Ritual Unbound Reading Sacrifice In Modernist Fiction:

Ritual Unbound Thomas Cousineau, 2004 This study explores the vestiges of primitive sacrificial rituals that emerge in a group of canonical modernist novels including The Turn of the Screw Heart of Darkness The Good Soldier The Great Gatsby and To the Lighthouse It argues that these novels reenact a process that achieved its seminal expression in the Genesis story of The Binding of Isaac in which Abraham having been prevented from sacrificing Isaac offers up a ram in his place Modernist reenactments of this pattern present narrators who although vigorously protesting the victimization of certain characters unfailingly seize upon others as their surrogates Each novel is designed in such a way however as to resist the reconstruction of a sacrificial ritual to which its narrator is prone The resulting tension between the binding and unbinding of ritual persecution dramatizes the paradox that we can neither believe convincingly in the guilt of our scapegoats nor imagine a society that has dispensed with them entirely Thomas Cousineau is Professor of English at Washington College in Maryland

Ritual and the Idea of Europe in Interwar Writing Patrick R. Query, 2016-04-08 While most critical studies of interwar literary politics have focused on nationalism Patrick Query makes a case that the idea of Europe intervenes in instances when the individual and the nation negotiate identity He examines the ways interwar writers use three European ritual forms verse drama bullfighting and Roman Catholic rite to articulate ideas of European cultural identity Within the growing discourse of globalization Query argues Europe presents a special though often overlooked case because it adds a mediating term between local and global His book is divided into three sections the first treats the verse dramas of T S Eliot W B Yeats and W H Auden the second discusses the uses of the Spanish bullfight in works by D H Lawrence Stephen Spender Jack Lindsay George Barker Cecil Day Lewis and others and the third explores the cross cultural impact of Catholic ritual in Graham Greene Evelyn Waugh and David Jones While all three ritual forms were frequently associated with the most conservative tendencies of the age Query shows that each had a remarkable political flexibility in the hands of interwar writers concerned with the idea of Europe

Tragic Novels, René Girard and the American Dream Carly Osborn, 2020-05-14 This book draws on the philosopher René Girard to argue that three twentieth century American novels Jeffrey Eugenides's The Virgin Suicides Rick Moody's The Ice Storm and Richard Yates's Revolutionary Road are tragedies Until now Girardian literary analysis has generally focused on representations of human desire in texts and neglected both other emotions and the place of tragedy Carly Osborn addresses these omissions by using Girardian theory to present evidence that novels can indeed be tragedies The book advances the scholarship of tragedy that has run from Aristotle to Nietzsche to Terry Eagleton proposing a new way to read modern novels through ancient traditions In addition this is the first work to examine the place of women as victims or in Girardian terms scapegoats in twentieth century fiction specifically by considering the representation of women's bodies and ambivalence about their identities In deploying a rich and vivid array of tragic tropes The Virgin Suicides The Ice Storm and Revolutionary Road participate in a deep rooted American tragic tradition Tragic Novels the American Dream and Ren Girard will be of interest to those working at the intersection of philosophy and literature as well as Girard specialists Edinburgh Dictionary of Modernism Vassiliki Kolocotroni, 2017-12-20 This book examines how the productive interplay between nineteenth century literary and visual media paralleled the emergence of a modern psychological understanding of the ways in which reading viewing and dreaming generate moving images in the mind

