wilderness whose occupants used the land only minimally hunting and gathering shoots roots and berries that were peripheral to a diet and culture focused on salmon Colonizers who followed the explorers used these claims to justify the displacement of Native groups from their lands Scholars now understand however that Northwest Coast peoples were actively cultivating plants well before their first contact with Europeans This book is the first comprehensive overview of how Northwest Coast Native Americans managed the landscape and cared for the plant communities on which they depended Bringing together some of the world's most prominent specialists on Northwest Coast cultures Keeping It Living tells the story of traditional plant cultivation practices found from the Oregon coast to Southeast Alaska It explores tobacco gardens among the Haida and Tlingit managed camas plots among the Coast Salish of Puget Sound and the Strait of Georgia estuarine root gardens along the central coast of British Columbia wapato maintenance on the Columbia and Fraser Rivers and tended berry plots up and down the entire coast With contributions from ethnobotanists archaeologists anthropologists geographers ecologists and Native American scholars and elders Keeping It Living documents practices many unknown to European peoples that involve manipulating plants as well as their environments in ways that enhanced culturally preferred plants and plant communities It describes how indigenous peoples of this region used and cared for over 300 different species of plants from the lofty red cedar to diminutive plants of backwater bogs

Canadian Books in Print 2002 Marian Butler, 2002-02      God's Little Ships Michael L. Hadley, 1995 The men and women of the Columbia Coast Mission ships legendary figures in the history of the BC coast are brought vividly to life in this readable well researched volume From 1904 to the mid 1970s the mission sent out ships in all kinds of weather delivering medical care and non sectarian spiritual support to logging camps Native villages and white settlements in 20 000 square miles of rugged coastline John Antle who founded the mission was a devout and practical Christian who measured his success in services to BC's outposts rather than material wealth or number of converts Immortalized in Margaret Craven's I Heard the Owl Call My Name and in the hearts and memories of families all over the coast the mission was a glad bold organization that could be as rough cut and unconventional as the individuals it served
