Royal Air Force The Past 30 Years:

The Royal Air Force: The Trenchard Years, 1918-1929 Ian M. Philpott, 2005-07-19 The inter war years between 1918 and 1939 saw the newly created Royal Air Force fighting for its very existence politically being dispatched to the remotest corners of the British Empire and its Protectorates in various policing roles and then finally engaged in a headlong rush to modernize in the face of the new German Fascist regime that was threatening British and European freedom Yet this important period in RAF history and its effect on political and military rationale during the period has never been completely documented This exhaustive and comprehensive reference is the most detailed work to be published on the subject The author gives full information on the changing structure of the Force during the period squadron operations political machinations and their effects the airplanes and their equipment the personnel technical advances in navigation and breakthroughs achieved in engine performance The book is cross referenced throughout extremely well illustrated and contains an abundance of location maps and other diagrams This book will become a Bible for anyone interested in the history of the RAF This work has been reviewed by personnel at the RAF Historical Branch who praise it Royal Air Force Quarterly and Commonwealth Air Forces Journal ,1944

The Royal Air Force at Home Ian Watson, 2010-06-19 Military public relations endeavors ultimately seek to build a sense of common interests and aims and so generally foster good relations with the people they defend and there in ensure a stable society The armed forces when engaging on any public relations exercise have traditionally sought to provide an entertaining spectacle For years this has been typified by parades bands mock battles drill displays and other relevant feats of military prowess which have captured the imagination of the public and inspired potential recruits The 20th Century brought a new dimension to the field of warfare and subsequently added a new strand to the fabric of public ceremony and displays by the armed forces That new dimension was the arrival of powered flight Display flying began within five years of the Wright Brothers making their milestone first flight The first events staged in Britain which centered on demonstrations by flying machines were organized by the town councils of Blackpool and Doncaster and were held within days of each other in October 1909 1920 was the year that the first of the famed and legendary Hendon Air Pageants was staged and this is where military air shows traditionally began The Hendon Displays were organized and staged by the still fledging Royal Air Force and it was probably due in no small part to the prestige and spectacle of this fresh new dimension of military pageantry together with other like events held at RAF airfields through the next two decades that the very existence of the RAF was saved from the threat of abolition The history of the RAF s commitment one that compares almost uniquely with other air forces toward display flying through the years after World War II has now come of age This account of their record in this often overlooked but then again traditional field of military customs describes and illustrates the major public RAF events since 1920 RAF in Camera: 1950s Keith Wilson, 2015-04-30 This photographic record of the RAF during the 1950s looks set to appear widely Featuring varied and dynamic visual representation throughout the events of this important decade are enlivened to great effect The 1950s was a pivotal decade in aviation for many reasons The RAF were employed in a great number of post WWII roles and the beginning of the Cold War saw many advances in the field of developmental aviation The early years of the decade saw the Coronation of HRH Queen Elizabeth II take place and a variety of photographs taken at the Queen s Review flypast at RAF Oldham on the 15 July 1953 are arrayed here Meteors Sabres Chipmunks Canberras Vulcans the list goes on A wide selection of action shots illustrate the impressive aesthetics of some of these aircraft in formation Shots of aircraft utilised during the course of the Cold War also feature as do highly intriguing photographs of the Thor Intermediate Range Ballistic Missiles stored on Bomber Command bases towards the end of the decade Each chapter focusses on a specific year relaying all the most fascinating highlights This is a colourful insightful and image packed history told with narrative flair and a clear passion for the subject matter at hand

A Bibliography of British History, 1914-1989 Keith Robbins, American Historical Association, Royal Historical Society (Great Britain), 1996 Containing over 25 000 entries this unique volume will be absolutely indispensable for all those with an interest in Britain in the twentieth century Accessibly arranged by theme with helpful introductions to each chapter a huge range of topics is covered There is a comprehensive index

'SAM' Marshal of the Royal Air Force the Lord Elworthy Richard Mead, 2018-10-30 Sam Elworthys career was remarkable by any standards Born in New Zealand in 1911 and educated in England he was called to the Bar After learning to fly he joined the RAAF During the Second World War he won the DFC DSO and AFC and after commanding 82 Squadron worked closely with Bomber Harris and General Eisenhower He became an air commodore aged 33 His meteoric rise continued post war Switching to Fighter Command he saw service in India Pakistan and the UK before becoming Commandant of the RAF Staff College By 1960 he was tri service C in C Middle East and his actions prevented the invasion of Kuwait by Iraq As Chief of Air Staff and Chief of defense Staff in the 1960s he fought the Services corner at a difficult political and economic time He secured the long term future of the RAF whose very existence was threatened A hugely respected figure he became a life peer Knight of the Garter and Constable of Windsor Castle He died in 1993 in his native New Zealand This long overdue biography attempts successfully to do justice to a man of great stature integrity and achievement

