Bloomsbury, Modernism, and the Reinvention of Intimacy Jesse Wolfe, 2011-06-16 Bloomsbury Modernism and the Reinvention of Intimacy integrates studies of six members and associates of the Bloomsbury group into a rich narrative of early twentieth-century culture encompassing changes in the demographics of private and public life and Freudian and sexological assaults on middle-class proprieties. Jesse Wolfe shows how numerous modernist writers felt torn between the inherited institutions of monogamy and marriage and emerging theories of sexuality which challenged Victorian notions of maleness and femaleness. For Wolfe, this ambivalence was a primary source of the Bloomsbury writers' aesthetic strength. Virginia Woolf, D. H. Lawrence, and others brought the paradoxes of modern intimacy to thrilling life on the page. By combining literary criticism with forays into philosophy, psychoanalysis, sociology, and the avant-garde art of Vienna, this book offers a fresh account of the reciprocal relations between culture and society in that key site for literary modernism known as Bloomsbury.

Recognizing Biography William H. Epstein, 2017-11-15 Epstein's narrative interweaves interpretive and theoretical chapters as it emplots the discourse of English biography from Walton to Strachey. In this way, familiar generic relationships between biographer, subject, life, text, falsehood, and readership are analyzed in specific, if constantly shifting, historical, literary, cultural, and economic texts.

Biography Ira B. Nadel, 1986-06-18 Encyclopedia of the Essay Tracy Chevalier, 2012-10-12 This groundbreaking new source of international scope defines the essay as nonfictional prose texts of between one and 50 pages in length. The more than 500 entries by 275 contributors include entries on nationalities, various categories of essays such as generic, such as sermons, aphorisms, individual major works, notable writers, and periodicals that created a market for essays and particularly famous or significant essays. The preface details the historical development of the essay, and the alphabetically arranged entries usually include biographical sketch, nationality, era, selected writings, list of additional readings, and anthologies.

English Fiction in Transition, 1880-1920, 1962

The Study of History, 1988

The chief objective of this text is to provide a handy reference guide for teachers students and researchers of modern European economic and social history Since the bibliography covers only works written in the English language it will probably be of less use to the last named group at least insofar as those within it are already seasoned researchers on a particular country or topic However it would have been quite impossible from the point of view of length to have included all the literature in foreign languages while to have done so would have defeated the essential aim of the volume namely that of providing a reasonably convenient guide for those who teach and study the subject but who are not primarily specialists in the field
