Reading Culture: Contexts for Critical Reading and Writing Diana & Trimbur George (John),      Reading Culture Phyllis Ghim Lian Chew, Anneliese Kramer-Dahl, 1999 As a broadly compatible socially motivated analysis this book understands and illustrates reading as a dynamic critical activity which investigates texts and textual representations in their social conditions seeing them in relation to their discursive origins The specific texts and discursive constructions it submits are based on Singapore Singapore life and its citizenry The collection of papers covers a wide range of disciplines most notably communication and media studies and provides a timely challenge to the long tradition of critical theory West equations      Transnationalism and Resistance: Experience and Experiment in Women's Writing Adele Parker, Stephenie Young, 2013 This study presents a unique collection of essays which focus on the relationships among form aesthetics and transnational women s writing produced in recent years The essays in this volume treat literary works from diverse cultures and geographies concentrating on the intersections of theory and literature This results in a wide spectrum of identities and texts including the work of Swedish poet Aase Berg the Indian translation market the Chicana novel creative non fiction by Croatian writer Dubravka Ugre ic and multilingual hybrid texts by Theresa Hak Kyung Cha in order to provide a framework for an overarching theory of transnationalism as it interacts with newer paradigms of gendered identity and the new forms of literature to which they contribute Transnationalism and Resistance offers a multifaceted approach to transnational studies and constitutes a cogent analysis of the ways in which women s writing informs contemporary global literary Production This volume is of interest for scholars in women s studies literature the social sciences cultural studies and all other fields that take an interest in writing that addresses contemporary global issues      □□□□□□□□ □□□,2002      Reading Culture Diana George, John Trimbur, 2007 A traditional source of sexual titillation for adult readers fairy tales historically boasted licentious themes before being cleaned up for the consumption of children in modern times Seasoned erotica author Mitzi Szereto restores the explicit sex in these 15 tales and adds some provocative surprises of her own      Elijah Muhammad and Supreme Literacy Lydia Magras Muhammad, 2022-03-08 Elijah Muhammad and the Supreme of Literacy explores how Elijah Muhammad framed the term literacy as contrasted with its generally known definitions and applications The text frames a construct for understanding why Elijah Muhammad considered the science of literacy essential to the success of the Blackman and woman in America specifically and people in general It outlines the scriptural foundations of Muhammad s teachings drawn from both Bible and Qur an A detailed review of the course of study prescribed for his followers supplies Elijah Muhammad s the unique perspective on both literacy and language Examples of his study curricula are offered A brief history of Muhammad s own educational process is presented with an emphasis on the pedagogy of literacy as practiced by Muhammad s teacher W D Fard Material on the early educational focus of The Nation of Islam is introduced And finally general commentary on the teachings is made known through the lenses of three men in their role as teachers W D Fard teacher of Elijah Muhammad Muhammad himself and Minister Louis Farrakhan student of Elijah Muhammad      Trauma and the Teaching of Writing Shane Borrowman, 2012-02-01 Deepening and broadening our understanding of what it means to teach in times of trauma writing teachers analyze their own responses to national traumas ranging from the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor to the various appropriations of 9 11 Offering personal historical and cultural perspectives they question both the purposes and pedagogies of teaching writing      Trouillot Remixed Michel-Rolph Trouillot, 2021-09-27 This collection of writings from Haitian anthropologist Michel Rolph Trouillot includes his most famous lesser known and hard to find writings that demonstrate his enduring importance to Caribbean studies anthropology history postcolonial studies and politically engaged scholarship more broadly     Teaching Translation and Interpreting 3 Cay Dollerup,Vibeke Appel,1996 Selected papers from the Third Language International Conference on Translator and Interpreter Training Capping the series of conferences on this theme in Denmark the present volume brings together a choice selection of the papers read by scholars and teachers from five continents and within all specialities in Translation Studies In combination with the two previous volumes of the same title the book offers an up to date comprehensive representative overview focusing on main issues in teaching in the relatively new field of translation There are informed and incisive discussions of subtitling interpreting and translation spanning from its historical beginnings to presentations of machine translation and predictions of the future of translation work Contributions ranging from discussions on the interplay between theory and teaching teaching literary translation introducing students to central issues in translation practice and historical and social issues in teaching translation     Left Margins Karen Fitts,Alan W. France,1995-01-01 This book examines the cultural politics of knowledge in composition classrooms and presents classroom strategies that develop students awareness of their own ideological subjectivities

