

Reading Rhetoric

- Rhetoric is all around us. It is usually used for the purposes of the common good, but can often be used to manipulate and control the beliefs of people.
- That is why it is so important for us to be able to critically analyze all forms of rhetoric in order to understand it's true intentions behind it.
- You don't want to get played by someone who "out-talks" you

Reading And Rhetoric:

Reading and Rhetoric (Classic Reprint) Robert B. Kaplan, 2015-09-27 Excerpt from Reading and Rhetoric There are already a great many readers on the market and it hardly seems necessary to add to the abundance with one more effort This reader is designed for a particular purpose which it seems to me is not satisfied by any other work presently available Great numbers of students come to the United States each year to study everything from anthropology to zoology and many of these students are handicapped in their pursuit of higher education by their deficiencies in English More and more universities and colleges are beginning to recognize the need for more intensified English training and are attempting to meet it with special courses in English as a Second Language Of course textbooks have been prepared for such purposes But it seems to me that many of the textbooks in this field suffer from one of two distinct disadvantages either they are composed of materials which because of their simplicity and condescension insult the often highly developed intelligence and mature sophistication of the international student or they are composed of materials which mistakenly strive to give the international student a very contemporary view of American life and which as a result present that student with selections containing cultural assumptions far beyond his grasp This textbook attempts to do two things First it tries to avoid the sins of which I have accused other texts Second it tries to present its materials according to a rhetorical pattern so that it may conveniently be synchronized with a writing and grammar course About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Staircase to Writing and Reading Alan Casty, Donald J. Tighe, 1969

Inventions of Reading Clayton Koelb, 2019-06-30 Where do writers of fiction get their ideas Clayton Koelb here takes issue with those who regard inspiration or imitation as primary forces influencing literary invention He finds that another mechanism which he calls rhetorical construction underlies much fiction and some nonfiction as well Rhetorical construction Koelb says is a way of producing writing out of reading The rhetorical writer begins by discovering an interpretive crux in a familiar text a passage from the Bible for example or a commonplace expression and then proceeds to imagine a fictional situation in which all the meanings of the passage contradictory though they may seem may be realized According to Koelb inventions of reading do not stop with the discovery of the eternal and inevitable deconstructibility of language they somehow generate an urge to put language back together through the invention of a fictional world Among the texts he discusses are writings by Boccaccio Rabelais Goethe Schiller Kleist Hawthorne Hans Christian Andersen Nietzsche Kafka Calvino and Flannery O Connor reaction while reading to an articulation of what is effective and what is not while explicitly answering the most important question of Why This text gets at this central concern in two fundamental ways First the text teaches composition as a cumulative process coaching you how to question challenge and expand on not just the readings you hold in your hands but also how to interrogate the internal processes of writing and thinking The book s blend of composition methods detail the cross point of product and process to turn reading and writing from a matter of coming up with answers to questions to learning what type of questions need to be asked in the first place The right questions the text argues are fundamentally rhetorical in nature Second the content of the practice based chapters is framed into a larger mesh of intellectual history to show how the writing and thinking you are doing today is continuous with a long history of writing instruction that goes back to the ancient world This book provides equal representation from classical and contemporary theory with the recognition that theory cannot be fully grasped without practice and practice cannot be fully understood without its theoretical antecedent After all you can t write outside the box until you know where the box is and what it looks like
