Handbook of Stressful Transitions Across the Lifespan Thomas W. Miller,2009-11-28 This volume provides a unique and valuable contribution to our understanding of the impact of stressful life events and mass trauma on the person the culture and society in the course of the life span It provides a comprehensive look at our psychological state of affairs at the beginning of the twenty first century There are several volumes that address some or most of these areas individually but this volume is unique in that it has brought together theoreticians researchers and clinicians who address critical challenges in our lives But we are now several months into the global financial crisis requiring a transition not only for the western world but for the third world How on earth do families in trauma zones from Sri Lanka to Afghanistan New Orleans to Gaza cope with similar declining older relatives with added traumas and zero medical resources attempt to survive In news reports politicians and financiers denying the inevitable and struggling for solutions that cannot be relevant to the new reality that they have yet to discover From Rodinia to Pangea Richard P. Tollo, 2010 The Appalachians constitute one of Earth's major tectonic features and have served as a springboard for innovative geologic thought for more than 170 years. This volume contains 36 original papers reporting the results of research performed throughout nearly the entire length and breadth of the Appalachian region, including all major provinces and geographical areas. Memoir 206 was designed to commemorate the near fortieth anniversary of the publication of the classic Studies of Appalachian Geology volumes that appeared just prior to the application of plate tectonic concepts to the region. Contributions concerning structural evolution, sedimentation, stratigraphy, magmatic processes, metamorphism, tectonics, and terrane accretion illustrate the wide range of ongoing research in the area and collectively serve to mark the considerable progress in scientific thought that has occurred during the past four decades. pub desc Where the Great River Rises Rebecca A. Behler, 2023-04-07 Leading Dynamic Information Literacy Programs delves into the library instruction coordinator's work. Each chapter is written by practicing coordinators who share their experiences leading information literacy programs that are nimble, responsive, and supportive of student learning. The volume discusses the work of instruction coordinators within five thematic areas: Claiming our Space, Library Instruction in the Landscape of Higher Education, Moving and Growing Together, Curriculum Development, Meaningful Assessment, and Leading Change. Readers will gain insight from their colleagues' advice for situating information literacy within the higher education institution, developing meaningful curricula, and using assessment in productive ways. Many of the stories represent a departure from traditional models of library instruction. In addition, this book is sure to spark inspiration for innovative approaches to program leadership and development, including strategies for growing communities of practice, leadership skills and techniques, methods for cultivating shared values, pedagogical approaches, team building, assessment strategies, and everything in between. The aspiring or practicing instruction coordinator has much to gain from reading this work Index Medicus, 2004