Land Based Air Power or Aircraft Carriers? Gjert Lage Dyndal, 2016-04-22 During the 1960s in the midst of its retreat from empire the British government had to grapple with complex political and military problems in order to find a strategic defence policy that was both credible and affordable Addressing what was perhaps the most contentious issue within those debates this book charts the arguments that raged between supporters of a land based air power strategy and those who favoured aircraft carriers Drawing upon a wealth of previously classified documents the book reveals how the Admiralty and Air Ministry became interlocked in a bitter political struggle over which of their military strategies could best meet Britain s future foreign policy challenges Whilst the broad story of this inter service rivalry is well known the Air Force's proposal for a series of island based airfields and the Navy championing of a small number of expensive but mobile aircraft carriers the complexity and previous lack of archival sources means that it has until now only ever been partially researched and understood Former studies have largely focused on the cancellation of the CVA 01 carrier programme and offered little depth as regards the Royal Air Force perspectives Given that this was a two Service rivalry which greatly influenced many aspects of British foreign and defence policy decisions of the period this book presents an important and balanced overview of the complex issues involved Through this historical study of the British debate about maritime air power and strategic alternatives in the 1960s the detailed arguments used for and against both alternatives demonstrate clear relevance to both historical and contemporary conceptual debates on carrier forces and land based air power Both from military strategy and inter service relationship perspectives contemporary Britain and many other nations with maritime forces may learn much from this historical case

For the Love of the Air Force Norman Ferguson, 2017-09-14 This miscellany brings together the history of the RAF the people the aviation lingo and time honoured traditions of the force we know today Whether you have RAF experience or you're an enthusiastic supporter from the ground this remarkable volume will be your guide to the oldest independent air force in the world Chocks away

A Military History of the Cold War, 1944-1962 Jonathan M. House, 2014-04-28 The Cold War did not culminate in World War III as so many in the 1950s and 1960s feared yet it spawned a host of military engagements that affected millions of lives This book is the first comprehensive multinational overview of military affairs during the early Cold War beginning with conflicts during World War II in Warsaw Athens and Saigon and ending with the Cuban Missile Crisis A major theme of this account is the relationship between government policy and military preparedness and strategy Author Jonathan M House tells of generals engaging in policy confrontations with their governments political leaders among them Anthony Eden Nikita Khrushchev and John F Kennedy many of whom made military decisions that hamstrung their own political goals In the pressure cooker atmosphere of atomic preparedness politicians as well as soldiers seemed instinctively to prefer military solutions to political problems And national security policies had military implications that took on a life of their own The invasion of South Korea convinced European policy makers that effective deterrence and containment required building up and maintaining credible forces Desire to strengthen the North Atlantic alliance militarily accelerated the rearmament of West Germany and the drive for its sovereignty In addition to examining the major confrontations nuclear and conventional between Washington Moscow and Beijing including the crises over Berlin and Formosa House traces often overlooked military operations against the insurgencies of the era such as French efforts in Indochina and Algeria and British struggles in Malaya Kenya Cyprus and Aden Now more than fifty years after the events House describes understanding the origins and trajectory of the Cold War is as important as ever By the late 1950s the United States had sent forces to Vietnam and the Middle East setting the stage for future conflicts in both regions House's account of the complex relationship between diplomacy and military action directly relates to the insurgencies counterinsurgencies and confrontations that now occupy our attention across the globe

Flight ,1923 Report on the Health of the Royal Air Force ... Great Britain. Air Ministry,1921 Flight & the Aircraft Engineer ,1918 The Aeroplane ,1918 Observers and Navigators C.G. Jefford,2014-05-19 This title first appeared in 2001 to universal acclaim quickly went out of print and has remained so since The author meantime has continued his research and the result is this updated edition over half as long as the first with stacks of new photographs Absolutely essential reference for all those interested in military aviation

Buried in Denmark Mette Magnusson,2017-07-07 During World War II about 300 allied aircrafts crashed over Denmark A little less than 100 crewmembers survived and were rescued to safety i Sweden Approximately 300 crewmembers survived but were subsequently captured by the Germans and taken to a POW camp It is assumed that approximately 500 airmen died in the ocean around Denmark and were never found 1160 dead allied airmen were buried in Denmark 108 allied airmen were buried at Svino Cemetery during the war This little book tells the story of Svin Memorial Grove and some of the destinies attached to this place
