Re Thinking Freire Globalization And The Environmental Crisis:

Re-Thinking Freire Chet A. Bowers,Fr,d,rique Apffel-Marglin,2004-12-13 This landmark collection of essays by Third World activists highlights two major world changes which they argue have been neglected by Freire and his many followers the Third World grass roots cultural resistance to economic globalization and the ecological crisis One source of the activist authors criticisms of Freire s pedagogy is rooted in their attempts to combine consciousness raising with literacy programs in such diverse cultural settings as Bolivia Peru India Southern Mexico and Cambodia where they discovered that Freire s pedagogy is based on western assumptions that undermine indigenous knowledge systems Equally important these authors make the case in various ways that a major limitation with Freire s ideas and which is reproduced in the writings of his followers is that he did not recognize the cultural implications of the world s ecological crisis Several essays in the collection focus directly on how the cultural assumptions Freire took for granted were also the assumptions that gave conceptual and moral legitimacy to the Industrial Revolution and continue to be the basis of the thinking behind economic globalization The essays also explain why cultural diversity is essential to the preservation of biological diversity and how intergenerational knowledge and patterns of mutual aid within different cultures provide alternatives to a consumer dependent lifestyle In his Afterword C A Bowers addresses the need to adopt a more ecological way of thinking one that recognizes the many ways the individual is nested in the interdependent networks of culture and how diverse cultures are nested in natural systems It also stresses that one of the tasks of educators is to help students recognize the patterns and relationships of everyday life and to assess them in terms of their contribution to less consumer dependent relationships and activities As the essays in this volume affirm this involves facilitating students awareness of differences between cultures the impact of consumerism on ecosystems and the connections between hyper consumerism and environmental racism and the colonizing relationship of the South by the North Re Thinking Freire Globalization and the Environmental Crisis is a major contribution to this critical endeavor

A Marxist Education Wayne Au,2018-06-05 Dialectics of Education is a rich collection of essays analyzing both the role of education in shaping ideology in the United States and the political implications of struggles for educational justice This book seeks to recover and reframe the dialectical materialist tradition in critical education studies and carries this tradition forward into theory and practice relevant for today Building on the tradition of the groundbreaking book Schooling in Capitalist America that was first published in 1976 author Wayne Au presents a Marxist perspective on educational policies and pedagogy and the highlights the potential for struggle in both the political arena and the classroom This book is an essential tool in the growing resistance against the privatization of education and for the struggle for educational rights for all students regardless of ethnicity or social status

Wals, 2013-05-02 The environment and contested notions of sustainability are increasingly topics of public interest political debate and legislation across the world Environmental education journals now publish research from a wide variety of methodological traditions that show linkages between the environment health development and education The growth in scholarship makes this an opportune time to review and synthesize the knowledge base of the environmental education EE field The purpose of this 51 chapter handbook is not only to illuminate the most important concepts findings and theories that have been developed by EE research but also to critically examine the historical progression of the field its current debates and controversies what is still missing from the EE research agenda and where that agenda might be headed Published for the American Educational Research Association AERA In the Grip of the Past C. A. Bowers, 2013-07-01 With natural systems being exploited at an unsustainable rate with technologies displacing the need for workers and now even professors with print based technologies undermining the intergenerational achievements in the areas of civil liberties and the cultural commons it is now time for educational reformers to question the idea that students must be educated to become change agents The industrial culture now driven by digital technologies is transforming cultures on a global scale And they are being transformed in ways that serve the interests of environmentally destructive and profit oriented corporations The essays in this collection highlight reforms that teachers can introduce in classrooms reforms that will enable students to become aware of the traditions within their own cultures that must be renewed in ways that ensure the prospects of future generations. Students must also be challenged to consider the traditions that need to be changed. The tensions between what needs to be conserved and what needs to be changed are the critical issues that will not be raised by the experts working to create a seamless world of digital communication and thought. For reasons explained in the book's essays, this is the mindset that is habituated to constant change, a mindset with no sense of what is being lost that are sources of community self-sufficiency and empowerment.

The Revolutionary Imaginations of Greater Mexico Alan Eladio Gómez, 2016-09-06. Bringing to life the stories of political teatristas, feminists, gunrunners, labor organizers, poets, journalists, ex-prisoners and other revolutionaries. The Revolutionary Imaginations of Greater Mexico examines the inspiration Chicanas/os found in social movements in Mexico and Latin America from 1971 to 1979. Drawing on fifteen years of interviews and archival research including examinations of declassified government documents from Mexico, this study uncovers encounters between activists and artists across borders while sharing a socialist-oriented anticapitalist vision. In discussions ranging from the Nuevo Teatro Popular movement across Latin America to the Revolutionary Proletariat Party of America in Mexico and the Peronista Youth organizers in Argentina, Alan Eladio Gómez brings to light the transnational nature of leftist organizing by people of Mexican descent in the United States, tracing an array of festivals, assemblies, labor strikes, clandestine organizations and public protests linked to an international movement of solidarity against imperialism. Taking its title from the Greater Mexico designation used by Américo Paredes to describe the present and historical movement of Mexicans, Mexican Americans and Chicanas/os back and forth across the US-Mexico border, this book analyzes the radical creativity and global justice that animated Greater Mexico leftists during a pivotal decade. While not all the participants were of one mind politically or personally, they nonetheless shared an international solidarity that was enacted in local arenas, giving voice to a political and cultural imaginary that circulated throughout a broad geographic terrain while forging multifaceted identities. The epilogue considers the politics of going beyond solidarity.

