Religious Education In A Pluralist Society The Key Philosophical Issues:

Religious Education in a Pluralist Society John Edwards, Peter R. Hobson, 2019-07-12 Religious education in liberal pluralist societies such as the UK the USA and Australia underwent radical change in the 1980s and 1990s with a major shift towards multi faith educationally oriented programmes This has meant significant modifications to both the content and the methodology of religious education courses and to the way they are conceived of and taught in schools and universities One important implication of this change for the teaching and study of religion today is the need for a philosophical dimension that deals with issues such as the truth status of religious statements and the moral acceptability of religious claims This dimension is often insufficiently developed this lack is made more critical by the multiple competing truth claims of various religions giving rise to such contentious problems as the growth of fundamentalism increasing religious intolerance and conflict and differences of opinion on central moral problems such as birth control abortion and euthanasia This text attempts to provide the philosophical underpinning that the study and teaching of religion in modern societies requires Religious Education in Malawi and Ghana Yonah Matemba, Richardson Addai-Mununkum, 2021-03-15 Religious Education in Malawi and Ghana contributes to the literature on opportunities and complexities of inclusive approaches to Religious Education (RE). It analyses how RE in Malawi and Ghana engages with religious pluralisation and provides a compelling case for the need to re-evaluate current approaches in the conceptualisation, curriculum design and delivery of RE in schools in Malawi and Ghana. The book explains how a pervasive tradition of selection involving exclusion and inclusion of religion in RE leads to misrepresentation and in turn to misclusion of non-normative religions where religion is included but marginalized and misrepresented. The book contributes to wider discourse of RE on opportunities as well as complexities of post-confessional approaches including the need for RE to avoid perpetuating the continued legitimisation of selected religions and in the process the delegitimation of the religious other as a consequence of misrepresentation and misclusion. Inspired by Braten's methodology for comparative studies in RE, the book draws on two qualitative studies from Malawi and Ghana to highlight the pervasive problems of religious misclusion in RE. This book will be of great interest for academics, scholars and postgraduate students in the fields of RE, African education, educational policy, international education and comparative education.

Reimagining the Landscape of Religious Education Zehavit Gross, 2023-03-13 This book brings together new thinking and research on religious education's complex and evolving role in the multicultural, diverse postmodern era. It facilitates new realism and understanding of the current situation from empirical and reflective accounts relating to a variety of countries and political contexts as well as providing innovative methodological approaches to the study of education and religion. In different contexts around the world at different levels of education and from different theoretical lenses, religious education occupies a contested space. The ongoing changing nature of the world due to increasing secularization, rapid technological change, mass immigration, globalization, processes of conflict and challenging security issues from inter- to intra-state levels and with shifting geopolitical power balances generates the need to reconceptualize where religious education is positioned. It claims that religious education on its own can be an agent of moral, social and spiritual transformation.
