Religion Und Reform In Der Arabischen Provinz:

The Oxford Handbook of Islamic Theology Sabine Schmidtke, 2016-03-31 Within the field of Islamic Studies scientific research of Muslim theology is a comparatively young discipline Much progress has been achieved over the past decades with respect both to discoveries of new materials and to scholarly approaches to the field The Oxford Handbook of Islamic Theology provides a comprehensive and authoritative survey of the current state of the field It provides a variegated picture of the state of the art and at the same time suggests new directions for future research Part One covers the various strands of Islamic theology during the formative and early middle periods rational as well as scripturalist To demonstrate the continuous interaction among the various theological strands and its repercussions during the formative and early middle period and beyond Part Two offers a number of case studies These focus on specific theological issues that have developed through the dilemmatic and often polemical interactions between the different theological schools and thinkers Part Three covers Islamic theology during the later middle and early modern periods One of the characteristics of this period is the growing amalgamation of theology with philosophy Peripatetic and Illuminationist and mysticism Part Four addresses the impact of political and social developments on theology through a number of case studies the famous mi na instituted by al Ma mun r 189 813 218 833 as well as the mihna to which Ibn Aqil d 769 1367 was subjected the religious policy of the Almohads as well as the shifting interpretations throughout history particularly during Mamluk and Ottoman times of the relation between Ash arism and Maturidism that were often motivated by political motives Part Five considers Islamic theological thought from the end of the early modern and during the modern period Gog and Magog Georges

Tamer, Andrew Mein, Lutz Greisiger, 2023-12-31 The tale of a collective evil force known as Gog and Magog has occupied the imagination of Jews Christians and Muslims for millennia finding expression in literary and scholarly works and other cultural artifacts This book gathers the papers from two conferences at the University of Erlangen Nuremberg by scholars ranging from history to religious studies to art history and is the most thorough work on the subject to date Handbook of Religion and the Authority of Science James R. Lewis, Olav Hammer, 2010-11-19 The present collection examines the many different ways in which religions appeal to the authority of science The result is a wide ranging and uniquely compelling study of how religions adapt their message to the challenges of the contemporary world Scientific and Political Freedom in Islam Uriya Shavit, 2017-02-24 This book critically explores the modernist apologetic Islamic approach to the relation between revelation and science and politics which for over a century has been a central part of Arab discourses on the future of Muslim societies The main thesis of the book is that the modernist apologetic approach has great potential to be a force for liberalization but also possesses inherent limitations that render its theory on the relation between revelation and freedom self contradictory

Family Life in the Ottoman Mediterranean Beshara B. Doumani, 2017-06-08 In writings about Islam women and modernity in the Middle East family and religion are frequently invoked but rarely historicized Based on a wide range of local sources spanning two centuries 1660 1860 Beshara B Doumani argues that there is no such thing as the Muslim or Arab family type that is so central to Orientalist nationalist and Islamist narratives Rather one finds dramatic regional differences even within the same cultural zone in the ways that family was understood organized and reproduced In his comparative examination of the property devolution strategies and gender regimes in the context of local political economies Doumani offers a groundbreaking examination of the stories and priorities of ordinary people and how they shaped the making of the modern Middle East

German Religious Women in Late Ottoman Beirut Julia Hauser, 2015-04-14 In German Religious Women in Late Ottoman Beirut Competing Missions Julia Hauser offers a critical analysis of the German Protestant Kaiserswerth deaconesses orphanage and boarding school for girls in late Ottoman Beirut as situated within the larger field of educational development in the city Drawing among other sources on the deaconesses largely unpublished letters home her study illuminates that the only way missionary organizations like the deaconesses could succeed was by entering into negotiations with their local environment adapting their agenda in the process Mission therefore was shaped not merely at home but by conflictual negotiations on the periphery a perspective quite different from the top down isolationist perspective of earlier research on missions