Forms of Education Emile Bojesen, 2019-11-28. Forms of Education analyses the basic tenets of the humanist legacy in terms of its educational ethos, examining its contradictions and its limits as well as the extent of its capture of educational thought. It develops a broader conception of educational experience which challenges and exceeds those limits. This book deflates the compulsion to educate. It delegitimises the imposition of any particular practice in education. It defines education openly and non-restrictively as the deformation of non-stable subjects, arguing that education does not require specific formations nor the formation of specific forms; only that form does not cease being formed in the experience of the non-stable subject. Exploding and pluralising what amounts to education, this book rethinks what might still be called educational experience against and outside the ethos of the humanist legacy that confines its meaning. This book will be of interest to scholars and postgraduate students in the fields of philosophy of education, educational theory, history of education and sociology of education.

Thinking, Childhood, and Time Walter Omar Kohan,Barbara Weber,2020-10-06 Thinking Childhood and Time Contemporary Perspectives on the Politics of Education is an interdisciplinary exploration of the notion of childhood and its place in a philosophical education Contributors consider children s experiences of time space embodiment and thinking By acknowledging Hannah Arendt s notion that every child brings a new beginning into the world they address the question of how educators can be more responsive to the Otherness that childhood offers while assuming that most educational models follow either a chronological model of child development or view children as human beings that are lacking The contributors explore childhood as a philosophical concept in children adults and even beyond human beings Childhood as a forgotten dimension of the world Contributors also argue that a pedagogy that does not aim for an exodus of childhood but rather responds to the arrival of a new human being responsibly dialogically fosters a deeper appreciation of the newness that children bring in order to sensitize us for our own Childhood as adults as well and allow us to welcome other forms of childhood in the world As a whole this book argues that the experience of natality such as the beginning of life is not chronologically determined but rather can occur more than once in a human life and beyond Scholars of philosophy education psychology and childhood studies will find this book particularly useful Tep Vol 21-N1 Teacher Education and Practice,2008-12-16 Teacher Education and Practice a peer refereed journal is dedicated to the encouragement and the dissemination of research and scholarship related to professional education The journal is concerned in the broadest sense with teacher preparation practice and policy issues related to the teaching profession as well as being concerned with learning in the school setting The journal also serves as a forum for the exchange of diverse ideas and points of view within these purposes As a forum the journal offers a public space in which to critically examine current discourse and practice as well as engage in generative dialogue Alternative forms of inquiry and representation are invited and authors from a variety first examination of women s foremost contributions to Jerzy Grotowski s cross cultural investigation of performance this book complements and broadens existing literature by offering a more diverse and inclusive re assessment of Grotowski s legacy thereby probing its significance for contemporary performance practice and research Although the particularly strenuous physical training emblematic of Grotowski s approach is not gender specific it has historically been associated with a masculine conception of the performer incarnated by Ryszard Cieslak in The Constant Prince thus overlooking the work of

Rena Mirecka Maja Komorowska and Elizabeth Albahaca to name only the leading women performers identified with the period of theatre productions This book therefore redresses this imbalance by focusing on key women from different cultures and generations who share a direct connection to Grotowski's legacy while clearly asserting their artistic independence These women actively participated in all phases of the Polish director's practical research and continue to play a vital role in today's transnational community of artists whose work reflects Grotowski's enduring influence Grounding her inquiry in her embodied research and on going collaboration with these artists Magnat explores the interrelation of creativity embodiment agency and spirituality within their performing and teaching Building on current debates in performance studies experimental ethnography Indigenous research global gender studies and ecocriticism the author maps out interconnections between these women's distinct artistic practices across the boundaries that once delineated Grotowski's theatrical and post theatrical experiments The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made

Conscientization Christian C. Anyanwu, 2012-01-10 The withdrawal of imperial colonizers from Africa in the second half of the 20th century precipitated the need for newly independent African nations to establish political economic and social structures that would ensure the development of cohesive stable and functional nations While Africans yearned for independence once granted the challenges of nation building became apparent immediately Nigeria like many African nations has stumbled through the early postcolonial period with no clear post colonial direction dashing the hopes of its people and undermining confidence in its future This book makes the case that the protracted decades of underdevelopment in Africa and especially Nigeria is traceable to a crisis of leadership that has crystallized in the institutionalization of organized corruption as part of its professional ethos It argues that as a direct consequence of such practices over several decades the population has been dehumanized The situation of Africa in general and Nigeria in particular has been deemed so inimical and colossal that Justice Oputas panel advised a program of moral action from kindergarten right through to the entire polity Report of the Human Rights Violations Investigation Commission 2002 This is an indictment on the Nigerian population and rightly so because for more than 40 years after independence the country has been through a spiraling crisis in leadership and corruption such that massive looting of the national treasure is unprecedented in the history of developing countries So many attempts have been made in search of national ideology that might spur development This writer is proposing in this vein the implementation of a Conscientization philosophy similar to Paulo Freires as a viable ideology that would arrest and reverse the deteriorating situation Freires thought was influenced largely by socio Economic and political situations in Brazil These same ugly and dehumanizing conditions are now generally characteristic of Nigeria Hence Freires education as practice of freedom is very relevant to the Nigerian situation This dissertation elaborates how to develop and implement the Conscientization philosophy and shows why it would be extraordinarily appropriate in Nigeria in such a way as to contribute to the good society Planetary Praxis & Pedagogy Shannon A.
