Healthy Voices, Unhealthy Silence Colleen M. Grogan, 2007-09-11 Public silence in policymaking can be deafening When advocates for a disadvantaged group decline to speak up not only are their concerns not recorded or acted upon but also the collective strength of the unspoken argument is lessened a situation that undermines the workings of deliberative democracy by reflecting only the concerns of more powerful interests But why do so many advocates remain silent on key issues they care about and how does that silence contribute to narrowly defined policies What can individuals and organizations do to amplify their privately expressed concerns for policy change In Healthy Voices Unhealthy Silence Colleen M Grogan and Michael K Gusmano address these questions through the lens of state level health care advocacy for the poor They examine how representatives for the poor participate in an advisory board process by tying together existing studies extensive interviews with key players and an in depth first hand look at the Connecticut Medicaid advisory board s deliberations during the managed care debate Drawing on the concepts of deliberative democracy agenda setting and nonprofit advocacy Grogan and Gusmano reveal the reasons behind advocates often unexpected silence on major issues assess how capable nonprofits are at affecting policy debates and provide prescriptive advice for creating a participatory process that adequately addresses the health care concerns of the poor and dispossessed Though exploring specifically state level health care advocacy for the poor the lessons Grogan and Gusmano offer here are transferable across issue areas and levels of government Public policy scholars advocacy organizations government workers and students of government administration will be well served by this significant study American Book Publishing Record Cumulative 1993 R R Bowker Publishing, 1994-03 Cited in BCL3 Sheehy and Walford Compiled from the 12 monthly issues of the ABPR this edition of the annual cumulation lists by Dewey sequence some 41 700 titles for books published or distributed in the US Entry information is derived from MARC II tapes and books submitted to R R Bowker an Medicaid Financing Crisis Diane Rowland, Judith M.
