Religious Authority In An Age Of Doubt:

Religious Authority in an Age of Doubt Rupert E. Davies, 1968-01-01 Religious Authority in an Age of Doubt Rupert Eric Davies, 1968 The Changing Shape of English Nonconformity, 1825-1925 Dale A. Johnson, 1999 This book addresses several dimensions of the transformation of English Nonconformity over the course of an important century in its history. It begins with the question of education for ministry, considering the activities undertaken by four major evangelical traditions: Congregationalist, Baptist, Methodist, and Presbyterian, to establish theological colleges for this purpose, and then takes up the complex three-way relationship of ministry, churches, and colleges that evolved from these activities. As author Dale Johnson illustrates, this evolution came to have significant implications for the Nonconformist engagement with its message and with the culture at large. These implications are investigated in chapters on the changing perception or understanding of ministry itself, religious authority, theological questions such as the doctrines of God and the atonement, and religious identity. In Johnson's exploration of these issues, conversations about these topics are located primarily in addresses at denominational meetings, conferences that took up specific questions, and representative religious and theological publications of the day that participated in key debates or advocated contentious positions. While attending to some important denominational differences, The Changing Shape of English Nonconformity, 1825-1925 focuses on the representative discussion of these topics across the whole spectrum of evangelical Nonconformity rather than on specific denominational traditions. Johnson maintains that too many interpretations of nineteenth-century Nonconformity, especially those that deal with aspects of the theological discussion within these traditions, have tended to depict such developments as occasions of decline from earlier phases of evangelical vitality and appeal. This book instead argues that it is more appropriate to assess these Nonconformist developments as a collective, necessary and deeply serious effort to come to terms with modernity and further to retain a responsible understanding of what it meant to be evangelical. It also shows these developments to be part of a larger schema through which Nonconformity assumed a more prominent place in the English culture of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. Islamic Religious Authority in a Modern Age Shaheen Amid Whyte, 2024-01-22 This book situates Australian Muslim experiences of religious authority within the global context of Islam in the modern world. While drawing on examples of Muslim majority states, new empirical findings indicate the growing diversity of Muslim religious actors in Australia, as well as the contextual realities shaping the way religious authority is legitimised and contested in democratic and authoritarian environments. In particular, the study challenges homogenous articulations of Islamic religious authority, in unearthing new voices, epistemologies, and socio-political factors shaping Muslim attitudes and experiences of religious authority. The book fills important gaps in the field, such as intra-Muslim relations, female religious authority, digital Islam, and the relationship between traditional ulama, reformists, and Muslim intellectuals in the West. Mapril,Ruy Blanes,Emerson Giumbelli,Erin K. Wilson,2017-02-24 This volume ethnographically explores the relation between secularities and religious subjectivities As a consequence of the demise of secularization theory we live in an interesting intellectual moment where the so called post secular coexists with the secular which in turn has become pluralized and historicized This cohabitation of the secular and post secular is revealed mainly through political dialectical processes that overshadow the subjective and inter subjective dimensions of secularity making it difficult to pinpoint concrete sites agents and objects of expression Drawing on cases from South America Africa and Europe contributors apply key insights from religious studies debates on the genealogies and formations of both religion and secularism They explore the spaces persons and places in which these categories emerge and mutually constitute one another Tradition and Modernity David Marshall,2013-05-20 Tradition and Modernity focuses on how Christians and Muslims connect their traditions to modernity looking especially at understandings of history changing patterns of authority and approaches to freedom The volume includes a selection of relevant texts from 19th and 20th century thinkers from John Henry Newman to Tariq Ramadan accompanied by illuminating commentaries The Pathfinder, a journal of independent religious reform, conducted by P.W. Perfitt Philip William Perfitt,1861 Children in Colonial America James Alan Marten,2007 Examining the aspects of childhood in the American colonies between the late 16th and late 18th centuries this text contains essays and documents that shed light on the ways in which the process of colonisation shaped childhood and in turn how the experience of children affected life in colonial America Messianic Zionism in the Digital Age Rachel Z. Jennifer Howe Peace and Riess Potterveld Law and Faith in a Sceptical Age Anthony Bradney, 2009-10-16 Law and Faith in a Sceptical Age is an analysis of the legal position of religious believers in a dominantly secular society Great Britain is a society based upon broadly liberal principles It claims to recognise the needs of religious believers and to protect them from discrimination But whilst its secular ideology pervades public discourse the vestigial remains of a Christian Protestant past are seen in things as varied as the structure of public holidays and the continued existence of established churches in both England and Scotland Religious Christian values also form the starting point for legal rules relating to matters such as marriage Active religious communities constitute a very small minority of the population however those who belong to them often see their religion as being the most important element of their identity Yet the world view of these communities is frequently at odds with both the prevailing liberal secular climate of Great Britain and its Christian Anglican past This necessarily entails a clash of ideologies that puts in question the secular majority's claim to want to protect religious minorities the possibility of it being able to sufficiently understand the needs of those minorities and the desirability or practicality of any accommodation between the needs of the various religious communities and the secular mainstream of society Law and Faith in a Sceptical Age addresses these issues by raising the question of whether a liberal secular state can protect religion Accommodation to different religious traditions forms part of the history of the legal systems of Britain This book asks whether further accommodation can and should be made Lived Islam A. Kevin Reinhart, 2020-06-11 This book is designed to serve as a text for courses on modern Islam It challenges misleading questions which foster assumptions of Islam as a monolithic essence to instead argue that Islam like all religions is complex and thus best understood through analogy with language Heresy, Magic and Witchcraft in Early Modern Europe Gary K Waite, 2019-10-10 In the fifteenth century many authorities did not believe Inquisitors stories of a supposed Satanic witch sect However the religious conflict of the sixteenth century Reformation especially popular movements of reform and revolt helped to create an atmosphere in which diabolical conspiracies which swept up religious dissidents Jews and magicians into their nets were believed to pose a very real threat Fear of the Devil and his followers inspired horrific incidents of judicially approved terror in early modern Europe leading after 1560 to the infamous witch hunts Bringing together the fields of Reformation and witchcraft studies this fascinating book reveals how the early modern period's religious conflicts led to widespread confusion and uncertainty Gary K Waite examines in depth how church leaders dispelled rising religious doubt by persecuting heretics and how alleged infernal plots and witches who confessed to making a pact with the Devil helped the authorities to reaffirm orthodoxy Waite argues that it was only when the authorities came to terms with pluralism that there was a corresponding decline in witch panics Politics of Religious Freedom Winnifred Fallers, Elizabeth Shakman Hurd, Saba Mahmood, Peter G. Danchin, 2015-07-22 In a remarkably short period of time the realization of religious freedom has achieved broad consensus as an indispensable condition for peace Faced with widespread reports of religious persecution public and private actors around the world have responded with laws and policies designed to promote freedom of religion But what precisely is being promoted What are the cultural and epistemological assumptions underlying this response and what forms of politics are enabled in the process The fruits of the three year Politics of Religious Freedom research project the contributions to this volume unsettle the assumption ubiquitous in policy circles that religious freedom is a singular achievement an easily understood state of affairs and that the problem lies in its incomplete accomplishment Taking a global perspective the more than two dozen contributors delineate the different conceptions of religious freedom predominant in the world today as well as their histories and social and political contexts Together the contributions make clear that the reasons for persecution are more varied and complex than is widely acknowledged and that the indiscriminate promotion of a single legal and cultural tool meant to address conflict across a wide variety of cultures can have the perverse effect of exacerbating the problems that plague the communities cited as falling short

