America's History 5th + Pocket Guide to Writing in History 4th + History Matters David Brody, Lynn Dumenil, Susan Ware, Mary Lynn Rampolla, 2004-10-26

Past Imperfect Peter Charles Hoffer, 2007-07-03 Woodrow Wilson a practicing academic historian before he took to politics defined the importance of history A nation which does not know what it was yesterday does not know what it is today He like many men of his generation wanted to impose a version of America s founding identity it was a land of the free and a home of the brave But not the braves Or the slaves Or the disenfranchised women So the history of Wilson s generation omitted a significant proportion of the population in favor of a perspective that was predominantly white male and Protestant That flaw would become a fissure and eventually a schism A new history arose which written in part by radicals and liberals had little use for the noble and the heroic and that rankled many who wanted a celebratory rather than a critical history To this combustible mixture of elements was added the flame of public debate History in the 1990s was a minefield of competing passions political views and prejudices It was dangerous ground and at the end of the decade four of the nation s most respected and popular historians were almost destroyed by it Michael Bellesiles Doris Kearns Goodwin Stephen Ambrose and Joseph Ellis This is their story set against the wider narrative of the writing of America s history It may be as Flaubert put it that Our ignorance of history makes us libel our own times To which he could have added falsify plagiarize and politicize because that s the other story of America s history Writing to Make an Impact Sandra Murphy, Mary Ann Smith, 2020 Through ideas and practices straight from the classrooms of outstanding teachers this lively resource illustrates writing that makes an impact on a reader a writer or a cause writing that everyone wants to read The book is rich with student work that shows how writing can make things happen in the world The authors provide ready to use lessons that include a full range of writing including poetry narrative petitions proposals emails self reflections long term projects and critical analyses Young people yearn to have an impact on the world but often lack the tools to make change This book demonstrates how shifting the focus and purposes for writing can turn students frustration with the status quo into action There s no time to waste The need for change both in school and in society is urgent Carol Jago past president National Council of Teachers of English and associate director California Reading and Literature Project at UCLA In true National Writing Project style Sandy Murphy and Mary Ann Smith take us inside the classrooms of remarkable teachers to see how they create contexts for young writers to pursue writing they care about for purposes that matter Readers will find lots to take back to their own settings to engage this remarkable generation of young people in our classrooms Elyse Eidman Aadahl Executive Director National Writing Project
