

Corn plant absorbs carbon (C) during photosynthesis.

Turkey consumes carbon when it eats the corn. Carbon is absorbed into all its tissues, including its bones.

Turkey is butchered, and one of its leg bones is fashioned into a bone awl.

As soon as the turkey dies, the carbon it absorbed during its lifetime begins to decay at a known rate, releasing radioactive carbon-14 (C-14) from all its tissues, including the bone awl.

Archaeologist finds turkey bone awl during excavation.

Radiocarbon laboratory measures how much C-14 is left in the bone awl to determine when the turkey died.

not been revealed until now First an ancient author wrote this account in the original Hebrew language but the actual evolutionary sequence of the Earth that he so accurately revealed has been lost in translation by the many biblical versions that followed Second the discoveries of modern science now put us at a point in time when this correlation has now been found in translation This revelation then begs two questions How was this knowledge possible in ancient times and who wrote it
