Genealogies in the Library of Congress Marion J. Kaminkow,2012-09 A complement to genealogies in the Library of Congress t p of fifth v      A History of Britain's Transport Jeremy Black,2025-02-28 Covers the evolution of transport history from walking and packhorses to modern rail motoring and air travel An accessible book to draw on popular interest in transport history routes vehicles and experiences Transport history is social and industrial national history Passengers and freight will be covered including all types of transport from walking and packhorses that predominated for much of national history both of which tend to be underrated to changes brought by improvements to road transport from the Romans to medieval bridgebuilders and eighteenth century turnpikes and in parallel river coastal and canal travel again from the Romans to the eighteenth century The story moves to the age of rail motoring and lastly air All forms overlap as well as being sequential      The Complete History of Wheeled Transportation Britannica Educational Publishing,2011-11-01 While the wheel itself has changed little over time it has immeasurably altered the nature of transportation This insightful volume examines the various wheeled conveyances that have been instrumental in agriculture and commerce carts and wagons for instance as well as those that have facilitated human travel coaches bicycles cars and buses among others Also explored is the evolution of roads as they have expanded to accommodate various modes of wheeled transportation      Roads to Power Jo Guldi,2012-01-01 Guldi narrates how Britain built the first nation connected by infrastructure how a libertarian revolution destroyed a national economy and how technology caused strangers to stop speaking The new infrastructure state saw unprecedented control by bureaucrats over everyday life and gave rise to competing visions of community still debated today

The Texture of Industry Robert B. Gordon,Patrick M. Malone,1997 While historians have given ample attention to stories of entrepreneurship invention and labor conflict they have told us little about actual work places and how people worked Workers seldom wrote about their daily employment However they did leave behind their tools products shops and factories as well as the surrounding industrial landscapes and communities In this book Gordon and Malone look at the industrialization of North America from the perspective of the industrial archaeologist Using material evidence from such varied sites as Indian steatite quarries automobile plants and coal mines they examine manufacturing technology transportation systems and the effects of industrialization on the land Their research greatly expands our understanding of industry and focuses attention on the contributions of anonymous artisans whose skills shaped our industrial heritage

The Enlightenment of Thomas Beddoes Trevor Levere,Larry Stewart,Hugh Torrens,Joseph Wachelder,2016-11-10 Thomas Beddoes 1760 1808 lived in decidedly interesting times in which established orders in politics and science were challenged by revolutionary new ideas Enthusiastically participating in the heady atmosphere of Enlightenment debate Beddoes career suffered from his radical views on politics and science Denied a professorship at Oxford he set up a medical practice in Bristol in 1793 Six years later with support from a range of leading industrialists and scientists including the Wedgwoods Erasmus Darwin James Watt James Keir and others associated with the Lunar Society he established a Pneumatic Institution for investigating the therapeutic effects of breathing different kinds of air on a wide spectrum of diseases The treatment of the poor gratis was an important part of the Pneumatic Institution and Beddoes who had long concerned himself with their moral and material well being published numerous pamphlets and small books about their education wretched material circumstances proper nutrition and the importance of affordable medical facilities Beddoes democratic political concerns reinforced his belief that chemistry and medicine should co operate to ameliorate the conditions of the poor But those concerns also polarized the medical profession and the wider community of academic chemists and physicians many of whom became mistrustful of Beddoes projects due to his radical politics Highlighting the breadth of Beddoes concerns in politics chemistry medicine geology and education including the use of toys and models this book reveals how his reforming and radical zeal were exemplified in every aspect of his public and professional life and made for a remarkably coherent program of change He was frequently a contrarian but not without cause as becomes apparent once he is viewed in the round as part of the response to the politics and social pressures of the late Enlightenment

