NASA 50th Anniversary Proceedings: NASA's First 50 Years: Historical Perspectives Steven J. Dick, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, 2010-07-07 On 29 July 1958 President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed the National Aeronautics and Space Act creating the National Aeronautics and Space Administration NASA which became operational on 1 October of that year. Over the next 50 years NASA achieved a set of spectacular feats ranging from advancing the well-established field of aeronautics to pioneering the new fields of Earth and space science and human spaceflight. In the midst of the geopolitical context of the Cold War 12 Americans walked on the Moon arriving in peace for all mankind. Humans saw their home planet from a new perspective with unforgettable Apollo images of Earthrise and the Blue Marble as well as the pale blue dot from the edge of the solar system. A flotilla of spacecraft has studied Earth while other spacecraft have probed the depths of the solar system and the universe beyond. In the 1980s the evolution of aeronautics gave us the first winged human spacecraft the Space Shuttle and the International Space Station stands as a symbol of human cooperation in space as well as a possible way station to the stars. With the Apollo fire and two Space Shuttle accidents NASA has also seen the depths of tragedy. In this volume a wide array of scholars turn a critical eye toward NASA's first 50 years probing an institution widely seen as the premier agency for exploration in the world carrying on a long tradition of exploration by the United States and the human species in general. Fifty years after its founding NASA finds itself at a crossroads that historical perspectives can only help to illuminate

Europa Julio MacLennan, 2018-07-03 European history is deeply embedded in the global civilization that has emerged in the twenty-first century. More than two thirds of today's nations were once European colonies or protectorates. Europe's legacy is evident in the trajectory of the United States and has influenced aspiring hegemonic powers like China. For centuries Europe was the heart and soul of the West and European powers enjoyed unprecedented global hegemony not only by military and economic means but also through their influence on politics and culture. The rise and fall of the European era of world supremacy constitutes one of the most epic histories of all time. Europa reveals the origins of Europe's rapid expansion which was then expanded upon further by millions of Europeans migrants who spread their culture and values. MacLennan also reveals how statesmen, scientists, inventors, philosophers, writers and revolutionaries were responsible for transforming the continent into a civilization that inspired universal attraction

Transatlantic Bondage Lissette Acosta Corniel, 2024-06-01 This groundbreaking volume addresses the enslavement and experiences of Black Africans in Spain and the Spanish Caribbean particularly La Española or Hispaniola and Puerto Rico two of the earliest colonies. Spanning nearly four hundred years and rooted in extensive archival research Transatlantic Bondage sheds light on a number of relatively underexamined topics in these locales including the development and application of slavery laws, disobedience and its consequences, migration, gender family lifestyle and community building among the free Black population and white allies In bringing together new and recent work by leading scholars including two essays translated into English here for the first time the book is also a call for further study of slavery in the Spanish Caribbean and its impact on the region A Beautiful Ending John Jeffries
