metropolis mediation These South to South dialogues tend not to be as asymmetric as the old dialogue between the former metropolis the hegemonic Eurocentric center and the colonies These essays about Hispanic and Latino cultural production most of them dealing with literature but some covering urban art music and film provide vivid examples of de colonizing impetus and cultural resistance In some of them we can find peripheral subjectivities perception of other peripheral racialized and post colonial subjects and their cultures The Love Diary of a Zulu Boy Bhekisisa Mncube,2018-04-01

Japanese girls had previously been portrayed as demure and obedient in training to become the obedient wife and prudent mother in recent years less than demure young women have become central to urban mythology and the content of culture. The cultic fascination with the figure of a deviant school girl which has some of its earliest roots in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries likewise re-emerged and proliferated in fascinating and timely ways in the 1990s and 2000s. Through exploring the history and politics underlying the cult of girls in contemporary Japanese media and culture this book presents a striking picture of contemporary Japanese society from the 1990s to the start of the 2010s. At its core is an in-depth case study of the media delight and panic surrounding delinquent prostitute schoolgirls. Sharon Kinsella traces this social panic back to male anxieties relating to gender equality and female emancipation in Japan. In each chapter in turn the book reveals the conflicted nostalgic pornographic and at times distinctly racialized manner in which largely male sentiments about this transformation of gender relations have been expressed. The book simultaneously explores the stylistic and flamboyant manner in which young women have reacted to the weight of an obsessive and accusatory male media gaze. Covering the often controversial subjects of compensated dating (enjo kōsai) the role of porn and lifestyle magazines the historical sources and politicized social meanings of the schoolgirl and the racialization of fashionable girls. Schoolgirls: Money, Rebellion in Japan will be invaluable to students and scholars of Japanese culture and society sociology anthropology gender and women's studies.

The Consequences of Desire Dennis Hathaway, 2011-08-15 The stories collected in The Consequences of Desire describe a modern urban society in its extraordinary complexity its often apparent absence of fixed values and its resistance to easy understanding. In Counting Mercedes Benzes Marshall is a directionless young man who believes he can escape his parents' Beverly Hills lifestyle by marrying for love. He fails to realize however that the woman he thinks he loves his mother's Hispanic maid Geneveva has little in common with the person he imagines her to be. The title story concerns a corporate lawyer who was a radical at Berkeley in the sixties. By chance he runs into his lover from that time and discovers how far the two have traveled in the intervening years. In Lost in Rancho Mirage Denton is a young man who might have been picking up garbage or digging ditches if his grandfather hadn't left his Denton's father a piece of real estate that turned out to be directly in the path of a freeway. He must come to terms with the fact that he can never fully possess his beautiful girlfriend. The imaginary sunlight bathing Jill he realized was a microcosm of a world in which she would always be the center he would always be standing a little off in a shadow where he belonged. The need to overcome reality often becomes an obsession for these characters. In Space and Light an architect's realization that a former protégé has surpassed him both financially and artistically prompts him to attempt something wholly original for the first time a project that leads him down an inexorable path to madness to a darkness from which there is literally no escape. In The Girl Detective Justine's disappointment over her first sexual experience is juxtaposed to her resentment at being born a girl. To her being a girl means always wanting to be something different someone else unable to accept the facts that some of her friends seemed to consider amazingly a stroke of the utmost fortune In the aftermath of her surrender to passion on the grass of the municipal golf course she indulges her childish fantasy of being a private eye not Nancy Drew but Philip Marlowe Sam Spade Lew Archer even the virulent violent Mike Hammer Set mainly in California these stories portray a world where dreams come into conflict with reality where perception fills the space between truth and fiction logic and emotion fantasy and disaster
