after the Cold War Philip Gummert,Mikhail Boutoussov,Janos Farkas,Arie Rip,2012-12-06 Countries establish defence industries for various reasons Chief among these are usually a concern with national security and a desire to be as independent as possible in the supply of the armaments which they believe they need But defence industries are different from most other industries Their customer is governments Their product is intended to safeguard the most vital interests of the state The effectiveness of these products in the real rather than the experimental sense is not normally tested at the time of purchase If or when it is tested many other factors such as the quality of political and military leadership enter into the equation so complicating judgments about the quality of the armaments and about the reliability of the promises made by the manufacturers All of these features make the defence sector an unusually political industrial sector This has been true in both the command economies of the former Soviet Union and its satellites and in the market or mixed economies of the west In both cases to speak only a little over generally the defence sector has been particularly privileged and particularly protected from the usual economic vicissitudes In both cases too its centrality to the perceived vital interests of the state has given it an unusual degree of political access and support Lab Lit Ace G. Pilkington,Olga Pilkington,2019-10-10 Lab Lit Exploring Literary and Cultural Representations of Science is the first formal systematic scholarly investigation of laboratory literature from the perspective of literary studies Lab Lit as a new genre has received a lot of public and media attention due to its compelling presentation of science practitioners and the relatable explanations of the scientific advancements that have shaped modern society and will continue to do so However the genre has been largely overlooked by scholars This book is an introduction to the world of science for those who up till now have been immersed primarily in the world of literature The anthology contains essays that discuss Lab Lit novels using a variety of analytical approaches It also features theoretical essays that explore the social and literary backgrounds of Lab Lit and help the reader position the critical pieces within appropriate contexts Can't Buy My Love Jean Kilbourne,2000-11-02 Discusses the advertising establishment revealing what advertisers know about human nature and how they exploit it to make a profit Japan-Bashing Narrelle Morris,2013-01-11 The aim of this book is to examine and analyse the phenomenon of Japan bashing from its invention and popularisation in the United States in the late 1970s to the emergence of other national variants including in Australia and Japan to its gradual decline in the late 1990s It is the first major book length study of Japan bashing from a multinational perspective one that attempts to place Japan bashing in its proper historical context and to examine its operation and legacy in the twenty first century Despite its importance in the study of discourses about Japan as well as in understanding broader global changes in the late twentieth century and beyond the phenomenon of Japan bashing remains largely neglected in published writings Moreover it is a far more complex phenomenon than has been assessed thus far While on first glance Japan bashing merely seems to recall other periods in which Japan has been viewed as a dangerous other to the West such as the Western emphasis on the yellow peril from the late nineteenth century as well as Allied anti Japanese propaganda during World War II Japan bashing also had its own distinctive characteristics Moreover while Japan bashing is often described as a quaint historical rather than a pressing contemporary phenomenon it is actually by no means extinct The ongoing influence of Japan bashing also has parallels in other bashing phenomena such as China bashing This book will be of interest to scholars and postgraduate students in Japanese studies and international relations

Foreign Political Engagement D. Geldenhuys, 2016-07-27 The 1990s have witnessed several major external initiatives to reshape the domestic political arrangements of countries Because these have been collective foreign ventures usually with the active collaboration of the target countries the term intervention is ill suited Instead Deon Geldenhuys introduces the notion of foreign political engagement to describe international attempts at remaking countries in the image of the West South Africa Kenya Somalia Russia Cambodia El Salvador and Haiti serve as case studies to demonstrate this important theoretical rethinking of international relations today Subject Guide to Books in Print, 1996 The Forges Du Saint-Maurice Roch Samson, Parks Canada, 1998
