Perfection Margarette Lincoln, 2024-09-10 A colourful account of women s health beauty and cosmetic aids from stays and corsets to today s viral trends Victorian women ate arsenic to achieve an ideal pale complexion while in the 1790s balloon corsets were all the rage designed to make the wearer appear pregnant Women of the eighteenth century applied blood from a black cat s tail to problem skin while doctors in the 1880s promoted woollen underwear to keep colds at bay Beautification and the pursuit of health may seem all consuming today but their history is long and fantastically varied Ranging across the last four hundred years Margarette Lincoln examines women s health and beauty in fascinating detail Through first hand accounts and reports of physicians quacks and advertising Lincoln captures women s lived experience of consuming beauty products and the excitement and trauma of adopting the latest fashion trends Considering everything from body sculpture diet and exercise to skin teeth and hair Perfection is a vibrant account of women s body fashioning and shows how intimately these practices are related to community and identity throughout history

Aesthetic Subjects Pamela R. Matthews, David McWhirter, 2003 Recent calls for a return to aesthetics occur precisely at a moment when it is increasingly evident that nothing concerning aesthetics is self evident anymore Determined to recover the value of aesthetic experience for artistic cultural and social analysis the contributors to this volume prominent scholars in literature philosophy art history architecture history and anthropology begin from a shared recognition that ideological readings of the aesthetic have provided invaluable insights in particular that analyses of aesthetics within historical and social contexts tell us a great deal about the experience of aesthetic encounters From multiple and complementary perspectives the contributors address topics as varied as Nabokov and Dickens Caravaggio and Shelley Winters gender and sexuality advertising and AIDS Taken together their essays constitute a sustained and multifarious effort to resituate aesthetic pleasure in the mixed impure conditions characteristic of every social practice and experience however privileged or marginalized and to ask what happens to the aesthetic if we consider it apart from or at least in tension with its historically dominant discursive formulations As such this volume establishes a renewed sense of aesthetic discourse and its usefulness as a tool for understanding culture
