Reason Truth And History:

Reason, Truth and History Hilary Putnam, 1981-12-31 Hilary Putnam deals in this book with some of the most fundamental persistent problems in philosophy the nature of truth knowledge and rationality His aim is to break down the fixed categories of thought which have always appeared to define and constrain the permissible solutions to these problems

Reason, Truth and History Hilary Putnam, Reason, Truth and History Hilary Putnam, 1998 Reason, Truth and History Hilary Putnam, 1981-12-31 This is a timely book with penetrating discussion of issues very much in the forefront of the contemporary philosophy Despite the prominence of negative arguments it contains much to contribute positively to our understanding of what is needed for a conception of rationality and objectivity that covers ethics and value theory generally as well as physics Reason, Truth, and Theology in Pragmatist Perspective Paul D. Murray, 2004 In this work Paul Murray explores which style of rationality is most appropriate to Christian theology in the contemporary pluralist postfoundationalist postmodern context At its heart is a fresh consideration of the American pragmatist tradition focussing on the writings of Richard Rorty and Nicholas Rescher Where Rorty correctly diagnoses the failures of foundationalist objectivism Rescher's pragmatic idealism is presented as healing the ills in Rorty's own neo pragmatism The significant resonance between Rescher's view of rationality and Christian understanding of the trinity is explored In turn Donald MacKinnon's influential writings are presented as exemplifying just such an approach to theology Murray both articulates an enriched form of Christian postliberalism committed to receiving and learning from other traditions of thought and practice and probes the claim that the dynamics of human rationality can be expected to reflect the Trinitarian dynamics of God's being Paul Murray presents us here with an exhaustive and insightful study of recent pragmatic theory in which he sets up rhythms of healing and completion as well as interrogation particularly remarkable is his exploration of Christianity as the deep and in some sense final interlocutor of pragmatic tradition I strongly recommend this book Olivier Davis Professor of Christian Doctrine King's College London This is a mature wide ranging work that by uniting the intellectual and the practical carries both rational and ethical conviction It does equal justice to the classic teachings of Christianity and to the challenges to rethink them in dialogue with modern and postmodern approaches The result is a conception of Christianity both generously orthodox and deeply engaged with contemporary life and thought It is especially good to see the profound contribution of Donald MacKinnon understood and developed with such perception and relevance David F Ford Regius Professor of Divinity University of Cambridge Paul Murray is currently Lecturer in Systematic Theology within the Department of Theology at the University of Durham England He has previously held posts at St Cuthbert's Seminary Ushaw College Durham and Newman College of Higher Education Birmingham Essays of his exploring issues in philosophical theology science and theology and contemporary Roman Catholic theology have appeared in leading journals and edited collections This is his first monograph Putnam and Determinate Reference Jan-Erik Jones, 1997 Truth and

Subjectivity, Faith and History Varughese John, 2012-09-26 What is truth Philosophical explorations have merely presupposed truth rather than define it The inscrutable nature of truth is a recognition of human finitude which is both Socratic the recognition that one does not know and non Socratic the recognition that truth has to be given from without This opens the way to locating truth outside the individual which can be appropriated only when the condition to recognize it is given For Kierkegaard the incarnation of Christ is the point when both revelation and the condition to recognize it are given However incarnation being historical raises the question of objectivity and evidence This book explores what truth implies for the individual and examines the value of historical research for Christian faith Reality, Representation, and Projection

John Haldane, Crispin Wright, 1993 Reality Representation and Projection is an important collection of new essays on a range of topics relating to realism and its rivals in metaphysics logic metaethics and epistemology The contributors are some of the leading authors in these fields including the late Ian McFetridge Mark Johnston John Skorupski Christopher Peacocke Michael Williams Edward Craig Michael Smith John Campbell Peter Railton David Wiggins Bob Hale Simon Blackburn John Haldane and Crispin Wright Several of the essays constitute definitive statements of their views In some cases authors write in response to the essays of other contributors while in other cases they proceed independently Although not primarily historical this collection includes discussions of philosophers from the Middle Ages to the present day from Aquinas to Wittgenstein No one seriously interested in questions about realism whether as a general philosophical outlook or as a particular position within specific debates can afford to be without this collection Realism & Antirealism William P. Alston, 2002 Throughout the past century a debate has raged over the thesis of realism and its alternatives In this volume of original essays a group of philosophers explores the ongoing controversy The Philosophy of History: A Re-examination

William Sweet, 2019-09-25 The philosophy of history is an area of interest not only to philosophers but to historians and to social scientists It has been of central importance in continental European philosophy since the late 18th century and for the past half century has had a significant place in Anglo American philosophy Interest in the philosophy of history continues to grow This volume offers both an introduction to contemporary discussion in the philosophy of history and a reassessment of some of the major movements in the philosophy of history since the beginning of the 20th century Including the work of leading international scholars in the field the book presents a wide range of perspectives from different schools in philosophy and in political and social theory history and the history of ideas Traditional questions raised in the philosophy of history are explored with fresh insight the nature of history historical understanding historical objectivity the nature of the past the psychological factors in historical explanation the human significance of history alongside issues which are less frequently examined including the role of science and mathematics in history history as a social science and history as an art form As history itself remains disputed ground it is important to consider what clues history can provide for our response to issues of contemporary concern such as political realignments and economic globalisation this volume offers important insights from leading scholars in the philosophy of history
