The Question of Canon Michael J Kruger,2020-05-21 For many years now the topic of the New Testament canon has been the main focus of my research and writing It is an exciting field of study that probes into questions that have long fascinated both scholars and laymen alike namely when and how these 27 books came to be regarded as a new scriptural deposit But the story of the New Testament canon is bigger than just the when and the how It is also and perhaps most fundamentally about the why Why did Christians have a canon at all Does the canon exist because of some later decision or action of the second or third century church Or did it arise more naturally from within the early Christian faith itself Was the canon an extrinsic phenomenon or an intrinsic one These are the questions this book is designed to address And these are not micro questions but macro ones They address foundational and paradigmatic issues about the way we view the canon They force us to consider the larger framework through which we conduct our research whether we realized we had such a framework or not Of course we are not the first to ask such questions about why we have a canon Indeed for many scholars this question has already been settled The dominant view today as we shall see below is that the New Testament is an extrinsic phenomenon a later ecclesiastical development imposed on books originally written for another purpose This is the framework through which much of modern scholarship operates And it is the goal of this volume to ask whether it is a compelling one To be sure it is no easy task challenging the status quo in any academic field But we should not be afraid to ask tough questions Likewise the consensus position should not be afraid for them to be asked "The" Westminster and Foreign Quarterly Review ,1847 Books for a Reference Library Birmingham Public Libraries,1885 The History of the Book in the West: 400AD-1455 Pamela Robinson,2017-03-02 This selection of papers by major scholars introduces students to the history of the book in the West from late Antiquity to the publication of the Gutenberg Bible and the beginning of the print revolution The collection opens with wide ranging papers on handwriting and the physical make up of the book In the second group of papers the emphasis is on the look of the book complemented by a third group dealing with scribes readers and the availability of books The editors introduction provides an overview of the medieval book Books that Count William Forbes Gray,1923 Literary Gazette and Journal of Belles Lettres, Arts, Sciences, Etc William Jerdan,William Ring Workman,Frederick Arnold,John Morley,Charles Wycliffe Goodwin,1836 "The" Athenaeum ,1895
