Religious Poverty Profit Economy In Medieval Europe:

Religious Poverty and the Profit Economy in Medieval Europe Lester K. Little, 1983 In this stimulating and important book Lester Little advances the original thesis that paradoxically it was the leading practitioners of voluntary poverty Franciscan and Dominican friars who finally formulated a Christian ethic which justified the activities of merchants moneylenders and other urban professionals and created a Christian spirituality suitable for townsmen Little has synthesized a vast body of specialized literature in Italian German French and English to write an interpretive essay which provides a new perspective on the interaction between economic and social forces and the religious movements advocating the apostolic ideal of voluntary poverty Little's book is a major contribution not only to the history of the religious movement of voluntary poverty but also to the interdisciplinary study of the middle ages Journal of Social History Religious poverty and the profit economy in Medieval Europe, 1978

Contesting Christendom James L. Halverson, 2008 The pervasiveness of the Christian religion has long been treated as one of the key features of medieval society Indeed Europe in the Middle Ages is often described simply as a Christian culture Yet what do we mean when we say that medieval Europe was a Christian society and what did it mean to be a Christian in the Middle Ages These questions are fundamental to any understanding of the Middle Ages yet the variety of theoretical approaches and conclusions represented in this carefully selected and provocative collection of key works in the field highlights the complexity of the answers Introducing students to medieval Christianity James L Halverson presents a rich array of readings that offers a variety of ways to study the history of religion within a chronological setting His opening chapter and introductions to each section and selection frame the essays and provide a strong conceptual framework to build upon Making it clear that scholars have approached religion from many perspectives and used many different methodologies this collection presents some of the best scholarship of religion as culture and practice emphasizing the ongoing attempt to understand the social and cultural aspects of medieval Christianity Contributions by Rudolf Bell Constance Brittain Bouchard Peter Brown Marcus Bull Caroline Walker Bynum Mark R Cohen Georges Duby Eamon Duffy Joan Ferrante Richard Fletcher Katherine L French Thomas A Fudge Herbert Grundmann James L Halverson Karen Louise Jolly Lester Little Rob Means Bernd Moeller Andrew P Roach Jane Tibbets Schulenburg Keith Thomas and Ian Wood

A History of Pastoral Care G. R. Evans, 2000-05-01 A history of pastoral care is a history of the Christian church in action But if any sense is to be made of the centuries of Christian work and effort not only the practicalities of making the message of the Gospel a reality on earth but also the ideas which have shaped the attempt century by century must be examined This is the history of 2000 years of thought and practice in Christian pastoral ministry Until comparatively late in that story the bulk of the formative thinking took place in the Middle East and in Europe and this forms the background for recent developments in understanding human nature and the ways in which that understanding has influenced our thinking in pastoral care Subjects covered range from the Biblical foundations to the sects and new religious movements from the Fathers the monks the Friars the Templars to the changes at the end of the twentieth century

Money, Markets and Trade in Late Medieval Europe Lawrin Armstrong, Martin M. Elbl, Ivana Elbl, Lawrin David Armstrong, 2007 The volume explores late medieval market mechanisms and associated institutional fiscal and monetary organizational decision making legal and ethical issues as well as selected aspects of production consumption and market integration The essays span a variety of local regional and long distance markets and networks The Theology of Debt in Late Medieval English Literature Anne Schuurman, 2024-01-18 Anne Schuurman makes the striking argument that medieval literature engenders the spirit of capitalism by defining the sinner as debtor

Flesh and Stone: The Body and the City in Western Civilization Richard Sennett, 1996-03-17 This completely unique history tells the story of urban life over 2 500 years through the bodily experience of men and women what sights smells and noises they took in how they dressed how they made love when they bathed and more in great cities from ancient Athens to modern New York Beyond

