Hour Luc Sindjoun,2010-08-15 The Coming African hour is not a slogan nor wishful thinking It is a conclusion that derives from an insightful analysis of the current situation pertaining on the continent Several African scholars coming from different regions and academic backgrounds are elaborating ideas and arguments in order to explain the constraints and to illustrate the opportunities The result of that scientific gathering is a book that synthesizes and renews the reflections on development What is at stake is not to be pessimistic or optimistic about Africa The epistemological challenge is to understand what is going on By focusing on converging and diverging African realities on the issues of state civil society gender and development strategies the authors of the book show under which conditions the African hour is coming At that level the commitment for political science meets the commitment for Africa The main success of this book is to overcome the preconceived ideas and self fulfilling prophecies about Africa Here the analysis avoids the trap of indulgence then hope is based on truth Consequently the coming African hour is not inescapable it is as analyzed a possibility that its achievement depends on institutional human political social and economic factors European External Action Veit

Bachmann,2017-02-24 European External Action provides a critical assessment of the practice of EU diplomacy in a key site of Africa European relations and the global development industry the Kenyan capital of Nairobi It analyses how the EU positions itself through its newly established diplomatic corps the European External Action Service EEAS and how it is perceived as a collective geopolitical actor by its external cooperation partners Going beyond existing studies on EU policy making in Brussels and African European relations more generally this book explores in a novel way the conduct of external relations and perceptions of the EU abroad Based on institutional ethnography within the EU Delegation in Nairobi and research affiliation with the University of Nairobi as well as interviews with leading individuals of Kenyan European interaction it analyses the practices processes and perceptions through which EU diplomacy is enacted and realised in a strategic node of global North South relations In light of the EU s claim as a key partner for developing countries and its ambition to be a major player in global politics European External Action thereby speaks not only to wider debates on the EU s role as a global and development actor but also provides new insights in the internal dynamics and the making of external agency in and through EU diplomacy
