Heston, 2022-08-23 Wilderness periods of our lives those dry and desperate seasons when God seems distant and detached perhaps even indifferent or impotent can seem an abnormal and painful part of our lives that simply must be painfully plodded through and somehow endured Yet far from being something abnormal and life threatening like a cancer invading our bodies wilderness periods represent a fundamental element of our life in the Spirit and part of God's well orchestrated plan to guarantee that we become and possess everything he desires for us

Outcomes of Faith During Hospitalization Reverend Dr. Hiltrude Nusser-Telfer, 2011-03-23 Chapter III presents eight case studies that identify and support the need for Professional Spiritual Care to undergird the work and healing methods of physicians and allied health professionals The case study method was the result of the encouragement of many patients and medical professionals over the course of fifteen years of ministry We are spiritual beings in a human body The spiritual assessment looks at a patient's medical condition social support system and religious affiliation including spiritual commitment to a belief in God In dealing with a devastating illness it is possible for patients to submit in trust and faith to believe in the God of Jesus Christ Prayer and faith are our protection from evil Due to our inherent insecurity we open ourselves up to fear which projects the wrong issues into our lives and encourages us to cop out from our intentions of protecting our soul and submitting to the will of God The Catholic Library World John M. Nurture Faith Two Doug Hood,2021-08 Doug Hood is an insightful writer who brings solid biblical exegetical understanding to everything he composes Additionally he possesses a brilliant way of translating his scholarship into nurturing pastoral care and or spiritual challenge that is accessible to everyone In short when you read his writings you get an idea not merely of what the Bible says in general but more personally of what it says to us as communities and individuals of faith In Nathanael Hood we see confirmation of the clich that an apple does not fall far from the tree I first came to know Nathanael when I served for a decade as Senior Minister at Marble Collegiate Church in New York City He was in the journalism industry at the time and began attending our church primarily I think because of his dad s friendship with my predecessor the late Dr Arthur Caliendo From time to time Nathanael and I would meet for coffee and conversation It didn t take long for me to be impressed by his keen intellect and strong gifts for writing The more I read his spiritual biblical compositions the more convinced I became that his obvious gifts were indicators of a Divine Calling which would one day bear fruit for the Church at large In this book you will see evidence of the personal spirituality and literary talents of both the father and the son Doug and Nathanael Hood open to the reader biblical treasures which are then faithfully applied to our personal needs and dreams This book is not merely a collection of thoughts or essays It is instead a journey in the direction of timeless truth Having transitioned for the most part from pulpit to classroom this is the very sort of book I hope my students will read Their textbooks give them information This however will give them inspiration guidance and hope Dr Michael B Brown Former Senior Minister Marble Collegiate Church NY NY Instructor of Biblical Studies High Point University Adjunct Instructor in D Min Studies New Brunswick Theological School
