Academic Governance in the Contemporary University Julie Rowlands, 2016-10-12 This book addresses three central questions in contemporary university governance 1 How and why has academic governance in Anglophone nations changed in recent years and what impact have these changes had on current practices 2

How do power relations within universities affect decisions about teaching and research and what are the implications for academic voices 3 How can those involved in university governance and management improve academic governance processes and outcomes and why is it important that they do so The book explores these issues in clear concise and accessible language that will appeal to higher education researchers and governance practitioners alike It draws on extensive empirical data from key national systems in the Anglophone world but goes beyond the simply descriptive to analyse and explain Building Organizational Capacity and Strategic Management in Academia Kayyali, Mustafa, 2024-11-01 As higher education institutions face challenges like technological advancements student demographics and funding constraints effective strategic management is essential This involves enhancing institutional capabilities through improved governance resource allocation and stakeholder engagement while fostering a culture of innovation and collaboration By prioritizing strategic planning and capacity building academic institutions can remain relevant and responsive to the needs of students faculty and the broader community Further research empowers universities to achieve sustainable growth and fulfill their educational and social objectives Building Organizational Capacity and Strategic Management in Academia explores the crucial role of leadership and strategic management in boosting the capacity and effectiveness of higher education institutions It examines the complex dynamics of organizational change innovation and sustainable growth within the setting of academia This book covers topics such as brand management information technology and strategic planning and is a useful resource for business owners academicians educators managers computer engineers scientists and researchers The Enterprise University Simon Marginson, Mark Considine, 2000-10 Throughout the industrialised world universities have undergone remarkable changes since the mid 1980s In Australia interest has been intense and publication of The Enterprise University was very timely First published in 2001 it was the first systematic study of the Australian system since the momentous Dawkins reforms ten years earlier The book is grounded in case studies of most of the major Australian universities the authors interviewed a large number of senior managers They also have taken account of global trends and have prepared the book in the light of international research on the university as an institution The authors contend that the modern university can be understood as an enterprise university characterised by corporate style executive leadership In a hard hitting conclusion they propose novel policies and directions for Australia's higher education system Higher Education Management and Policy, 2007 Life After Dawkins Stuart Macintyre, Gwilym Croucher, André Brett, 2016-04-18 The reconstruction of higher education in Australia through the creation of the Unified National System of Higher Education at the end of the 1980s by John Dawkins is commonly seen as a watershed It brought new ways of funding directing and organising universities expanding their size reorienting their activities and setting in train a far reaching transformation of the academic enterprise This volume traces its impact on the balance between the University of Melbourne's academic mission and external expectations and how it adjusted to neutralise the impact of the change and restore the balance At Melbourne the Dawkins revolution changed little in the way it understood itself and conducted its affairs but changed everything      Business Practices in Higher Education Mark A. Samels,1997-10-31 Each chapter of First among Equals explores a different aspect of the chief academic officer's primary responsibilities including relations with the president and the board academic governance curriculum development new instructional technologies financial planning enrollment management legal affairs and faculty development      Financing Public Universities Marcel Herbst,2007-05-16 Financing Public Universities addresses newer practices of resource allocation which tie funding to indicators of performance The gist of these efforts is to raise the quality of institutional systems Performance based budgeting and funding of public universities is part of broader efforts to reform public management and it is being promoted and implemented by various government agencies around the globe In particular European universities with their normally strong governmental ties or higher education systems molded on European universities are prime targets of such reforms Performance funding has made its inroads in attempts to grant university systems managerial autonomy autonomy was to be granted in exchange for funding modes which are tied to the measurement of performance indicators. Unfortunately performance based budgeting or funding measures cannot meet the various expectations they do not raise the quality of teaching or learning they do not raise research performance they take back a great deal of managerial autonomy which is commonly judged to be essential for the well being of higher education institutions in particular research universities and they act as automata in place of proper governance and management.
