NANTUCKET GENESIS • Mary Barnard

Nantucket Genesis is another new departure for Mary Barnard. This study has its roots in the work Mrs. Barnard did in the '40s in assisting Carl van Dusen on the papers of Benjamin Franklin. Her interest in the Barnard clan had been aroused, and she was pleased to find a continuous thread that led to Theodosius Barnard, born in England around 1810, one of Nantucket's First Parishmen. Nantucket Genesis will offer general readers a cross-section of early American history as experienced by one family.

The narrative is threaded by one family. The story shows the stage with passages of historical interest: over seventy, eyewitnesses, the deed of violence signed by Wampanoag, Chief Sachem of Nantucket, letters home, with, eventually, the narrative closes with a genealogy of the Barnards.

Mary Barnard was born in 1914 in Vancouver, Washington. She attended Reed College where she received her degree in 1936. In 1937 she was her first novel, the Lewiston Press. She is the author of several books: The Whittier Press (1941), the highly praised Supper of the White Tiger, winner of the 1942 Pulitzer Prize, the 1943 Ellison River. In 1944 she was awarded the first May Western Award by the New England Society Club. Her autobiography, Annals of Myself, was published by University of California Press in 1950. She lives in Vancouver, Washington.
