Education and the Kyoto School of Philosophy Paul Standish, Naoko Saito, 2012-07-04 The work of the Kyoto School represents one of the few streams of philosophy that originate in Japan Following the cultural renaissance of the Meiji Restoration after Japan s period of closure to the outside world 1600 1868 this distinctly Japanese thought found expression especially in the work of Kitaro Nishida Keiji Nishitani and Hajime Tanabe Above all this is a philosophy of experience of human becoming and of transformation In pursuit of these themes it brings an inheritance of Western philosophy that encompasses William James Hume Kant and Husserl as well as the psychology of Wilhelm Wundt into conjunction with Eastern thought and practice Yet the legacy and continuing reception of the Kyoto School have not been easy in part because of the coincidence of its prominence with the rise of Japanese fascism In light of this then the School's ongoing relationship to the thought of Heidegger has an added salience And yet this remains a rich philosophical line of thought with remarkable salience for educational practice The present collection focuses on the Kyoto School in three unique ways First it concentrates on the School's distinctive account of human becoming Second it examines the way that in the work of its principal exponents diverse traditions of thought in philosophy and education are encountered and fused Third and with a broader canvas it considers why the rich implications of the Kyoto School for philosophy and education have not been more widely appreciated and it seeks to remedy this The first part of the book introduces the historical and philosophical background of the Kyoto School illustrating its importance especially for aesthetic education while the second part looks beyond this to explore the convergence of relevant streams of philosophy East and West ranging from the Noh play and Buddhist practices to American transcendentalism and post structuralism A Treatise on Inheritance, Gift, Will, Sale and Mortgage Frederik Emil ELBERLING, 1856 The Gift Aafke E. Komter, 1996 What moves us to give gifts to other people The Gift brings together perspectives on gift exchange and reciprocity from different social scientific disciplines The first part of this book contains anthropological and sociological classics on gift giving and reciprocity In the second part the focus is on social psychological theories and on empirical research on gift giving in Western society Finally the main concepts underlying gift exchange reciprocity self interest and altruism are discussed Here the focus is on fundamental assumptions about human nature Altruism and self interest turn out to be much more interwoven than we are inclined to think The Question of the Gift Mark Osteen, 2013-09-13 The Question of the Gift is the first collection of new interdisciplinary essays on the gift Bringing together scholars from a variety of fields including anthropology literary criticism economics philosophy and classics it provides new paradigms and poses new questions concerning the theory and practice of gift exchange In addressing these questions contributors not only challenge the conventions of their fields but also combine ideas and methods from both the social sciences and humanities to forge innovative ways of confronting this universal phenomenon Essays Ralph Waldo Emerson, 1905
