Potential of Woman, 1963 Developing Woman's Potential Edwin C. Lewis, 1968 Potential of Woman Voice of America (Radio program), 1964 Potential of Woman Series Voice of America (Organization), 1964 Women in the Metropolis Katharina von Ankum, 2023-09-01 Bringing together the work of scholars in many disciplines Women in the Metropolis provides a comprehensive introduction to women's experience of modernism and urbanization in Weimar Germany. It shows women as active participants in artistic, social, and political movements and documents the wide range of their responses to the multifaceted urban culture of Berlin in the 1920s and 1930s. Examining a variety of media ranging from scientific writings to literature and the visual arts, the authors trace gendered discourses as they developed to make sense of and regulate emerging new images of femininity. Besides treating classic films such as Metropolis and Berlin Symphony of a Great City, the articles discuss other forms of mass culture, including the fashion industry and the revue performances of Josephine Baker. Their emphasis on women's critical involvement in the construction of their own modernity illustrates the significance of the Weimar cultural experience and its relevance to contemporary gender, German film, and cultural studies. Female and Male in West Africa Christine Oppong, 2023-03-31 In the 1970s and early 1980s, there was a lack of contemporary, readily available studies of the informal relationships between the sexes, their day-to-day activities and expectations, and how these were altering, especially in contexts in which there were radical demographic, political, and economic changes taking place. Originally published in 1983, this volume documents the complexities and subtleties of the modes of interaction between women and men in one region of Africa. It seeks to provide insights and understanding of changing social contexts and relationships based upon ethnographic field work carried out in the previous decade. There are five sections. The first is comparative, presenting and analysing statistical data from the countries of the region, including demographic profiles of fertility, migration, mortality, as well as census and survey evidence on work patterns and education. It provides the broad framework within which the individual case studies are located. The theme of the first set of case studies is the traditional separation and interconnectedness apparent in the worlds of women and men in several culture areas in the spheres of arts and crafts music political roles language symbolism ritual domestic organization and resources and sexuality The second set focuses on the theme of domestic cooperation and conflict in production and consumption in particular the conflicting claims and expectations of men and women as spouses and kin The third set of essays is concerned with the relative resources and opportunities of females and males in schools and employment contexts in sexual encounters and in national community and domestic decision making processes The subjects of the final section include individualism autonomy and dependence of the members of one sex upon the other The increased individualism resulting from migration and the scattering of kin and the breakdown of cooperative work patterns between spouses and relatives is seen as leading to instances of both increased dependence on the one hand especially of women on men and increased opportunities for economic autonomy on the other The case studies span a wide range of socio economic conditions including studies of farmers traders fishermen and fishmongers factory and office workers the relatively rich and the relatively poor from many different ethnic groups and six countries The book was expected to be of interest to a wide range of readers in social science disciplines as well as to planners and administrators It should still prove to be particularly relevant to the needs of university students in the fields of women s studies African studies Black studies sex roles family relations sociology and anthropology

Women, Power, and Politics Lori Cox Han, Caroline Heldman, 2023-05-29 As women continue to gain more prominence as active participants in the American political and electoral process as voters candidates and officeholders it becomes even more important to understand how gender shapes political power and the distribution of resources within our society There are many areas of research in a variety of disciplines focusing on women gender and feminism and many of them intersect with a discussion of women in American politics Our goal in writing this book is to present these topics in an interesting lively and timely way through an analysis of contemporary political gender related issues We hope to have provided just enough of an historical context to get students interested in the evolution of women in American political life and enough theory and analysis to inspire them to seek more information and knowledge about gender justice today The study of women and U S politics as well as the role gender plays in the broader political context has emerged as a powerful voice within the discipline of Political Science in the last few decades As such we hope that readers find this text a useful addition to the ongoing dialogue while instructors find it to be a useful pedagogical tool for their courses on women gender and politics

Intersectionality and Women's Access to Justice in Africa J. Jarpa Dawuni, 2022-10-17 Intersectionality and Women s Access to Justice edited by J Jarpa Dawuni propounds layered intersectionality as a paradigm for examining how gendered factors affect women s access to justice whether as judges or litigants Through intersectional and decolonial frameworks the contributors analyze the lived experiences of women and their access to justice by situating the courtroom as both a spatial and a temporal arena for seeking justice as litigants and for seeking access to the bench as judges This book examines patterns of mutually reinforcing discriminatory practices that women share based on common gender identities and depending on which identities are at play at a given point in time in both traditional and statutory courts The book provides recommendations for various justice sector providers
