Transforming Faith Communities Michael Ian Bochenski,2017-09-28 Transforming Faith Communities draws upon a model for the church that combines congregationalism with a constructive approach to church state relationships within a vision for a renewed Christendom commended as a viable option for Christian mission in the twenty first century world Michael Ian Bochenski uses two movements to make his case sixteenth century Anabaptism and late twentieth century Latin American liberation theology Each movement is held up as a mirror to the other in a vision for the transformation of church and society that resonates powerfully with contemporary culture Outlining the development of radical religious communities Bochenski examines some of the factors that create world affirming Christian faith communities and explores many examples of effective and constructive engagement with church and society across the centuries

Congregational Music, Conflict and Community Jonathan Dueck,2017-04-28 Congregational Music Conflict and Community is the first study of the music of the contemporary worship wars conflicts over church music that continue to animate and divide Protestants today to be based on long term in person observation and interviews It tells the story of the musical lives of three Canadian Mennonite congregations who sang together despite their musical differences at the height of these debates in the late 1990s and early 2000s Mennonites are among the most music centered Christian groups in North America and each congregation felt deeply about the music they chose as their own The congregations studied span the spectrum from traditional to blended to contemporary worship styles and from evangelical to liberal Protestant theologies At their core the book argues worship wars are not fought in order to please congregants musical tastes nor to satisfy the theological principles held by a denomination Instead the relationships and meanings shaped through individuals experiences singing in the particular ways afforded by each style of worship are most profoundly at stake in the worship wars As such this book will be of keen interest to scholars working across the fields of religious studies and ethnomusicology

Faith in Action Richard L. Wood,2002-09-15 Over the past fifteen years associations throughout the U S have organized citizens around issues of equality and social justice often through local churches But in contrast to President Bush s vision of faith based activism in which groups deliver social services to the needy these associations do something greater Drawing on institutions of faith they reshape public policies that neglect the disadvantaged To find out how this faith based form of community organizing succeeds Richard L Wood spent several years working with two local groups in Oakland California the faith based Pacific Institute for Community Organization and the race based Center for Third World Organizing Comparing their activist techniques and achievements Wood argues that the alternative cultures and strategies of these two groups give them radically different access to community ties and social capital Creative and insightful Faith in Action shows how community activism and religious organizations can help build a more just and democratic future for all Americans The Grace of Playing Courtney T. Goto, 2016-02-10 Believers and teachers of faith regularly know the in breaking of God's Spirit in their midst when revelatory experiencing unexpectedly shifts habits of thinking feeling and doing toward more life giving ways of being and becoming When the moment is right Spirit breathes new life into dry bones Though religious educators have much practical wisdom about facilitating learning that is creative and transformative sharper concepts cases and theory can help them do it more critically and assist learners to practice openness to wonder surprise and authenticity The Grace of Playing explains how we can create the conditions for revelatory experiencing by understanding it in light of playing The notion of playing as if can be powerfully reclaimed from ecclesial ambivalence casual speech and commercial interests that often lead playing to be associated with childishness frivolity or entertainment This book theorizes adults playing for the sake of faith drawing on D W Winnicott's psychoanalytic theory a revision of Jurgen Moltmann's theology of play biblical texts medieval devotional practices as well as art and aesthetics that help local faith communities engage in theological reflection Communal forms of playing in at God's new creation provide insights into pedagogies in which learners are creating and are created anew Human Development and Faith (Second Edition) Felicity B. Kelcourse, 2015-07-28 This book now in its second edition brings together the best available understandings of human development from a multidisciplinary perspective Uniquely inclusive of the moral and faith dimensions of context and life cycle development Human Development and Faith examines the interplay of mind body family community and soul at every stage of development It addresses two central questions What are the good enough conditions of parenting family and community in each phase of life from birth to death which support growth and development What gives life adequate meaning as development proceeds If human development describes the normative and hoped for passages of life then faith provides the necessary component of meaning Throughout the various perspectives offered in this volume is the premise that faith is that quality of living that makes it possible to fully live The Journal of Pastoral Theology called the first edition of Human Development and Faith an excellent text for pastoral theology courses because it fulfills its ambitious goal of bringing a holistic faith perspective to the usual topics of development This second edition includes a new chapter on infancy updates reflecting our growing awareness of cultural diversity and a new preface Community Building in the Twenty-first Century Stanley Hyland (Ph. D.), 2005 Community has long been a critical concept for social scientists and never more so amid the growing economic inequity natural and human disasters and warfare of the opening years of the twenty first century In this volume leading scholar activists develop a conceptual framework for both the theory and practice of building communities Rethinking the very concept in light of technological change and globalization they examine local responses to worldwide trends study the ways that communities generate and use resources and evaluate existing theories and approaches to community building to determine the best strategies for fostering community strength and vitality Their work with groups ranging from refugees religious charities and poor urban neighborhoods to tribal peoples international corporations and public health agencies demonstrates that local communities contain the seeds for a more desirable future and suggests how we may encourage those seeds to grow

Faith, Hope, Love, and Justice Anselm K. Min, 2018-03-28 Faith hope and love traditionally called theological virtues are central to Christianity This book renews faith hope and love in the context of the many contemporary challenges in many unique ways It is an ecumenical collection of papers equally divided between Catholic and Protestant positions that seek to radically renew the classical doctrine of faith hope and love and argues for their essential connection to the praxis of justice It contains eight different approaches each represented by a distinguished theologian and addressing different aspects of the issues and followed by insightful and critical responses It does not merely seek to renew the theological virtues but to also reconstruct them in the demanding context of justice and the contemporary world nor is it simply a treatise on justice but a theoretical and practical reflection on justice as vital expressions of faith in God hope in God and love of God A non dogmatic and non ideological approach it accommodates both conservative and liberal positions and avoids the separation of the theological virtues from the demands of the contemporary world as well as the separation of justice talk from the theological context of faith hope and love It seeks above all to renew not merely repeat the classical doctrine of faith hope and love in the contemporary context of the urgency of justice and to do so ecumenically comprehensively and from a variety of perspectives and aspects
