wide variety of disciplines and synthesizes them into a compelling case against federal intervention Scientific studies conventional wisdom among entrepreneurs and investors and economic reasoning all fail to support the existence of widespread capital gaps for start up high growth firms Nor does this evidence show capital in short supply in some regions in industrial sectors including high technology or for women and minorities Nor do existing federal programs providing capital to emerging high growth businesses reveal capital gaps Rather they either unnecessarily duplicate private investment or represent poor investment decisions This study shows that calls for increased federal intervention using public monies to plug capital gaps are unjustified Abstracts of Reports and Testimony ,1997 Encyclopedia of Public