Violence, Desire, and the Sacred, Volume 2 Scott Cowdell, Chris Fleming, Joel Hodge, 2015-07-30 State of the art interpretations of Rene Girard's theory and its relation to fields as diverse as politics national literature pastoral care and peace making Migration, Modernity and Transnationalism in the Work of Joseph Conrad Kim Salmons, Tania Zulli, 2021-07-29 Examining the notion of migration and transnationalism within the life and work of Joseph Conrad this book situates the multicultural and transnational characters that comprise his fiction while locating Conrad as a subject of the Russian state whose provenance is Polish but whose identity is that of a merchant sailor and English country gentleman Conrad's characters are often marked by crossings changes of nation changes of culture changes of identity which refract Conrad's own cultural transitions These crossings not only subjectivise the experience of the migrant through the modern complexities of technology and speed but also through cross cultural encounters of food and language Collectively these essays explore the experience of the migrant as exile the inescapable intermeshing of migration modernity and transnationalism as well as Conrad's own global and multicultural outlook Conrad's work writes across historical political and ethnic borders speaking to a transnational reality that continues to have relevance today The Lost Girls Andrew Radford, 2007-01-01 The Lost Girls analyses a number of British writers between 1850 and 1930 for whom the myth of Demeter's loss and eventual recovery of her cherished daughter Kore Persephone swept off in violent and catastrophic captivity by Dis God of the Dead had both huge personal and aesthetic significance This book in addition to scrutinising canonical and less well known texts by male authors such as Thomas Hardy E M Forster and D H Lawrence also focuses on unjustly neglected women writers Mary Webb and Mary Butts who utilised occult tropes to relocate themselves culturally and especially in Butts's case to recover and restore a forgotten legacy the myth of matriarchal origins These novelists are placed in relation not only to one another but also to Victorian archaeologists and especially to Jane Ellen Harrison 1850 1928 one of the first women to distinguish herself in the history of British Classical scholarship and whose anthropological approach to the study of early Greek art and religion both influenced and became transformed by the literature Rather than offering a teleological argument that moves lock step through the decades The Lost Girls proposes chapters that detail specific engagements with Demeter Persephone through which to register distinct literary cultural shifts in uses of the myth and new insights into the work of particular writers J. G. Ballard Jeannette Baxter, 2009-02-12 J G Ballard is one of the most significant British writers of the contemporary period His award winning novels are widely studied and read yet the appeal of Ballard's idiosyncratic and often controversial imagination is such that his work also enjoys something of a cult status with the reading public The hugely successful cinematic adaptations of Empire of the Sun Spielberg 1987 and Crash Cronenberg 1996 further confirm Ballard's unique place within the literary cultural and popular imaginations This guide includes new critical perspectives on Ballard's major novels as well as his short stories and journalistic writing covering issues of form narrative and experimentation Whilst offering fresh readings of dominant and recurring themes in Ballard's writing including history sexuality violence consumer capitalism and urban space the contributors also explore Ballard's contribution to major contemporary debates including those surrounding post 9 11 politics terrorism neo imperialism science morality and ethics

Israel in Exile Ranen Omer-Sherman,2010-10-01 Israel in Exile is a bold exploration of how the ancient desert of Exodus and Numbers as archetypal site of human liberation forms a template for modern political identities radical skepticism and questioning of official narratives of the nation that appear in the works of contemporary Israeli authors including David Grossman Shulamith Hareven and Amos Oz as well as diasporic writers such as Edmund Jab's and Simone Zelitch In contrast to other ethnic and national representations Jewish writers since antiquity have not constructed a neat antithesis between the desert and the city or nation rather the desert becomes a symbol against which the values of the city or nation can be tested measured and sometimes found wanting This book examines how the ethical tension between the clashing Mosaic and Davidic paradigms of the desert still reverberate in secular Jewish literature and produce fascinating literary rewards Omer Sherman ultimately argues that the ancient encounter with the desert acquires a renewed urgency in response to the crisis brought about by national identities and territorial conflicts very fabric of American life yet rarely surfaces in the nation's literary history. Even in novels about business it proves an elusive motif that fails to mirror actual business organizations. This book argues that literary representations of business remain ineffable because business serves potential aesthetic functions subtly yet meaningfully impacting readers. Exploring the complex representation of business in realist, naturalist, and modernist works, Erhan Simsek reveals these functions by analyzing how the motif intertwines with social developments, literary movements, and author biographies. He thus illuminates the motif itself while highlighting the utility of a focus on the changing functions of literature. Adventures with Iphigenia in Tauris Edith Hall, 2013-01-10. This book presents a cultural history of the Greek tragedy and its influence on subsequent Greek and Roman art and literature. Three-part Inventions Thomas Cousineau, 2008. This critical survey of Thomas Bernhard's novels highlights a recurring theme of three in Bernhard's work. Thomas J. Cousineau argues that each of Bernhard's novels, although firmly anchored in Austrian history, emerges from an archetypal story involving three figures: protagonist, scapegoat, and author. Virginia Woolf Miscellany, 2006. American Notes Queries, 2006.
