Religion In Ohio Pro Of Faith Communities:

Religion in Ohio Tarunjit Singh Butalia, Dianne P. Small, 2004 For Ohio's bicentennial in 2003 the Religious Experience Advisory Council of the Ohio Bicentennial Commission was established to commemorate and celebrate the state's diversity of religions and faith traditions. The end result of the council's efforts, Religion in Ohio, tells the story of Ohio's religious and spiritual heritage going back to the state's ancient and historic native populations and including the westward migration of settlers to this region, the development of a wide variety of faith traditions in the years preceding the mid twentieth century and the arrival of many newer immigrants in the last fifty years, each group bringing with it cherished traditions. Documenting the religious pluralism in Ohio and the impact faith communities have had on the state, this book includes chapters on the historical experiences and beliefs of over forty Christian groups as well as Native American, Jewish, Islamic, Hindu, Buddhist, Sikh, Bahá'í, Jain, and Zoroastrian faiths. Each chapter was written by a member of that faith or denomination. Operating under the auspices of the Interfaith Association of Central Ohio, the editors of Religion in Ohio have created a unique collection of Religious Interests in Community Conflict Paul A. Djupe, Laura R. Olson, 2007 This volume investigates some of the most visible issues in American politics today including gay marriage and race along with ongoing concerns that often fly below the radar of the mass media such as healthcare and homelessness. The book uncovers and explores the political motivations, effectiveness, and interplay of organized religious interests as they confront public problems in their local communities.

Faith-based Radicalism Christiane Timmerman, 2007 Terror attacks against Western symbols of power, suicide terrorism in Chechnya, or bombing of abortion clinics in the United States: these are a few of the violent religious outbursts that the media never seem to stop broadcasting. While these outbursts are mostly linked to Islamic extremism, it should however be acknowledged that every religion has its own violent side. Despite all the events, the media are too prompt to show us it would be dishonest and insensible not to accept that every religion has also a potential for religious peace building and communal renewal. How can it be explained then that religions sometimes react violently against the society surrounding them by trying to overthrow it while at some other times they willingly help and try to build a better world for everyone? The University Centre Saint Ignatius Antwerp organised an interdisciplinary summer seminar in September 2005 and gathered senior scholars, all experts in their own fields, and junior scholars who will be the experts of tomorrow from all over the world to discuss these burning issues. The seminar focused on miscellaneous topics all pointing towards the question of religion and society like literalism and the Holy texts, the ambivalence of faith-based radicalism, the psychology of religion and terrorism, nationalism and religion, and religious social movements. Publisher: Encyclopedia of Global Religion Mark Juergensmeyer, Wade Clark Roof, 2012 Presents entries A to L of a two-volume encyclopedia discussing religion around the globe including biographies, concepts, and theories, places, social issues, movements, texts, and traditions.