The Age of Sacred Terror Daniel Benjamin, Steven Simon, 2003-10-14 Winner of the 2004 Arthur Ross Book Award from the Council on Foreign Relations From two of the world's foremost experts on the new terrorism comes the definitive book on the rise of al Qaeda and America's efforts to combat the most innovative and dangerous terrorist group ever Daniel Benjamin and Steven Simon trace the growth of radical Islam from its medieval origins and drawing on their years of counter terrorism work at the National Security Council provide essential insights into the thinking of Usama bin Laden and his followers With unique authority they analyze why America was unable to defend itself against this revolutionary threat on September 11 2001 why bin Laden's apocalyptic creed is gaining ground in the Islamic world and what the United States must do to stop the new terror

Discipleship in a Post-Christian Age Thiago Silva, 2025-05-20 This is an age where Christianity is no longer the assumed foundation of culture Instead secularism relativism and individualism shape how people think live and even approach faith Many within the church have unknowingly embraced a shallow self focused spirituality that offers comfort without transformation How can the church recover a robust life giving vision of discipleship in such a world With a little help from C S Lewis this book offers a way forward Lewis s insights rooted in reason imagination and community speak powerfully to this modern crisis equipping believers to engage both mind and heart Through cultural analysis and biblical wisdom this book calls the church to rediscover discipleship as an intellectual imaginative and relational pursuit one that forms resilient thoughtful and deeply rooted followers of Christ Whether picked up by a pastor church leader or everyday disciple longing for deeper faith this book will challenge and inspire readers to cultivate a Christianity that is not only true but beautiful and compelling in an increasingly post Christian world A Secular Age beyond the West Mirjam Künkler, John Madeley, Shylashri Shankar, 2018-07-05 This book traces religion and secularity in eleven countries not shaped by Western Christianity Japan China Indonesia India Pakistan Iran Russia Turkey Israel Egypt and Morocco and how they parallel or diverge from Charles Taylor s grand narrative of the North Atlantic world A Secular Age 2007 In all eleven cases the state enhanced by post colonial and post imperial legacies highly determines religious experience by variably regulating religious belief practice property education and or law Taylor s core condition of secularity namely legal permissibility and social acceptance of open religious unbelief Secularity III is largely absent in these societies The areas affected by state regulation however differ greatly In India Israel and most Muslim countries questions of religious law are central to state regulation But it is religious education and organization in China and church property and public practice in Russia that bear the brunt This book explains these differences using the concept of differential burdening Sufism in an Age of Transition Erik Ohlander, 2008-02-28 Although the early thirteenth century was a critical period in the development of Sufism it has received little scholarly attention Based on heretofore unexplored sources this book examines a pivotal figure from this period the scholar mystic statesman and eponym of one of the earliest ar qa lineages Umar al Suhraward In situating Suhraward s life work in its social political and religious contexts this book suggests that his universalizing Sufi system was not only enmeshed within a broader economy of Muslim religious learning but also furnished social spaces which allowed for novel modes of participation in Sufi religiosity In doing so this book provides a framework for understanding the increasingly ubiquitous presence of intentional Sufi communities and institutions throughout the late medieval Islamic world