Charles Dickens's Networks Jonathan H. Grossman,2012-03 The same week in February 1836 that Charles Dickens was hired to write his first novel The Pickwick Papers the first railway line in London opened Charles Dickens s Networks explores the rise of the global high speed passenger transport network in the nineteenth century and the indelible impact it made on Dickens s work The advent first of stage coaches then of railways and transoceanic steam ships made unprecedented round trip journeys across once seemingly far distances seem ordinary and systematic Time itself was changed The Victorians overran the separate local times kept in each town establishing instead the synchronized standard time which now ticks on our clocks Jonathan Grossman examines the history of public transport s systematic networking of people and how this revolutionized perceptions of time space and community and how the art form of the novel played a special role in synthesizing and understanding it all Focusing on a trio of road novels by Charles Dickens he looks first at a key historical moment in the networked community s coming together then at a subsequent recognition of its tragic limits and finally at the construction of a revised view that expressed the precarious limited omniscient perspective by which passengers came to imagine their journeying in the network Creating Paradise Richard Wilson,Alan Mackley,2000-01-01 Looking at the building of country houses as a whole this book investigates why owners embarked on extensive building programmes often following a grand tour It explores the cost of building and the cost of furnishing and decoration Civil Engineering Heritage Roger Cragg,1997-04-08 Part of the Heritage titles this illustrated book covers Wales and the Western part of central England from Cheshire in the north to just south of Bristol It describes many examples of civil engineering heritage and contains location maps and notes on access to sites and the achievements of famous names The

Technical Development of Roads in Britain Graham West, 2019-05-07 This title was first published in 2003 The history of roads in Great Britain has not been one of steady development but rather one that has waxed and waned in response to social military and economic needs and also as to whether there have been alternative methods of transport available Paralleling this the technical aspects of road construction with the one great exception of Roman roads can be seen as a fitful progression of improvement followed by neglect as the roadmaker has responded albeit tardily on occasion to the needs of the road user This text describes the technical development of British roads in relation to the needs of the time and thereby touches upon its relation to the history of the country more generally Emulsions and Emulsion Stability Johan

Sjoblom, 2005-11-21 Emulsions and Emulsion Stability Second Edition provides comprehensive coverage of both theoretical and practical aspects of emulsions The book presents fundamental concepts and processes in emulsified systems such as flocculation coalescence stability precipitation deposition and the evolution of droplet size distribution The bo Leonidas

Polk Huston Horn, 2019-02-19 Leonidas Polk was a graduate of West Point who resigned his commission to enter the Episcopal priesthood as a young man At first combining parish ministry with cotton farming in Tennessee Polk subsequently was elected the first bishop of the Louisiana Diocese whereupon he bought a sugarcane plantation and worked it with several hundred slaves owned by his wife Then in the 1850s he was instrumental in the founding of the University of the South in Sewanee Tennessee When secession led to war he pulled his diocese out of the national church and with other Southern bishops established what they styled the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Confederate States of America Polk then offered his military services to his friend and former West Point classmate Jefferson Davis and became a major general in the Confederate Army Polk was one of the more notable yet controversial generals of the war Recognizing his indispensable familiarity with the Mississippi Valley Confederate president Jefferson Davis commissioned his elevation to a high military position regardless of his lack of prior combat experience Polk commanded troops in the Battles of Belmont Shiloh Perryville Stones River Chickamauga and Meridian as well as several smaller engagements in Georgia leading up to Atlanta Polk is remembered for his bitter disagreements with his immediate superior the likewise controversial General Braxton Bragg of the Army of Tennessee In 1864 while serving under the command of General Joseph E Johnston Polk was killed by Union cannon fire as he observed General Sherman's emplacements on the hills outside Atlanta Building Capitalism

(Routledge Revivals) Linda Clarke, 2012-12-06 First published in 1992 this Routledge Revival sees the reissue of a truly original exploration of the nature of urbanization and capitalism Linda Clarke's vital work argues that Urbanization is a product of the social human labour engaged in building as well as a concentration of the labour force The quality of the labour process determines the development of production Changes to the built environment reflect changes in the production process and in particular the development of wage labour To support these arguments the author identifies a qualitatively new historical stage of capitalist building production involving a significant expansion of wage labour and hence capital and the transition from artisan to industrial production Linda Clarke draws from a wide range of original material relating to the development of London from the mid eighteenth to the early nineteenth century to provide a complete description of the development process materials extraction roadbuilding housebuilding paving cleansing etc profiles of builders and contractors involved and a picture of the new working class communities as in Somers Town their living conditions population working environment and politics
