Perversity And Ethics:

Perversity and Ethics William Egginton, 2022 William Egginton argues that the notion of the ethical cannot be understood outside of its relation to perversity that is the impulse to do what one knows and feels is wrong The allure of the perverse moreover should not be understood as merely the necessary obverse of ethically motivated behavior rather from the perspective of a psychoanalytic understanding of the ethical the two drives are structurally identical This discovery leads the author to engagements with deconstructive thought and with contemporary gender theory In the first he shows that the insistent resurgence of the ethical fault line inevitably drives even the most stalwart atheism to a theological moment In the second he argues that while female philosophy has successfully repudiated the subject centered exceptionalism of male philosophy it is precisely to the extent that it is understood to offer a kind of release from the perversity of ethics that it must fail as ethical utterances

Perversity and Ethics William Egginton, 2006 Perversity and Ethics argues that a psychoanalytic reading of the phenomenon of perversity is crucial to understanding contemporary philosophical ethics

Ethics of Coercion and Authority Timo Airaksinen, 2010-11-23 The work would be of great value to philosophers engaged in the conceptual analysis of coercion to political scientists studying the state or other coercive institutions and to advanced readers interested in the field of peace research

Deconstructions Nicholas Royle, 2017-03-10 Deconstructions A User's Guide is a new and unusual kind of book At once a reference work and a series of inventive essays opening up new directions for deconstruction it is intended as an authoritative and indispensable guide With a helpful introduction and specially commissioned essays by leading figures in the field Deconstructions offers lucid and compelling accounts of deconstruction in relation to a wide range of topics and discourses Subjects range from the obvious feminism technology postcolonialism to the less so drugs film weaving Backed up by an unusually detailed index this User's Guide demonstrates the innumerable and altering contexts in which deconstructive thinking and practice are at work both within and beyond the academy both within and beyond what is called the West

Socialism and the Ethics of Jesus Henry Clay Vedder, 1912 Deconstruction Jonathan D. Culler, 2003 It could be argued that deconstruction has to a considerable extent been formed by critical accounts of it This collection reprints a cross section of these important works charting the ways in which deconstruction is conceptualized and demonstrating the impact it has had on a wide range of traditions The essential pieces in this set include writings by Jacques Derrida Jonathan Culler Paul de Man Barbara Johnson and a wide range of key thinkers in areas as diverse as psychoanalysis law gender studies and architecture The major themes covered include Vol 1 Part I What is Deconstruction Part II Philosophy Vol 2 Part III Literary Criticism Part IV Feminism and Queer Theory Vol 3 Part V Psychoanalysis Part VI Religion Theology Part VII Architecture Vol 4 Part VIII Politics Part IX Ethics Christian Ethics Reginald Ernest Oscar White, 1994

Lacan's Ethics and Nietzsche's Critique of Platonism Tim Themi, 2014-04-10 Bringing together Jacques Lacan and Friedrich Nietzsche Tim Themi focuses on their conceptions of ethics and on their accounts of the history of ethical thinking in the Western tradition Nietzsche blames Plato for setting in motion a degenerative process that turned ethics away from nature the body and its senses and thus eventually against our capacities for reason science and a creative flourishing life Dismissing Plato's Supreme Good as a mirage Lacan is very much in sympathy with Nietzsche's reading Following this premise Themis shows how Lacan's ethics might build on Nietzsche's work thus contributing to our understanding of Nietzsche and also how Nietzsche's critique can strengthen our understanding of Lacan

Interrupting Derrida Geoffrey Bennington, 2014-05-01 One of the most significant contemporary thinkers in continental philosophy Jacques Derrida's work continues to attract heated commentary among philosophers literary critics social and cultural theorists architects and artists This major new work by world renowned Derrida scholar and translator Geoffrey Bennington presents incisive new readings of both Derrida and interpretations of his work Part one sets out Derrida's work as a whole and examines its relevance to and interruption of the traditional domains of ethics politics and literature The second part of the book presents compelling insights into some important motifs in Derrida's work such as death friendship psychoanalysis time and endings The final section introduces trenchant appraisals of other influential accounts of Derrida's work This influential and original contribution to the literature on Derrida is marked by a commitment to clarity and accuracy but also by a refusal to simplify Derrida's often difficult thought

Business and Economic Ethics Arthur Rich, 2006 This book is a fundamental and unique masterpiece which reflects the discussions on business and economic ethics over decades in German speaking countries and does so by systematically developing an Ethics of Economic Systems from a Christian theological perspective with a firm foundation in the western philosophical and economic literature Neither in German speaking nor English speaking regions has this complex theme been dealt with in such a comprehensive and thorough manner Ethics is a matter of doing justice to the human without twisting the facts and ignoring the constraints The study introduces seven criteria of human justice that fundamentally relate to the Christian revelation and at the same time establish a humanistic and universal approach Subsequently it focuses on the concrete economic systems and their problems It describes and analyses various models of market and centrally planned economies and evaluates them in the light of middle level principles which are informed by both ethical criteria and economic knowledge Thus the most legitimate economic system is the one which offers the most potential for reforms and self critique The merits of this approach are considerable if the system of the market economy has the advantage of being thoroughly reformable it also requires regulations which are equitable and responsible In this view one better understands the inescapable failure of Marxism but also the ethical ramifications of savage deregulations Arthur Rich 1910 1992 was Professor of Systematic Theology and Director of the Institute of Social Ethics at the University of Zurich Switzerland He worked in the field of business and economic ethics for nearly 40 years Georges Enderle is Arthur and Mary O Neil Professor of International Business Ethics at the Mendoza College of Business University of Notre Dame Indiana USA and President of the International Society of

Business Economics and Ethics 2001 2004 which organizes the ISBEE World Congress of Business and Economic Ethics every four years
