Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature, 1922 Readers' Advisory Service in North American Public Libraries, 1870-2005 Juris Dilevko, Candice F.C. Magowan, 2007-02-13 Beginning in the early 1980s readers advisory services were a widely discussed topic in North American public libraries By 2005 almost every public library in the United States and Canada offered some form of readers advisory service The services offered have changed significantly in ways perhaps disadvantageous to adult North American library patrons This book provides a critical history of readers advisory philosophy and offers a new perspective on the evolution of the service The book analyzes the debate that shaped readers advisory and discusses how the service has assumed its present form The study follows readers advisory through its three prominent stages of development beginning with the period 1870 to 1916 when the service was still a subject of much crucial debate about its meaning and purpose During the second phase 1917 to 1962 readers advisory systematically committed itself to meaningful adult education through serious and purposeful reading The book argues however that during the most recent phase of readers advisory from 1963 until the present contemporary public libraries have turned their backs on the rich heritage of readers advisory services by valorizing the reading of entertainment oriented and commodified genre titles and bestsellers Historical analysis case studies and statistical charts augment the book's central argument Science Fiction and Fantasy Literature, Vol 1 R. Hemingway, Fitzgerald and the Muse of Romantic Music Nicole J. Camastra,2023-12-21 Both Ernest Hemingway and F Scott Fitzgerald grew up in the Midwest and were strongly influenced by Romantic music anchored by the aesthetic tastes of the German immigrants who settled across that region Hemingway s ear for form and Fitzgerald s penchant for lyricism stem from early and frequent exposure to such masters as Johannes Brahms and Franz Schubert Nostalgia is typically associated with romanticism and the acoustic longing found in Hemingway and Fitzgerald s fiction resonates with it characterized in the narrative voices in Hemingway s Winner Take Nothing Fitzgerald s Tender Is the Night and other of their fiction from the early thirties Understanding that each writer has his own kind of musical biography charts new ways to read material we already think we know Reading their work within a musico historical context means acknowledging it as an extension of the 19th century it means reading them as Romantic Modernists This work reads each author s prose musically considering how Romantic music inspired their craft and distinguished their work through the pivotal juncture of the early to mid 1930s when each man faced an artistic crisis of conscience Initial chapters provide background information in music history Following chapters focus on how the life of each author was shaped by music and how they worked with specific influences that grew out of steady interactions with it evidence of which is found in archival documents and collections

MacFarlane, 2013-07-01 Just as J M Coetzee's post 2003 books present essays and narrative alongside one another this book engages with its ideas through both critical and creative writing Reading Coetzee interleaves critical essays on Coetzee's works with an autobiographical narrative detailing MacFarlane's more personal response to her reading and writing The presentation of elements of the creative with the critical and the critical within the creative aims to challenge the traditional boundary between the two This kind of methodology derives from the idea and practice of embodiment that an idea or philosophy does not float free but is tied to the idiosyncrasies divergences and subjective travel of its speaker or writer Coetzee's Elizabeth Costello Slow Man and Diary of a Bad Year explicitly address themes which abide more surreptitiously throughout his oeuvre the divisions and paradoxes which occur the moment pen gains page the value of literature and the ethics of embodiment In revealing the dialogue between writer self and reader self and between author and character these recent novels invite a rereading of Coetzee's previous literature Reading Coetzee explores Coetzee's preoccupation with the act of writing using his recent books as a lens through which to view his eight previous novels as well as his memoirs and essays
