Remembering Performance Oral History:

Remembering D. Pollock, 2017-02-28 Drawing on the work of scholars and practitioners such as Augusto Boal Gloria Anzaldúa and Trinh Minh ha these essays advocate oral history and oral history based performance as means to challenge and expand upon traditional ways of transmitting historical knowledge The contributors central concerns are performative aspects of oral history itself and the theatrical or classroom re performance of oral history The essays detail classroom and public pedagogies community based interventions processes of developing interview based performances and the ethical and political implications of oral history as an embodied form of representation The essays collected in this volume present the most current scholarship straddling the rich intersection between oral history and performance and together suggest ways for scholars and performers to use oral history to challenge more traditional modes of knowledge Documenting Performance Toni Sant, 2017-03-23 Performance in the digital age has undergone a radical shift in which a once ephemeral art form can now be relived replayed and repeated Until now much scholarship has been devoted to the nature of live performance in the digital age Documenting Performance is the first book to provide a collection of key writings about the process of documenting performance focused not on questions of liveness or the artistic qualities of documents but rather on the professional approaches to recovering preserving and disseminating knowledge of live performance Through its four part structure the volume introduces readers to important writings by international practitioners and scholars on the contemporary context for documenting performance processes of documenting performance documenting bodies in motion documenting to create In each chapters examine the ways performance is documented and the issues arising out of the process of documenting performance While theorists have argued that performance becomes something else whenever it is documented the writings reveal how the documents themselves cannot be regarded simply as incomplete remains from live events The methods for preserving and managing them over time ensuring easy access of such materials in systematic archives and collections requires professional attention in its own right Through the process of documenting performance artists acquire a different perspective on their own work audiences can recall specific images and sounds for works they have witnessed in person and others who did not see the original work can trace the memories of particular events or use them to gain an understanding of something that would otherwise remain unknown to them and their peers Performing Remembering Rivka Syd Eisner, 2018-08-13 This book explores the performances and politics of memory among a group of women war veterans in Ho Chi Minh City Vietnam Through ethnographic oral history based research it connects the veterans wartime histories memory politics performance practices recollections of imprisonment and torture and social activism with broader questions of how to understand and attend to continuing transgenerational violence and trauma With an extensive introduction and subsequent chapters devoted to in depth analysis of four women s remarkable life stories the book explores the performance and performativity of culture ethnographic oral history practice personal collective and trans cultural memory and the politics of postwar trauma witnessing and redress Through the veterans dynamic practices of prospective remembering pain taking and enduring optimism it offers new insights into matrices of performance vital to the shared work of social transformation It will appeal to readers interested in performance studies memory studies gender studies Vietnamese studies and oral history

Inside the Historical Film Bruno Ramirez, 2014-09-30 From cinema s beginnings filmmakers have turned to the past for their stories so much so that in many ways our historical culture is shaped more in the movie theatre than in the classroom Inside the Historical Film argues how and why film can enrich our understanding of the past Bruno Ramirez discusses a wide range of films from various historical and national contexts pointing to the role that film crafts play in translating historical events into cinematic language He takes the reader through the process of conception research design and production of several films that he researched and co wrote explaining the decisions that were made to best convey historical knowledge The practice based quality at the core of Ramirez s analysis is further enhanced by conversations with world renowned film directors including Denys Arcand Constantin Costa Gavras Deepa Mehta Renzo Rossellini Paolo and Vittorio Taviani and Margarethe von Trotta Grounded in an appreciation for the interpretative value of making films and cinema s ability to reach large public audiences at personal and emotional levels Inside the Historical Film seeks to understand historical films as both creative works and multi layered representations of the past

The Storytelling State Cheng Nien Yuan, 2025-07-31 In The Storytelling State Cheng Nien Yuan a Singaporean performance scholar and dramaturg charts Singapore s development into a storytelling state since the 2010s In such a state public auto biographical stories of everyday people elicited through visualized narrative interviews proliferate the nation s mediascape Governmental agencies and government linked institutions actively facilitate this phenomenon through campaigns and funding incentives Examining several key campaigns from the period of 2011 2021 Cheng shows how state and society collaborate to cultivate an intimate confessional public Taken together these stories generate a new paradigm of communicating social policy and the Singapore Story by mapping the national archive onto everyday bodies Bite sized pieces of consumable lives are marketed as authentic windows to the private self producing ways of being doing and feeling in the nation in accordance with contemporary societal concerns This book enters a larger debate about storytelling s impact around the world in the digital age Singapore s storytelling state functions within a global network of performing memory with new media Its origins can be traced to popular American models of oral history telling as seen in StoryCorps and Humans of New York with their techniques appropriated for a Singaporean audience Yet even when well intentioned the claims of such projects of giving voice to the non elite and the marginalized can be undermined by injurious effects that are not unique to the Singaporean context At the same time the embodied and emotional nature of these performances make the absolute control of meaning difficult Often they reveal more than they should transgressing the normative demands of the storytelling state At stake here are performances of identity mobility and belonging When the national stage is set for life itself what does it mean to have a life
