New Regionalism in Australia Mardelene Grobbelaar, 2018-01-18 New Regionalism promoted as a new paradigm of development by the OECD suggests that globalization is bringing together new technologies management employees and communities to form new patterns of local governance However despite the growing influence of New Regionalism in regional development policy in the West and increasingly in Australia there has been little debate about the relevance and application of these ideas in Australia Bringing together contributions from academics practitioners and policy makers this book redresses this imbalance by examining the theoretical and empirical foundations of this powerful and growing school of thought locating the debate firmly in the Australian context With an opening chapter by Kevin Morgan Cardiff University who has been at the heart of the New Regionalism debate the book provides important insights into the theory and practice of New Regionalism in this vibrant region Innovation and Social Learning M. Gertler,D. Wolfe,2002-05-22 How well suited are the institutions of a region nation or international regime to the task of coping with the dramatic changes currently underway in the global economy This volume examines this issue The Creative Class Goes Global Charlotta Mellander,Richard Florida,Bjørn T. Asheim,Meric Gertler,2013-11-07 The whole landscape of research in urban studies was revolutionized by the publication of Richard Florida s The Rise of the Creative Class in 2002 and his subsequent book entitled The Flight of the Creative Class has helped to maintain a decade long explosion of interest in the field While these two books examine the creative class in the context of the United States research has emerged which investigates the creative class worldwide This book brings together detailed studies of the creative class in cities across the globe examining the impact of the creative class on growth and development The countries covered include the United Kingdom the Netherlands Germany Australia China Japan and Canada in addition to the United States Taken together the contributions deepen our understanding of the creative class and the various factors that affect regional development highlighting the similarities and differences between the creative class and economic development across countries This book will be of great interest to scholars of economic geography regional economics urban sociology and cultural policy as well as policy makers involved in urban development The Empirical and Institutional Dimensions of Smart Specialisation Philip McCann, Frank van Oort, John Goddard, 2016-11-25 Smart specialisation is the new policy approach to the development of regional innovation systems across Europe and it involves fostering innovative and entrepreneurial initiatives which are well tailored to the local context The different technologies skills profiles business activities institutions and sectors which reflect a region s economic strengths and potential are to be fostered and encouraged to diversify in ways which also exploit the region s linkages with broader global value chains Yet the ideas contained in the smart specialisation agenda have until now been primarily conceptual in nature The Empirical and Institutional Dimensions of Smart Specialisation draws together some of the leading regional economists and scientists in Europe to analyse how smart specialisation is working in practice This book investigates different dimensions of the agenda as it is developing across parts of Europe from both quantitative and qualitative perspectives The quantitative analysis examines the nature of the diversification processes undertaken by regions and the interplay between the chosen local regional development priorities and the wider global value chain impacts of these choices Meanwhile the qualitative analysis examines the institutional opportunities and challenges facing policy makers and the key elements most likely to provide the underpinnings of a workable set of policy settings The book is aimed both at academic researchers interested in the interface between economic geography and regional innovation systems as well as at policy makers making public policy decisions related to regional development at the local city regional or national levels Leadership and the City Markku Sotarauta, 2015-11-06 The 21st century has been dominated by an almost compulsive race to find new pathways for city development As cities seek to regenerate via the knowledge based economy now more than ever dynamic leadership is required order to navigate new and complex challenges while building community This book is about generative leadership in knowledge city development Leadership and the City is rooted in a conviction that the leadership in a city is crucial in order for it to adjust strategically to major transformations and thus secure a good future for its inhabitants The book opens a fresh view of leadership by focusing on generative leaders and their modes of leading instead of spatial categorisations governance structures and or policy contents and processes It investigates generative leadership by elaborating the modes of leadership power and strategies in influence networks The key points are highlighted with several empirical cases These include Akron and Rochester USA Munich Germany Leeds UK Barcelona Spain as well as Helsinki Tampere and Seinäjoki Finland This book will be of interest to researchers and practitioners concerned with Leadership Urban Studies and Strategic Management Manufacturing in the New Urban Economy Willem van Winden, Leo van den Berg, Luis Carvalho, Erwin van Tuijl, 2010-10-04 This book looks at the changing link between manufacturing and knowledge based activities in urban regions drawing on insights from organization studies and regional economics and looking at case studies in Europe South America and Asia The University and the City John Goddard, Paul Vallance, 2013-02-11 Universities are being seen as key urban institutions by researchers and policy makers around the world They are global players with significant local direct and indirect impacts on employment the built environment business innovation and the wider society The University and the City explores these impacts and in the process seeks to expose the extent to which universities are just in the city or part of the city and actively contributing to its development The precise expression of the emerging relationship between universities and cities is highly contingent on national and local circumstances The book is therefore grounded in original research into the experience of the UK and selected English provincial cities with a focus on the role of universities in addressing the challenges of environmental sustainability health and cultural development These case studies are set in the context of reviews of the international evidence on the links between universities and the urban economy their role in place making and in the local community The book reveals the need to build a stronger bridge between policy and practice in the fields of urban development and higher education underpinned by sound theory if the full potential of universities as urban institutions is to be realised Those working in the field of development therefore need to acquire a better understanding of universities and those in higher education of urban development The insights from both sides contained in The University and the City provide a platform on which to build well founded university and city partnerships across the world Urban Transformations Nicholas Wise, Julie Clark, 2017-06-14 Economic restructuring and demographic change have in recent years placed much strain on urban areas with the effects falling disproportionately on neighbourhoods that were previously underpinned by industry and manufacturing This has presented policy makers and city planners with a binary choice to resist change and stagnate or to change and attempt to keep up with the pace of global demand This edited book tells the story of how urban transformation impacts on people's lives and everyday interactions to question where and to whom benefit accrues from these changes Urban Transformations offers insight into both risk and reward as local communities and public authorities creatively address the challenge of building vital and sustainable urban environments The authors in this edited collection argue that understanding the specifics of community space and place is crucial to delivering insights into how where when why and for whom urban areas might successfully transform The chapters investigate urban change using a range of approaches and case studies from the four corners of the Earth from the United States to Iran from the United Kingdom to Canada The varying scales at which governance or regeneration initiatives operate the nature and composition of urban communities and the local or global interests of different private sector actors all raise questions for urban policy and practice It is important to not only consider the drivers of regeneration but its beneficiaries need to be identified This edited volume addresses and elaborates on critical issues facing urban transformation and renewal as a basis for future discussion on strategies for successful urban transformation