Reformation? David Aers, 2015-11-15 In Beyond Reformation An Essay on William Langland's Piers Plowman and the End of Constantinian Christianity David Aers presents a sustained and profound close reading of the final version of William Langland's Piers Plowman the most searching Christian poem of the Middle Ages in English His reading most unusually seeks to explore the relations of Langland's poem to both medieval and early modern reformations together with the ending of Constantinian Christianity Aers concentrates on Langland's extraordinarily rich ecclesiastic politics and on his account of Christian virtues and the struggles of Conscience to discern how to go on in his often baffling culture The poem's complex allegory engages with most institutions and forms of life In doing so it explores moral languages and their relations to current practices and social tendencies Langland's vision conveys a strange sense that in his historical moment some moral concepts were being transformed and some traditions the author cherished were becoming unintelligible Beyond Reformation seeks to show how Langland grasped subtle shifts that were difficult to discern in the fourteenth century but were to become forces with a powerful future in shaping Western Christianity The essay form that Aers has chosen for his book contributes to the effectiveness of the argument he develops in tandem with the structure of Langland's poem he sustains and tests his argument in a series of steps or passus a Langlandian mode of proceeding His essay unfolds an argument about medieval and early modern forms of Constantinian Christianity and reformation and the way in which Langland's own vision of a secularizing de Christianizing late medieval church draws him toward the idea of a church of fools beyond papacy priesthood hierarchy and institutions For Aers Langland opens up serious diachronic issues concerning Christianity and culture His essay includes a brief summary of the poem and modern translations alongside the original medieval English It will challenge specialists on Langland's poem and supply valuable resources of thought for anyone who continues to struggle with the church of today Heresy and Authority in Medieval Europe Edward Peters, 2011-09-22 Throughout the Middle Ages and early modern Europe theological uniformity was synonymous with social cohesion in societies that regarded themselves as bound together at their most fundamental levels by a religion To maintain a belief in opposition to the orthodoxy was to set oneself in opposition not merely to church and state but to a whole culture in all of its manifestations From the eleventh century to the fifteenth however dissenting movements appeared with greater frequency attracted more followers acquired philosophical as well as theological dimensions and occupied more and more the time and the minds of religious and civil authorities In the perception of dissent and in the steps taken to deal with it lies the history of medieval heresy and the force it exerted on religious social and political communities long after the Middle Ages In this volume Edward Peters makes available the most compact and wide ranging collection of source materials in translation on medieval orthodoxy and heterodoxy in social context Christian History in Rural Germany David Mayes, 2022-11-14 Surely Christian history in Germany principally followed the outlines of a Catholic and Protestant narrative right On the contrary for Hesse Hanau and Fulda this dominant framework largely obscures the historical experience of most Christians specifically rural Christians The rural Christian narrative animated for more than a millennium by agricultural and communal forces principally followed an indigenous path characterized by long term surges and setbacks This path eventually bifurcated not in the 1517 1648 period but rather in the wake of the 1648 Peace of Westphalia and it did so not into Catholic and Protestant storylines but rather into those Christian corpora Gemeinden which maintained their local civil sacred unity into the twentieth century and those which lost that unity after succumbing to Westphalia's divisive effects Heresy in the Middle Ages Andrea Janelle Dickens, 2024 Medieval Christianity evolved economic intellectual and theological structures to consolidate authority and test orthodoxy This book investigates the relationships between the medieval church and the growing number of heretical groups highlighting where they were motivated by overlapping concerns such as a zeal to live the apostolic life Individuals, Families, and Communities in Europe, 1200-1800 Katherine A. Lynch, 2003-08-21 A study of the family's function in western society from 1200 1800 first published in 2003 The Oxford Illustrated History of Medieval Europe George Holmes, 1988 The individual chapters are scholarly and up to the minute without loss of accessibility or pace The illustrations are many apposite and refreshingly unhackneyed Times Literary Supplement An Anthropology of Marxism Cedric J. Robinson, 2019-01-18 An Anthropology of Marxism offers Cedric Robinson's analysis of the history of communalism that has been claimed by Marx and Marxists Suggesting that the socialist ideal was embedded both in Western and non Western civilizations and cultures long before the opening of the modern era and did not begin with or depend on the existence of capitalism Robinson interrogates the social cultural institutional and historical materials that were the seedbeds for communal modes of living and reimagining society Ultimately it pushes back against Marx's vision of a better society as rooted in a Eurocentric society and cut off from its own precursors Accompanied by a new foreword by H L T Quan and a preface by Avery Gordon this invaluable text reimagines the communal ideal from a broader perspective that transcends modernity industrialization and capitalism Exploring the Future of Christian Monasticisms Greg

Peters,2020-01-15 The institution of monasticism in the Christian Church is in general decline at least in so called first world nations Though there are many reasons for this monastic leaders are confronted by the reality of fewer communities monks and nuns nonetheless At the same time many younger Christians are rediscovering the rich heritage of the monastic tradition Though they themselves might not be called to join a traditional monastery they are eager to appropriate monastic practices in their own lives This had led to a movement known as the new monasticism or secular monasticism Despite lacking a unified vision and any central organization these new secular monastics are attempting in their own ways to carry on the tradition and practices of Christian monasticism As well there is a movement within historical Christian monasteries to pour new wine into old wineskins Traditional forms of monasticism are also generally flourishing in developing nations breathing new life into monasticism This volume looks at the current monastic landscape to assess where monasticism stands and to imagine ways in which it will grow in the future leading not only to a renewed Christian monasticism but to new monasticisms
