Building the Bloc Ruth Bloch Rubin, 2017-08-11 Traversing more than a century of American history this book advances a new theory of congressional organization to explain why and how party dissidents rely on institutions of their own making arguing that these intraparty organizations can radically shift the balance of power between party leaders and rank and file members Intraparty organizations empower legislators of varying ideological stripes to achieve collective and coordinated action by providing selective incentives to cooperative members transforming public good policies into excludable accomplishments and helping members to institute rules and procedures to promote group decision making Drawing on rich archival evidence and interview data the book details the challenges dissident lawmakers encounter when they face off against party leaders and their efforts to organize in response Eight case studies complicate our understanding of landmark fights over rules reform early twentieth century economic struggles mid century battles over civil rights legislation and contemporary debates over national health care and fiscal policy

Big Jim Eastland J. Lee Annis Jr.,2016-07-21 For decades after the Second World War Senator James O Eastland 1904 1986 was one of the more intransigent leaders of the Deep South s resistance to what he called the Second Reconstruction And yet he developed late in his life a very real friendship with state NAACP chair Aaron Henry Big Jim Eastland provides the life story of this savvy unpredictable powerhouse From 1947 to 1978 Eastland wore that image of resistance proudly even while recognizing from the beginning his was the losing side Biographer J Lee Annis Jr chronicles such complexities extensively and also delves into many facets lesser known to the general public Born in the Mississippi Delta as part of the elite planter class Eastland was appointed to the US Senate in 1941 by Democratic Governor Paul B Johnson Sr Eastland ran for and won the Senate seat outright in 1942 and served in the Senate from 1943 until his retirement in 1978 A blunt man of few words but many contradictions Eastland was an important player in Washington from his initial stint in 1941 where he rapidly salvaged several key local projects from bungling intervention to the 1970s when he shepherded the Supreme Court nominees of Richard Nixon and Gerald Ford to Senate confirmation Annis paints a full picture of the man describing the objections Eastland raised to civil rights proposals and the eventual accommodations he needed to accept after the passage of the Voting Rights Act of 1965
