Regional Economic Development Robert J. Stimson, Roger R. Stough, Brian H. Roberts, 2013-03-09 Regional economic development has attracted the interest of economists geographers planners and regional scientists for a long time And of course it is a field that has developed a large practitioner cohort in government and business agencies from the national down to the state and local levels In planning for cities and regions both large and small economic development issues now tend to be integrated into strategic planning processes For at least the last 50 years scholars from various disciplines have theorised about the nature of regional economic development developing a range of models seeking to explain the process of regional economic development and why it is that regions vary so much in their economic structure and performance and how these aspects of a region can change dramatically over time Regional scientists in particular have developed a comprehensive tool kit of methodologies to measure and monitor regional economic characteristics such as industry sectors employment income value of production investment and the like using both quantitative and qualitative methods of analysis and focusing on both static and dynamic analysis The father of regional science Walter Isard was the first to put together a comprehensive volume on techniques of regional analysis Isard 1960 and since then a huge literature has emerged including the many titles in the series published by Springer in which this book is published Spatial and Regional Analysis Methods in Forestry Economics Alex Obiye, Daniel E. fields of Industrial Economics and Industrial Security Management and Regional Science for Economic Development

Manas Chatterji,2012-12-06 The greatest challenge facing mankind today is the immense disparity in the levels of income among people in different parts of the globe The growth rate of income of the poor countries is consistently far below the rate of the advanced industrialized nations Due to low income and a high propensity to consume there is very little left in these countries for investment A major portion of the resources available is devoted to military expenditures This continual decline in the standard of living coupled with poverty and unemployment will lead to social and political upheaval in these countries which affects developed countries Because of high capacity and low population growth the market of the developed countries is already saturated To maintain the high standard of living in the developed countries it is necessary to have a strong and stable developing world It is gratifying to see that both groups of countries see the need for peaceful economic growth however the amount of cooperation between countries and the material help from the developed countries are far from satisfactory The economic and social scientists have investigated the best way to achieve the transformation from a poverty ridden condition to a decent existence Their studies have proceeded in two different directions One is a more descriptive historical analysis and the other is theoretical model building Although these studies have achieved a relatively high level of perfection one significant factor is sometimes missing Handbook of Industrial Development Patrizio Bianchi,Sandrine Labory,Philip R. Tomlinson,2023-01-13 Providing an overview of industrial development using a variety of different approaches and perspectives the Handbook of Industrial Development brings together expert contributors and highlights the current multiple and interdependent challenges that can only be addressed by an interdisciplinary approach Chapters discuss the existing issues faced by industry following both the digital and environmental transitions highlighting their regional roots and the interplay with the wider institutional framework Analysis of the Development of Beijing (2018) Beijing Academy of Social Sciences,2019-07-04 This book provides an overview of the rapid development Beijing has seen in a wide range of areas in 2017 both in itself and as an integral part of a larger region as China's economic development continues to improve in overall quality and regional coordination General reports on progress Beijing made and problems it faced in 2017 in improving its economy public services municipal and community governance urban planning and funding for innovations are followed by case studies that look at best practices and how they can be applied towards promoting coordinated development of the Beijing Tianjin Hebei region The strategy features prominently in the outlook contributors present for the greater metropolitan area of Beijing for 2018 This book is a valuable source of reference for anyone trying to gain a better understanding the what how and why in relation to one of the world's fastest growing mega cities Regional Development and Plan Evaluation United States.
