Bertke,Don Kindell,Gordon Smith,2012-12-15 Day to day naval actions June 1941 through November 1941 Arctic Convoys 1942 Mark Lardas,2022-09-15 A new history of the most crucial few months of the Arctic Convoys when Germany's air power forced the Allies to retreat to the cover of winter Between spring and autumn 1942 Germany was winning the battle of the Arctic Convoys Half of PQ 15 was sunk in May PQ 17 was virtually obliterated in July and in September 30 percent of PQ 18 was sunk The Allies were forced to suspend the convoys until December when the long Arctic nights would shield them Mark Lardas argues that in 1942 it was Luftwaffe air power that made the difference With convoys sailing in endless daylight German strike aircraft now equipped and trained for torpedo attacks and bases in northern Norway available the Luftwaffe could wreak havoc Three quarters of the losses of PQ 18 were due to air attacks But in November the Luftwaffe was redeployed south to challenge the Allied landings in North Africa and the advantage was lost Despite that the Allies never again sailed an Arctic convoy in the summer months Fully illustrated with archive photos striking new artwork maps and diagrams this is the remarkable history of the Luftwaffe's last strategic victory of World War II Books In Print

A. Claassen, 2001 Adolf Hitler had high hopes for his conquest of Norway which held both great symbolic and great strategic value for the Fuhrer Despite early successes however his ambitious northern campaign foundered and ultimately failed Adam Claassen for the first time reveals the full story of this neglected episode and shows how it helped doom the Third Reich to defeat Hitler and Raeder the chief of the German navy were determined to take and keep Norway By doing so they hoped to preempt Allied attempts to outflank Germany protect sea lanes for German ships access precious Scandinavian minerals for war production and provide a launchpad for Luftwaffe and naval operations against Great Britain Beyond those strategic objectives Hitler also envisioned Norway as part of a pan Nordic stronghold a centerpiece of his new world order But as Claassen shows Hitler's grand expectations were never realized Gring's Luftwaffe was the vital spearhead in the invasion of Norway which marked a number of wartime firsts Among other things it involved the first large scale aerial operations over sea rather than land the first time operational objectives and logistical needs were fulfilled by air power and the first deployment of paratroopers Although it got off to a promising start the German effort particularly against British and arctic convoys was greatly hampered by flawed strategic thinking interservice rivalries between the Luftwaffe and navy the failure to develop a long range heavy bomber the diversion of planes and personnel to shore up the German war effort elsewhere and the northern theater's harsh climate and terrain Claassen's study covers every aspect of this ill-fated campaign from the 1940 invasion until war's end and shows how it was eventually relegated to a backwater status as Germany fought to survive in an increasingly unwinnable war His compelling account sharpens our picture of the German air force and widens our understanding of the Third Reich's way of war

Hermann Goering: From Madrid to Warsaw and Beyond, 1939 Blaine Taylor, 2023-09-17 1939 was a glorious year for Hermann Goering He spent it entertaining dignitaries visiting the Third Reich attending galas going on official visits giving rousing speeches at factories and military parades and indulging in his love of fine art rich cuisine and sumptuous clothes and jewels Ever vain pompous and ambitious in 1939 he attained the summit of his power and popularity when Hitler speaking to a packed Reich Chancellery on 1 September named him his successor Goering's rise was inseparable from that of his Luftwaffe As commander in chief he basked in the glory of the Condor Legion's victory in Spain in April 1939 and the Luftwaffe's decisive role in the Blitzkrieg of Poland in September From these encounters the Luftwaffe emerged as the world's most feared and respected air force but beyond the trappings of victory there were deep seated flaws Fearing their exposure against a more powerful enemy Goering did not want Germany to go to war with Great Britain and France Hermann Goering From Madrid to Warsaw and Beyond 1939 is a photographic chronicle of a momentous year in the life of the Luftwaffe's commander in chief showing him at his most happy and self confident and equally at his most anxious about what the future might bring