Conceptualizing 'Everyday Resistance' Anna Johansson,Stellan Vinthagen,2019-10-16 Everyday resistance is about the many ways people undermine power and domination through their routine and everyday actions Unlike open rebellions or demonstrations it is typically hidden not politically articulated and often ingenious But because of its disguised nature it is often poorly understood as a form of politics and its potential underestimated Conceptualizing Everyday Resistance presents an analytical framework and theoretical tools to understand the entanglements of everyday power and resistance These are applied to diverse empirical cases including queer relationships in the context of heteronormativity Palestinian daily life under military occupation workplace behaviors under office surveillance and the tactics of fat acceptance bloggers facing the war against obesity Johansson and Vinthagen argue that everyday resistance is best understood by accounting for different repertoires of tactics relations between actors and struggles around constructions of time and space Through a critical dialogue with the work of James C Scott Michel de Certeau and Asef Bayat they aim to reconstruct the field of resistance studies expanding what counts as resistance and building systematic analysis Conceptualizing Everyday Resistance offers researchers and students from different theoretical and empirical backgrounds an essential overview of the field and a creative framework that illuminates the potential of all people to transform society     Changing Spaces Arlene

Archer,Rose Richards,2011-07-01 Changing Spaces makes a forceful and credible case for the role of writing centres in engaging with students staff and institutional structures in understanding issues of access from a social perspective This is a specialist book for those working in writing centres and for academics of all disciplines It is based on research and provides an important set of theoretical arguments developed through reflection on writing centre practices about student writing and the work of the university Professor Sioux McKenna Centre for Higher Education Research Teaching and Learning Rhodes

University How do we select and train tutors How do we work with faculty How do we combat the image that we are remedial a fix it shop How do we prove our worth How do we show that we improve retention Changing Spaces demonstrates the flexibility of writing centers and the unique roles they play in South Africa Writing centers everywhere represent institutional responses to the learning needs of their students and they do so because writing centers adapt easily to different contexts and situations They meet students where they are as a group and individually Professor Leigh Ryan Writing Center Director University of Maryland USA

Rural Literacies Kim Donehower, Charlotte Hogg, Eileen E Schell, 2007 Rural Literacies identifies the problems inherent in trying to understand rural literacy addresses the lack of substantive research on literacy in rural areas and reviews traditional misrepresentations of rural literacy This innovative volume frames debates over literacy in relation to larger social political and economic forces such as the impact of the No Child Left Behind Act on rural schools and the effects of out migration globalization and the loss of small family farms on rural communities Drawing upon traditional literacy and composition research and employing theory from education and sociology the text engages compositionists in broader conversations regarding rural literacies The authors share strategies that will help compositionists participate in pedagogies that are rooted in a richer understanding of rural literacies and work toward sustainability for all communities in a globalized age

Composing Media Composing Embodiment Kristin L Arola, Anne Wysocki, 2012-03-31 What any body is and is able to do cannot be disentangled from the media we use to consume and produce texts from the Introduction Kristin Arola and Anne Wysocki argue that composing in new media is composing the body is embodiment In Composing Media Composing Embodiment they have brought together a powerful set of essays that agree on the need for compositionists and their students to engage with a wide range of new media texts These chapters explore how texts of all varieties mediate and thereby contribute to the human experiences of communication of self the body and composing Sample assignments and activities exemplify how this exploration might proceed in the writing classroom Contributors here articulate ways to understand how writing enables the experience of our bodies as selves and at the same time to see the work of our writing in mediating selves to make them accessible to institutional perceptions and constraints These writers argue that what a body does and can do cannot be disentangled from the media we use nor from the times and cultures and technologies with which we engage To the discipline of composition this is an important discussion because it clarifies the impact s of literacy on citizens freedoms and societies To the classroom it is important because it helps compositionists to support their students as they enact learn and reflect upon their own embodied and embodying writing

Understanding Zora Neale Hurston's Their Eyes Were Watching God Neal Lester, 1999-10-30 Zora Neale Hurston's Their Eyes Were Watching God highlights the vitality of African American culture This casebook demonstrates how African Americans fashioned themselves individually and collectively to combat racism classism and sexism With provocative documents that contextualize the complex issues of the novel Lester provides an excellent resource for students and teachers first approaching the excitement and cultural flavor that define Hurston's novels. The casebook is an encyclopedia of African American folk culture that simultaneously presents historical, political, and social commentary on the relationships between men and women and between blacks and whites in America. Documents include interviews with people living in the South at the time of the novel's publication, poetry, rap, folktales, and sermons. Also included are original materials on ebonics, minstrel songs, the blues tradition, the novel in theatrical and dance performance, and materials on Hurston's hometown of Eatonville, Florida.
