

The background of the cover is a photograph of a slot canyon. The walls of the canyon are composed of smooth, undulating rock surfaces with distinct horizontal sedimentary layering. The lighting is warm, creating a range of colors from deep reds and oranges to bright yellows and whites where the light hits the rock. The sky is a clear, vibrant blue, visible through the opening of the canyon. In the top left corner, there is a small red banner with white text that is partially cut off.
