Agency and Responsibility Jeanette Kennett, 2003 Is it ever possible for people to act freely and intentionally against their better judgement Is it ever possible to act in opposition to one's strongest desire If either of these questions are answered in the negative the common sense distinctions between recklessness weakness of will and compulsion collapse This would threaten our ordinary notion of self control and undermine our practice of holding each other responsible for moral failure So a clear and plausible account of how weakness of will and self control are possible is of great practical significance Taking the problem of weakness of will as her starting point Jeanette Kennett builds an admirably comprehensive and integrated account of moral agency which gives a central place to the capacity for self control Her account of the exercise and limits of self control vindicates the common sense distinction between weakness of will and compulsion and so underwrites our ordinary allocations of moral responsibility She addresses with clarity and insight a range of important topics in moral psychology such as the nature of valuing and desiring conceptions of virtue moral conflict and the varieties of recklessness here characterised as culpable bad judgement and does so in terms which make their relations to each other and to the challenges of real life obvious Agency and Responsibility concludes by testing the accounts developed of self control moral failure and moral responsibility against the hard cases provided by acts of extreme evil

Education and Responsibility Tunis Romein,2021-03-17

This book reveals the sources of the disquiet prevailing among educators over the apparent failure of the public school system to develop moral responsibility in America s youth The doctrine of separation of church and state has made sectarian religious training illegal in public schools and Tunis Romein shows that the task of providing moral guidance suddenly thrust upon educators has disclosed their deep schisms in educational philosophy basic contradictions which have split American education from top to bottom Romein explains the basic conflicts in education by examining three educational philosophies progressivism educational reconstructionism and classical humanism and comparing all of them with the traditional Christian view He holds that all educational philosophies whether secular or not are based on faith and that all can be tested with regard to their beliefs about the nature of man and about the kind of moral responsibility education should develop in man With sincerity and frankness Romein analyzes the moral and intellectual poverty of much of the thinking dominant in education today and he shows the necessity as well as the difficulty of making faith in God once more the underlying influence in American education

Morality and Responsibility of Rulers Anthony Carty,Janne Nijman,2018-02-09

The history of ideas on rule of law for world order is a fascinating one as revealed in this comparative study of both Eastern and Western traditions This book discerns rule of law as justice conceptions alternative to the positivist conceptions of the liberal internationalist rule of law today The volume begins by revisiting early modern European roots of rule of law for world order thinking In doing so it looks to Northern Humanism and to natural law in the sense of justice as morally and reasonably ordered self discipline Such a standard is not an instrument of external monitoring but of self reflection and self cultivation It then considers whether comparable concepts exist in Chinese thought Inspired by Confucius and even Laozi the Chinese official and intellectual elite readily imagined that international law was governed by moral principles similar to their own A series of case studies then reveals the dramatic change after the East West encounters from the 1860s until after 1901 as Chinese disillusionment with the Hobbesian positivism of Western international law becomes ever more apparent What therefore are the possibilities of traditional Chinese and European ethical thinking in the context of current world affairs Considering the obstacles which stand in the way of this both East and West this book reaches the conclusion that everything is possible even in a world dominated by state bureaucracies and late capitalist postmodernism The rational ethical spirit is universal

Action, Freedom and Responsibility Subasini Barik,2022-10-19

This book a work on human doing analyses and applies three central aspects of human life Action Freedom and Responsibility in the wide spectrum of the Philosophy of Mind Reflections on these issues and their interconnections have a significant effect on the Philosophy of Value and application of ethical theories in practical life This book even reconstructs the conceptual connection between action and freedom on the one hand and that between freedom and responsibility on the other It also puts the concepts of freedom and determinism to critical test and reinterprets them from different angles and perspectives The conventional doctrine of karma based on the teachings of the Bhagavadgītā is relieved from its usual deterministic presentation and a logically reasonable explanation is offered Human actions and human agency are central concepts in the philosophy of mind and action Free will and responsibility constitute the bedrock of the moral life of the human agents and the book pinpoints that freedom is meant to undertake the goal oriented actions It is therefore focused on the enquiry into the various aspects of philosophy of mind as well as the philosophy of value
