New Burlington Ken Jenkins, 1990

New Burlington Ken Jenkins, 1977* The Sociologist's Eye Kai T. Erikson, 2017-08-22 A masterful introduction to and appreciation of sociology as a window into our world The culmination of a distinguished career this fascinating exploration into the nature of human social life describes the field of sociology as a way of looking at the world rather than as a simple gathering of facts about it Kai Erikson notes that sociologists look out at the same human scenes as poets historians economists or any other observers of the vast social landscape spread out before them but select different aspects of that vast panorama to focus on and attend to Erikson's lively and accessible volume considers how sociology became a field of study and how it has turned its attention over time to new areas of study such as race and gender and what Erikson calls social speciation This book provides readers with new ways of thinking about human culture and social life an exhilarating sense of what the world looks like when viewed with a sociologist's eye

When They Blew the Levee David Todd Lawrence, Elaine J. Lawless, 2018-05-30 Winner of the 2019 Chicago Folklore Prize In 2011 the Midwest suffered devastating floods Due to the flooding the US Army Corps of Engineers activated the Birds Point New Madrid Floodway one of the flood prevention mechanisms of the Mississippi Rivers and Tributaries Project This levee breach was intended to divert water in order to save the town of Cairo Illinois but in the process it completely destroyed the small African American town of Pinhook Missouri In When They Blew the Levee Race Politics and Community in Pinhook Missouri authors David Todd Lawrence and Elaine J Lawless examine two conflicting narratives about the flood one promoted by the Corps of Engineers that boasts the success of the levee breach and the flood diversion and the other gleaned from displaced Pinhook residents who in oral narratives tell a different story of neglect and indifference on the part of government officials Receiving inadequate warning and no evacuation assistance during the breach residents lost everything Still after more than six years displaced Pinhook residents have yet to receive restitution and funding for relocation and reconstruction of their town The authors research traces a long history of discrimination and neglect of the rights of the Pinhook community beginning with their migration from the Deep South to southeast Missouri through purchasing and farming the land and up to the Birds Point levee breach nearly eighty years later The residents stories relate what it has been like to be dispersed in other small towns living with relatives and friends while trying to negotiate the bureaucracy surrounding Federal Emergency Management Agency and State Emergency Management Agency assistance programs Ultimately the stories of displaced citizens of Pinhook reveal a strong African American community whose bonds were developed over time and through shared traditions a community persisting despite extremely difficult circumstances
