The MakeOver Reimagining and Recreating Myself Mattese Lecque, 2024-05-13 This memoir was written to explain the obstacles and challenges I have personally encountered in my life and my career choices What I want to make plain to the reader is that when you experience bumps and obstacles in life you can overcome and still succeed Also I want to emphasize the process of grief and how to not succumb to depression and to fuel your life with things that may leave a legacy on your behalf and the deceased one It doesn't matter if you were born with nothing and who your parents are nor the mistakes you made you can overcome

Recreating Sexual Politics (Routledge Revivals) Victor Seidler, 2009-12-15 This thought provoking book first published in 1991 examines sexual politics in a world which is being radically changed by the challenges of feminism Seidler explores how men have responded to feminism and the contradictory feelings men have towards dominant forms of masculinity Seidler's stimulating and original analysis of social and political theory connects personally to everyday issues in people's lives It reflects the growing importance of sexual and personal politics within contemporary politics and culture and demonstrates clearly the challenge that feminism brings to our inherited forms of morality politics and sexuality

Transgressing Boundaries. Elizabeth F. Oldfield, 2013 Fictions written between 1939 and 2005 by indigenous and white post colonial women writers emerging from an African European cultural experience form the focus of this study Their voyages into the European diasporic space in Africa are important for conveying how African women's literature is situated in relation to colonialism Notwithstanding the centrality of African literature in the new postcolonial literatures in English the accomplishments of the indigenous writer Grace Ogot have been eclipsed by the critical attention given to her male counterparts while Elspeth Huxley Barbara Kimenye and Marjorie Oludhe Macgoye who are of Western cultural provenance but adopt an African perspective are not accommodated by the genre of expatriate literature The present study of both indigenous and white post colonial women's narratives that are common to both categories fills this gap Focused on the representation of gender identity culture and the Other the texts selected are set in Kenya and Uganda and a main concern is with the extent to which they are influenced by setting and intercultural influences The African woman's creation of textuality is at once the expression of female individualities and a transgression of boundaries The particular category of fiction for children as written by Kimenye and Macgoye reveals the configuration of a voice and identity for the female Other and writer which enables a subversive renegotiation of identity in the face of patriarchal traditions