Experiencing the Beyond Gert Melville, Carlos Ruta, 2017-11-20 Experiencing the dimension that lies beyond our empirical grasp of the world has always been a challenge for human beings for it can expose the limitations of our agency Such experience while potentially terrifying can also furnish a basis for religious faith or hope of a better future The intercultural essays in this volume analyze ways of dealing with the beyond including magic religion myth and all promising utopias In The Shadows of Glories Past John W. Livingston, 2018-02-01 The title of this volume implies two things the greatness of the scientific tradition that Muslims had lost and the power of the West in whose threatening shadow reformers now labored to modernize in order to defend themselves against those very powers they were taking as models Copernicus and Darwin were the names that dominated the debate on science whose arguments and rebuttals were published mainly in the religious and secular journals in Cairo and Beirut from the 1870s Analysis and interpretation of this literature shows the hope that Arab reformers had of duplicating the Japanese success followed by the despair when success was denied A cultural malaise festered from generations of despair defeat and foreign occupation and this feeling transmogrified after 1967 to a psychosis in a significant number of secular writers educators and religious reformers The great debate on assimilating science was turned inward where defensive mechanisms of denial spun out perversions of science the Quran becoming a thesaurus of science and a more extreme derivative of that something called Islamic Science arising as an alternate science that was to be in harmony with the Quran Shari'a and Muslim belief This volume reveals the undermining effect of European imperialism on western oriented religious reformers and secular intellectuals for whom science and political reform went together and concludes with a chapter on the state of science in contemporary Muslim societies and the efforts to institutionalize science before the upheavals of 2011 so as to bring to life an authentic and indigenous culture that would sustain scientific study and research as autonomous pursuits Islam, Colonialism and the Modern Age in the Netherlands East Indies Nico J.G. Kaptein, 2014-07-31 In this biography Nico J G Kaptein studies the life and times of Sayyid Uthman 1822 1914 the most prominent Muslim scholar of his era in the Netherlands East Indies During his long career he provided guidance to the Muslim community and from 1889 onwards simultaneously served the colonial government as advisor for Muslim affairs after the famous C Snouck Hurgronje had engaged him Based on an analysis of his writings Kaptein focuses on the question of how Sayyid Uthman viewed the place of Islam in the colonial state and the many reactions this provoked both nationally and internationally e g from the Cairo based reformist Rashid Rida For an online exhibition on Sayyid Uthman of Batavia 1822 1914 A Life in the Service of Islam and Colonial Rule see http://www.library.leiden.edu/special/collections/special/sayyid_uthman/exhibition_now_online.html Religious Dynamics under the Impact of Imperialism and Colonialism Björn Bentlage, Marion Eggert, Hans Martin Krämer, Stefan Reichmuth, 2016-10-11 This sourcebook offers rare insights into a formative period in the modern history of religions Throughout the late 19th and the early 20th centuries when commercial political and cultural contacts intensified worldwide politics and religions became ever more entangled This volume offers a wide range of translated source texts from all over Asia the Middle East and Europe thereby diminishing the difficulty of having to handle the plurality of involved languages and backgrounds The ways in which the original authors some prominent and others little known thought about their own religion its place in the world and its relation to other religions allows for much needed insight into the shared and analogous challenges of an age dominated by imperialism and colonialism The Renaissance of the Levant Michael Kreutz,2019-03-18 Since the Mediterranean connects cultures Mediterranean studies have by definition an intercultural focus Throughout the modern era the Ottoman Empire has had a lasting impact on the cultures and societies of the Southern and Eastern Mediterranean However the modern Balkans are usually studied within the context of European history the southern Mediterranean within the context of Islam Although it makes sense to connect both regions this is a vast field and requires a command of different languages not necessarily related to each other Investigating both Greek and Arabic sources this book will shed some light on the significance of ideas in the political transitions of their time and how the proponents of these transitions often became so overwhelmed by the events that they helped trigger adjustments to their own ideas Also the discourses in Greek and Arabic reflect the provinces of the Ottoman Empire and it is instructive to see their differences and commonalities which helps explain contemporary politics
