Luftwaffe Night Fighter Units 1939-45:

Night Fighter Aces of the Luftwaffe 1943-45 Neil Page, Jean-Louis Roba, 2025-06-30 Features color profiles by acclaimed aviation artist Claes Sundin The week long Allied bombing campaign against Hamburg in late July 1943 was not only hugely destructive but also had a significant impact on the German night fighter arm From now on the boxes of Kammhuber's Raumnachtjagd would be the starting point from which fighters would be led into the bomber stream as early as possible a tactic dubbed Zahme Sau The night fighters had to quickly adopt new freelance procedures and also found themselves increasingly engaged in daylight operations These actions resulted in heavy losses especially of experienced aces which the Nachtjagd could ill afford and struggled to replace The winter of 1943-44 saw a series of huge raids on Berlin Although hard pressed the Nachtjagd aces were still able to score some heavy tactical victories Over a thousand RAF bombers were shot down more than double the expected losses before the campaign was cut short New night fighter aces emerged often former transport and reconnaissance pilots and the upward firing armament of the Bf 110s and Ju 88s could cut swathes through the stream However by mid 1944 as the Allies advanced the night fighter aces were forced into new roles including ground strafing armor and troop concentrations a role for which they were clearly unsuited A small number of Me 262 jets were deployed in a new NJG 11 but exclusively committed against the rapid twin engined Mosquitos of the RAF's Light Night Striking Force Heinkel He 219s were never available in significant numbers and prowling Mosquito intruders were an ever present danger to Nachtjagd crews While the surviving night fighter aces continued their defensive actions virtually every night by March 1945 the Nachtjagd was in terminal decline Of the 1,100 night fighter pilots and crew who claimed at least one victory some 669 were lost a casualty rate of around 74 percent Fully illustrated and featuring newly translated personal accounts this is a chronological account of the Luftwaffe night fighters in the second part of the war covering major campaigns the biographies of individual aces and the details of their aircraft

Nachtjäger David P. Williams, 2021 This is a compendium edition of the much regarded and long out of print Nachtjäger volumes in the acclaimed Classic Colour series on the aircraft camouflage and markings of the Luftwaffe between 1933-1945 The book focuses on the operations and the aircraft of the Nachtjagd from its origins in the inter war years through its desperate and climactic battles against the massed raids of RAF Bomber Command from 1943 onwards The force evolved from using single seat Bf 109s to twin engined Bf 110s and Ju 88s with advanced radar equipment and weapons systems supported by a sophisticated ground reporting network It produced many leading night fighter aces such as Wolfgang Falck Heinz Wolfgang Schnauffer and

Helmut Lent As the war progressed and the strategic situation began to tilt away from Germany's favor so ironically the pace of development quickened with the Luftwaffe introducing updated versions of the Ju 88 as well as new types such as the Do 217 and He 219 alongside the tactical innovation of Wilde Sau night fighting which saw the return of single seat Bf 109s and Fw 190s In the last desperate months of the war even the Me 262 was introduced as a night fighter in limited numbers aerial knock out on Great Britain became a dominating factor in the formulation of national policy This text examines how justified these pre war fears were in light of the Luftwaffe s capabilities in 1939 and describes the bombing attacks on Britain during the years that followed together with the operations of the defences to parry them From the start the air defences proved able to take a heavy toll on the bombers attacking Britain by day By night it was a different matter Initially the fighter and gun defences were lucky if between them they were able to knock out one or two bombers out of three or four hundred involved in a night attack From this poor beginning the defences improved out of all recognition and when the Germans launched a series of attacks on London early in 1944 it cost them one bomber and four trained crewmen for every five British civilians killed Blitz on Britain makes compelling reading for anyone interested in the Luftwaffe s wartime raids on Britain and how the air defences ultimately succeeded in defeating this long running aerial onslaught Hamburg 1940-45

the globe and tell a vivid tale of how air power became such a decisive factor in modern warfare North Northumberland at War, 1939-45 Craig Armstrong, 2017-05-31 In 1939 North Northumberland shared a proud tradition of military service with its wider region and this was reflected in the huge numbers of men and women from the area who came forward for service in the military or in roles such as the Home Guard ARP services or nursing This part of Northumberland was a key recruitment centre for the local county regiment the Royal Northumberland Fusiliers with men from the area being heavily involved in the fighting during the blitzkrieg of France and the Low Countries the miracle of Dunkirk as well as many more battles Yet to the dismay of many an entire territorial battalion was taken prisoner at Singapore This district was also vital as a training area with the wide and relatively uncluttered skies being widely used for the training of aircrew one airfield played a key role in the build up to D Day In addition to combat and training this area was also rich with fertile land and so played a crucial role in the war effort as it supplied food to its own communities and wider Britain Many communities in the area welcomed evacuees from urban Tyneside whilst also welcoming servicemen especially from the RAF into their homes Others saw the business opportunities and this book includes accounts of the struggle that many families faced in coping with rising wartime prices longer working hours and endless worry Despite the hardships the people of North Northumberland undertook they all bundled together and continued to provide incredible charitable support right up until the end of the war in addition to their normal efforts They managed to maintain their morale throughout the majority of the war despite rationing blackout and wartime restrictions North Northumberland at War 1939 1945 poignantly commemorates the efforts and achievements of Northumberland's northern communities farmers fighters families divided all surviving astounding feats

Aberdeen at War 1939-45 Craig Armstrong, 2020-10-19 A close up look at what World War II was like for this Scottish city the second most raided in Britain Includes photos Scotland was of grave strategic importance during WWII due to its geographical position while its capital hosted many military and civil organizations Further north Aberdeen possessed significant shipbuilding facilities including Hall Russell Co which built such vessels as corvettes and frigates resulting in the yard being targeted by the Luftwaffe on multiple occasions The fishing fleet was also crucial in supplying food for a war starved Britain and many Aberdeenshire men risked their lives putting out to sea Many were killed by enemy aircraft or mines No member of the population escaped the war whether it was the many men and women who served in the military or in roles such as the Home Guard ARP services nursing working in vital war industries or struggling to keep a household under strict rationing and wartime stress Aberdeen was originally classed as a neutral area and no plans were made for evacuation By 1940 however anger and frustration drove many to petition for changing this classification The petitioners were likely proved correct as Aberdeen went on to become the most frequently raided city after London in Britain earning it the nickname the Siren City It was also the site of the final Luftwaffe attack on Scottish soil when a concerted attack was made on April 21 1943 resulting in 125 deaths and about 12 000 houses destroyed or damaged Aberdeenshire also played a large role in the war effort in the air It was ideally placed to enable the RAF to patrol not only northeast Scotland but also the North Sea and vital approaches to the naval base at Orkney while the RAF also launched raids on occupied Norway and enemy shipping Aberdeen at War 1939 1945 poignantly commemorates the efforts and achievements of Aberdeen workers fighters families divided all surviving astounding tests
