Mireia Tutusaus, 2019-11-28 Whereas the global water community may have reached consensus on the need for water providers to operate on the basis of commercial principles staff of water utilities are faced with the challenge of implementing these principles in their everyday work In the everyday domain these principles appear to directly conflict with the mandate of water operators to provide water services to all Moreover the socio political economic and bio physical context in which these water operate may be ill suited to implement commercialization In pursuing commercialization these operators adapt reinterpret modify deflect alter or betray the original principles of commercialization during implementation This research takes inspiration from the rich literature on policy implementation and policy translation which argues that policy models need to be transformed and modified if they are to be successfully adopted or implemented This research analyzes the alterations visible in the daily implementation of commercial models of water provisioning and in doing so present a better understanding of how water operators implement policy prescriptions of commercialization in practice Based on the analysis of the adaptations and re interpretations of the implemented model of commercialization in the different cases this thesis argues that a new way of speaking about commercialization should be developed      A Complicated War William Finnegan, 1992-02-06 Among Africa s suffering is the little known war in Mozambique now in its second decade Finnegan traveled through the country in 1988 to assess the impact of a war waged by guerrillas who are armed and often directed by South Africa He tells a compelling story of rural misery caused by the war which in turn offers a fertile ground for its continuation Finnegan s narrative includes historical background and critical analysis of the Mozambique government whose policies have not created an inclusive framework for the nation Finnegan is drawn to the conclusion that Mozambique s peasants long have been denied the fruits of peace first under centuries of Portuguese colonialism and now as they are exposed to the current war that is destroying their future      Underdevelopment and the Transition to Socialism James H. Running Dogs and Rose's Children Eric George de Jong, Running Dogs and Rose's Children tell the story of how Eric and wife Jenny are plunged into parenthood after adopting three siblings aged eleven five and one after their mother died of cancer. The new family set about starting over building a family life together from scratch in their rambling farmhouse outside Harare Zimbabwe. Their story was on course for a happily ever after ending until their lives and the lives of those around them were destroyed by Robert Mugabe's war of terror unleashed on white farmers and opposition party members launching an era of economic social and political turmoil which eventually saw the family fleeing the country for fear of being killed. Eric's fierce love of his country and his principles saw him immersing himself in the dangerous opposition politics of the day where elections were rigged and fellow party members were tortured and murdered. Somehow Eric de Jong's irrepressible sense of humour bubbles throughout this absorbing honest and deeply personal account of a growing family of love entrepreneurial success and failure mental illness political exile and the distressing and often absurd collapse of a beautiful African country and stoicism of its people.
