with a few months after Salmon's departure. Salmon was back in England by June 1811, but his time was the long distance was considerable. During the long voyage, Salmon's health was poor, and he spent much of his time in the hospital. The museum's collection of Salmon's works is the most complete in the world.

Other notable works of Salmon's include the painting of the shipwreck on the opposite page, which is the most famous of his works. The painting is a reproduction of the original, which is in the collection of the Peabody Essex Museum.

Salmon is not listed in the directory of this time, which suggests he was on the move. A good deal of his work, however, is in the collection of the Peabody Essex Museum, which is the most complete in the world.
